Q. Can you give us some information about two boats we saw recently in Avalon Harbor? One was the yacht Argo, and the other was a strange, "flying saucer" type craft. N.J.S., Lakewood.

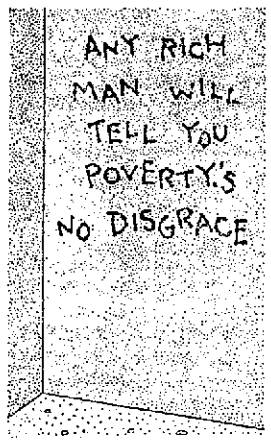

A. The Argo, a 191-foot yacht owned by the Ralph M. Parsons Co., Los Angeles, was built in 1950 in Norfolk, Va., and has had presidents and emperors stroll her decks. The late President Dwight Eisenhower traveled on the yacht before it was purchased by the present owners in 1958. Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie was a guest aboard the craft in 1967. Albert Moore, a spokesman for the Parsons Co., said the yacht is of Liberian registry and is largely used for public relations purposes. The saucer-type craft, rightly named Top Secret, was built in Costa Mesa by C.M. Christensen, who has been secretive about the craft's specifications, speed and value. The boat measures 40 feet in diameter, and has about 900 square feet of usable cabin and storage space below. It is a hydrofoil and often is docked in Avalon.

School Expansion

Q. I have heard that land is going to be acquired so Banning High School can be enlarged. When will construction begin? L.J., Wilmington.

A. Paul Bennett, school principal for Banning, said there had been plans to construct a basically new high school if the voters had passed a school-bond issue last spring. "We were hoping to get $8½ million to purchase about 11 acres of land in back of the school and to construct new classrooms, a new gymnasium and a cafeteria. Unfortunately, the bond issue failed," he said. He added that the Board of Education has now allocated about $500,000 to purchase and demolish a row of houses on Broad Street between Q and Sandison Streets in order to allow for school expansion. "There are no definite plans for construction," he said.

Q. I have paid an attorney more than $1,000 to help me in a child custody suit. Yet, he has failed to notify me of hearing dates and has failed to represent me in court on three occasions. Is there anything I can do? P.M., Perris.

Q. Last year, I engaged an attorney to help me in a divorce action and paid him $258. My husband died soon after, so the case never came up in court. Now the attorney is billing me for an additional $42 for a divorce which I never got. B.N., Long Beach.

A. If you feel a lawyer has violated the rules of professional conduct or the State Bar Act, contact the State Bar of California, 1230 W. Third St., Los Angeles, Calif., 482-8220, and ask to be sent the informal information form or discuss your complaint in detail in a letter. The State Bar is a public corporation to which all lawyers practicing in California must belong. It is quasigovernmental agency and is empowered to investigate complaints within its jurisdiction, conduct hearings and recommend that disciplinary action, such as suspension or disbarment be taken against a lawyer if warranted. If an attorney objects to the disciplinary action, his case can be appealed to the California Supreme Court. The State Bar, however, only looks into questions of conduct, not fee disputes. In fee disputes, you can sue the lawyer in Small Claims Court or hire another lawyer to sue him in Civil Court. Or you might contact the local bar association. Most of these voluntary associations have arbitration committees set up to try and resolve fee disputes. The Long Beach Bar Association is located at 130 Pine Ave.

Job Maze

Q. I read a news article about job programs offered by the federal government, which said more information was available from the U.S. Training and Employment Service. But I cannot find this agency listed anywhere. C.W., Long Beach.

A. ACTION LINE, too, wandered around in the bureaucratic labryinth, but finally found that the function of the U.S. Training and Employment Service is handled in the Los Angeles area by the Manpower Administration, 300 N. Los Angeles St., Los Angeles, 688-5190. The administration oversees several job training programs funded by the federal government for young or impoverished workers. Closer to home, the Federal Job Information Center, 1340 Pine Ave., 432-7971, can supply you with information about federal job programs and application forms. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

President's Southland Visit Starts

Air Force One is expected to touch down at Orange County Airport shortly after 4 p.m. today, relocating the seat of U.S. government from the humid throes of Washington, D.C., to the balmy, tourist-like atmosphere of San Clemente.

Officials of an advance government party headquartered at the San Clemente Inn said Friday that President Nixon and his party would be helicoptered to the Chief executive's sprawling, $340,000 Spanish-style estate overlooking the Pacific.

THE 'COPTER lift operation may be more encompassing than even veteran Orange County Airport observers are girding for. Best estimates are that at least two key Cabinet officers and at least a dozen other lesser aides and their staffs will be in the first wave of bureaucrats to land here today. More are expected throughout the month or so that Nixon plans to stay here.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell are expected to spend a great deal of time with the President. Both have leased homes in San Clemente through early September.

OTHER KEY Nixon aides who are expected to arrive — today or soon after — include foreign policy adviser Henry Kissinger, Nixon secretary Rose Mary Woods, special presidential counsel John Erlichman, presidential assistant Robert Haldeman, appointments secretary Dwight Chapin, staff secretary Kenneth Cole and press secretary Ron Ziegler. The President informed his staff in Washington that his San Clemente stay will be "business as usual" and most are taking him at his word.

Security at the San Clemente estate has been aided by a Coast Guard order closing off areas adjacent to the residence to all air and sea traffic. The Coast Guard said the closure was "in response to a Secret Service request for aid in assuring the President's safety.

BUOYS WILL mark the security zone, which will be about a mile and a half wide and patrolled on a 24-hour basis by a Coast Guard vessel.

"All persons and vessels — including surfers and surfboards — are directed to remain outside the security zone when a Coast Guard cutter is in the vicinity," the announcement said. The order also applies to swimmers, the Coast Guard said.

French Forced to Cut Dollar Value of Franc

N. Y. Times Service

PARIS — The French government decided Friday to reduce the value of the franc in relation to the dollar by 12.5 per cent.

The action, making the franc worth 17.6 cents instead of 20 cents, was taken at a cabinet meeting called by President Georges Pompidou.

It was triggered by massive losses of French gold and dollar reserves. Finance minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing told a nationwide television audience Friday night that the government had no other realistic option.

TO ENGINEER a recession to defend the currency was unacceptable, he explained. And without a devaluation, he added, the reserve coffers would have been empty by the end of the year.

LONDON (NYTS) — The British government said Friday that the pound would maintain its present parity despite the devaluation of the French franc. "There is no question of sterling following the franc," a treasury spokesman declared.

The decision, which has important implications for France, the European Common Market and the monetary system, came at a time when most Frenchmen were on vacation.

Though long expected, the actual timing came as a surprise. There had been no sudden bout of speculation. Currency markets were in their August doldrums.

Giscard d'Estaing disclosed that Pompidou had agreed to a devaluation on July 16. The government held up taking the formal decision to wait for the August calm.

THE DECISION was taken less than nine months after former President de Gaulle intervened to prevent a devaluation by what would have been nearly the SACRAMENTO — California's Legislature worked at racehorse pace to conclude its 1969 session by its self-imposed midnight deadline Friday, but failed.

Each house was forced to stop the clock just short of midnight and keep working.

The Assembly stopped its clock at 11:59½ and worked until 12:40. The Senate clock was stopped at 11:28, but the senators were still working long past midnight.

The session drew to a close amid customary partisan bickering, with Republicans and Democrats each blaming the other for the Legislature's failure to enact a tax reform program.

Democrats had refused to vote for adjournment until, they said, Gov. Ronald Reagan's controversial tax reform proposals were brought to the floor for a vote.

But the 41 Republicans in the House finally got together to provide the necessary votes for the midnight Friday adjournment.

The Legislature passed authorization for the Southern California Rapid Transit District to impose a ½-cent sales tax for six months. The bill went to Gov. Ronald Reagan on a 2-9 Senate vote.

The clock-stopping maneuver is not uncommon. The state constitution requires that the two houses agree on an adjournment date, and fairly frequently one or both houses fail to conclude their work by the deadline.

The Assembly and Senate will return to the capital Sept. 8 for a constitutionally mandated five-day session to consider Gov. Reagan's vetoes.

Earlier in the evening, Reagan had distributed a press release accusing Assembly Democratic leaders of "continuing to play politics with tax reform."

On the hectic final day, the Legislature sent to the governor's desk bills giving healthy pay raises to Reagan, members of his staff and a number of officials in the executive branch.

The Assembly also passed and sent to Gov. Reagan's desk a measure exempting the state Lands Commission from losing some of its functions under a reorganization plan proposed by the governor.

The bill, if it is signed by the governor, stipulates that the reorganization plan "shall have no effect upon specified functions, authorities, and responsibilities of the state lands commission."

Under the governor's plan, the authority of the state lands commission to approve expenditures of tidelands oil monies would be shifted to the proposed Department of Navigation and Ocean Development.

The bill not only retains the lands commission function in its present form. It specifically excludes from the effect of the reorganization plan lands commission functions and responsi-

Mass Smog Deaths Predicted by UC Prof

DAVIS (UPI) — A University of California scientist Friday predicted mass deaths from smog within the next seven years, and criticized the legislature for failing to ban the internal combustion engine.

Zoology Professor Kenneth E. F. Watt said in a prepared statement, "it is now clear that air pollution concentrations are rising in California at a rate such that mass mortality incidents can be expected in specific areas, such as Long Beach, by the 1975-76 winter.

"The proportion of the population which will die in these incidents will at first equal, then exceed, that for the 1952 London smog disaster."

Watt specializes in ecology, a study of the relationship of live organisms to their surroundings.

A bill by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, to ban internal combustion engines was passed by the Senate but died in an Assembly committee.

Watt said the failure of the bill occurred on "the blackest day in California history if blackness is measured by the number of citizens of this state committed to die unpleasant deaths unnecessarily."

Work Incentive Built into Plan

By EUGENE V. RISHER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon Friday night offered the nation a far reaching and costly reform of the welfare system which would assure a family income to the working poor or those who are jobless but willing to work.

The Chief executive went on radio and television and — reading a speech which represented weeks of effort and five months of consultations within his Administration — spelled out a $4-billion-a-year program to replace a welfare system which he called "a colossal failure."

His plan would scrap the 35-year-old system which caused husbands to abandon their homes so that their families could become eligible for welfare payments and which caused the migration of thousands of Negroes from the South to more generous northern cities.

IN HIS SPEECH, Nixon described "the New Federalism" — the label he apparently has decided to attach to his Administration just as President Franklin D. Roosevelt, under whom welfare came into being, called his government "the New Deal."

The National Welfare Rights Organization, which said it represented 75,000 welfare recipients in 167 cities, called "inadequate" Nixon's plan for a $1,600-a-year income for any family of four in which the head of the household was willing to work. It said the minimum should be "at least $5,500."

In addition to the overhaul of welfare, the President promised to send Congress next week messages outlining these additional reforms:

— A no-strings-attached system of federal sharing of its tax collections with the states and localities, to start small with half a billion dollars in 1971.

— A regrouping and renovation of the governments' job training efforts, at an additional cost of $600 million a year, with child care centers established to allow welfare mothers to take work. The state would exercise more authority while getting more federal funds.

—An unprecedented nationwide minimum for families receiving government help, designed to slow the migration of Negroes from the rural South to big northern states with more generous welfare payments.

— Comparable nationwide welfare minimums for the aged, the blind and the disabled at an additional cost of $400 million a year.

None of these innovations could possibly take effect before January 1971.

In toto, they could affect 24 million people — more than a tenth of the nation's population.

Nixon promised that the "New Federalism" — if approved by the Democratic-controlled Congress — would reverse a trend which "has produced a bureaucratic monstrosity, cumbersome, unresponsive and ineffective."

The U.S. public welfare system, created in 1934 as a modest program of help for orphans, has grown to the point where states and cities are on "the brink of financial disaster" while all the poor are not helped, Nixon said.

"It breaks up homes," he said. "It often penalizes work. It robs recipients of dignity. And it grows."

"FOR THE FIRST time," the President said of his proposals, "the government would recognize that it has no less of an obligation to the working poor than to the nonworking poor.

"And for the first time, benefits would be scaled in such a way that it would always pay to work."

One innovation — certain to be hailed by welfare experts — would eliminate the welfare provisions which discourage people on welfare from taking jobs. Their payments would decline, but they would still be better off working than idle.

WASHINGTON — President Nixon described his welfare proposals as both controversial and expensive. "Let us face that fact frankly and directly," he said. "I deliberated long and hard over whether we could afford such an outlay," the chief executive said. "I decided in favor of it for two reasons: because the costs would not begin until fiscal 1971, when I expect the funds to be available; and because I concluded that this is a reform we cannot afford not to undertake . . ."

Moreover, they would be paid a bonus of $30 a month for taking job training. Nixon promised to find training slots for 150,000 heads of families now receiving welfare.

This, he said, would fulfill the pledge he made scores of times during the presidential campaign -- to get people off welfare rolls and onto payrolls. That promise, he recalled, "touched a responsive chord wherever I traveled during the campaign.

At the same time, cautious against over-promising, Nixon said that abolishing poverty "like reaching for the moon a generation ago, may be impossible."

THE PRESIDENT'S plans appeared certain to engender opposition from liberals and conservatives alike. Liberals may object to the cutoff of funds for those unwilling to take jobs. They may fault the denial of food stamps to those enrolled in the new program. Conservatives may object that his plans will double the cost and more than double the num-

"And for the first time, benefits would be scaled in such a way that it would always pay to work."

One innovation — certain to be hailed by welfare experts — would eliminate the welfare provisions which discourage people on welfare from taking jobs. Their payments would decline, but they would still be better off working than idle.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon described his welfare proposals as both controversial and expensive. "Let us face that fact frankly and directly," he said. "I deliberated long and hard over whether we could afford such an outlay," the chief executive said. "I decided in favor of it for two reasons: because the costs would not begin until fiscal 1971, when I expect the funds to be available; and because I concluded that this is a reform we cannot afford not to undertake . . ."

Moreover, they would be paid a bonus of $30 a month for taking job training. Nixon promised to find training slots for 150,000 heads of families now receiving welfare.

This, he said, would fulfill the pledge he made scores of times during the presidential campaign — to get people off welfare rolls and onto payrolls. That promise, he recalled, "touched a responsive chord wherever I traveled during the campaign.

At the same time, cautions against over-promising, Nixon said that abolishing poverty "like reaching for the moon a generation ago, may be impossible."

THE PRESIDENT'S plans appeared certain to engender opposition from liberals and conservatives alike. Liberals may object to the cutoff of funds for those unwilling to take jobs. They may fault the denial of food stamps to those enrolled in the new program. Conservatives may object that his plans will double the cost and more than double the num-

Red Rockets Rip U.S. Bases, 2 Killed

Combined News Services

SAIGON, Saturday — Communist troops launched rockets from within the DMZ against three U.S. bases Friday night, killing two Americans and wounding 10 others, military spokesmen reported today. The casualties Friday raised to 10 the number of Americans killed in two days of renewed ground and artillery warfare along the southern edge of the buffer strip dividing North and South Vietnam. A total of 34 have been injured. In Saigon, Viet Cong struck for the second consecutive day Friday. They hurled a hand grenade into a U.S. military jeep, wounding three Americans and a South Vietnamese. The bombing of a language school Thursday killed 12 and wounded 60, of whom 23 were American servicemen. In scattered ground action Friday, American and South Vietnamese troops killed a total of 63 Communists in two battles within 34 miles of Saigon and a third near An Khe, 275 miles northeast of the capital. Two Americans were killed and two were wounded. Government troops suffered no casualties. American B-52 bombers flew eight raids Friday night, hitting targets north of Saigon near the border with Cambodia. Communist gunners shelled seven Allied installations and towns during the night, but only one of them caused damage.

Israeli Jets Avenge Arab Attacks

TEL AVIV — Israeli jets attacked inside Jordan Friday for the third time in three days, bombing Jordanian rocket positions, an Israeli military spokesman said. The attack was in reprisal for the rocket attack Thursday night on an Israeli potash works at Sodom on the Dead Sea. The planes encountered light antiaircraft fire in the 35-minute attack but all managed to return safely to their base, spokesman said. Before the air attack, Arab guerrillas in the Jordanian capital, Ammin, claimed they launched raids on three Israeli civilian and military outposts during the night, killing 60 Israelis.

South Viets Shake Up Military Command

SAIGON — The South Vietnamese government shook up its military command Friday, replacing two generals whose divisions were considered by U.S. officers as the least efficient in the army. The changes were part of a series of transfers and promotions seen as an attempt to improve the command structure and to answer criticism of the leadership of many army units. The divisions are the 5th and 18th. The U.S. Command had no official comment on the changes, but U.S. officers were known to be pleased. Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, told Washington recently both divisions would have to be improved if the South Vietnamese army was expected to stand up to the enemy once American forces leave.

Rumor Pledges Limited Social Reform

ROME — Premier Mariano Rumor pledged his new minority government Friday to limited social reform and the maintenance of civil peace. He also promised continued support for an Atlantic alliance with strictly defined aims and for an economically and politically united Europe. Rumor outlined his Christian Democrat cabinet's program in separate 40-minute speeches to the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate, preparatory to debates and votes of confidence in both houses. The votes, which he is virtually assured of winning because of the promised backing of Socialists, will come within five days.

Russ Oust U.S. Envoy in Retaliation

WASHINGTON — The State Department announced Friday the expulsion on spy charges of a Soviet diplomat long stationed at the United Nations. Moscow retaliated by ousting an American embassy officer. Secrecy surrounded the case against the expelled Russian, 44-year-old Igor L. Andreyev. The American ordered out by Moscow is Milton Kovner, 39, listed as an economic counselor with the U.S. embassy there. Kovner was ordered out only in retaliation, not for any improper activities. As for Andreyev, a counsellor officer at the Soviet U.S. mission who has been in the United States since 1958, "was engaged in intelligence acquisition activities in New York."

Pan Am Airways, Union Near Pact

WASHINGTON — The Labor Department announced late Friday night tentative agreement on a contract between Pan American World Airways and the striking Teamsters Union. Some 10,000 ground employes of the nation's largest overseas air carrier walked off the job Friday forcing cancellation of all outbound flights. Asst. Secretary of Labor William J. Usery Jr., said ratification meetings would be called as soon as possible and are to be completed no later than Monday afternoon. A return to work by the strikers would depend on ratification by the Teamsters. The union struck the airline about 4 a.m. while bargainers were in the middle of the marathon negotiating session. Five hours later Usery had announced that a tentative agreement had been reached but it apparently hit a snag and the negotiations recessed at 1 p.m. Thousands of foreign bound travelers were forced to shift to other airlines or delay departures because of the strike at airports from New York to San Francisco.

Winnie Ruth Judd in Tearful Plea

SACRAMENTO — Winnie Ruth Judd, who spent 34 years in an Arizona mental hospital for a notorious 1931 double murder, tearfully pleaded Friday to remain in California where she has found "peace and quiet." Mrs. Judd, headlined in the roaring 30's as the "Trunk Murderess," appeared with her attorney, Melvin Belli of San Francisco, in Gov. Ronald Reagan's office to fight extradition to Arizona. "I want very much to stay," the 64-year-old woman said. "I love it here," she told Herbert Ellingwood, Reagan's legal affairs secretary. Reagan was not present. "This woman who stands before you now has been as rehabilitated as any woman can be," Belli said. If she is not, he said, "rehabilitation is a mockery." Ellingwood said he would make his recommendation to the governor "within a couple of days" and expected Reagan's decision on extradition "within 10 days."

ABC Rejects Cigarette Ad Offer

WASHINGTON — The American Broadcasting Co. has rejected a proposal to let cigarette makers out of contracts for television commercials at the end of this year. Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, had asked the broadcast networks to cancel smoking commercial contracts in response to an offer by the tobacco industry. A Senate subcommittee headed by Moss has been studying legislation to restrict advertising of cigarettes. Leonard H. Goldenson, ABC president, said in a letter to Moss that smoking advertising contracts run to about $200 million and giving up that kind of revenue was a risk that ABC could not take on "short notice." The contracts are due to expire in September, 1970, but cigarette makers said they would halt all commercials on radio and television as of next Jan. 1 if the networks would let them out of contracts. NBC and CBS have not yet replied to Moss' proposal.

Gary Fireman Strike Deadlocked

GARY — Mayor Richard G. Hatcher was rebuffed again Friday in an attempt to end Gary's four-day, wage-protest strike by 282 union firemen. Representatives of Firefighters Union Local 359 and the city council both turned down a compromise plan by Hatcher. "Negotiations are deadlocked," Hatcher reported. "I don't know when or how the impasse can be broken at this point." Meanwhile, nearly all the striking firemen showed up at contempt of court hearing involving four union leaders at nearby Hammond.

UAL Seeks Cut in Hawaii Fares

LOS ANGELES — A reduction of up to $16 in one-way air fares to Hawaii was sought Friday by United Air Lines. The airline asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to reduce both coach and economy class fares between Hawaii and the Mainland. The carrier asked that the lower fares become effective Sept. 6. if approved, they would reduce the cost of flying to Hawaii by up to 16 per cent from '43 mainland cities. Between Los Angeles and Honolulu the one-way economy fare would be cut from $100 to $85 and the one-way coach fare from $110 to $94 for travel Monday through Thursday weekly.

Blind Teacher's Pupils Unruly

Combined News Services

After three years of teaching English at a Muskegon, Mich., area high school, 27-year-old Evelyn Weckerly has been dismissed because she is blind and had trouble controlling her pupils. "We are trying to be fair with her because she does have a serious handicap," said William Luyendyk, superintendent of the Mona Shores High School. "But," he said Friday, "the board does not feel she is able to adequately perform her responsibilities." School officials said the primary problem was that Miss Weckerly could not maintain discipline in her classes and pupils took advantage of her blindess even though she had set up an honor system. Miss Weckerly was not available for comment Friday. But she has contended her teaching system gave pupils "an opportunity to gain a deep sense of responsibility in self-discipline." "Basically, there is no difference in the way I teach from that of any other teacher, except that students are given more responsibilities," she said last year when the board first decided not to renew her contract. She used student assistants and prepared for classes by using tape recordings, Braille books and records. The Mona Shores Board of Education first refused to renew Miss Weckerly's contract in 1968 after she had completed two years of teaching. If a contract had been granted for the third year, the teacher would have been given tenure — the right to hold her position unless incompetence was proved. Miss Weckerly appealed the board's original decision not to grant her a contract for the 1968-69 school year. During a year-long series of legal maneuvers, she continued teaching without a contract. The teacher's appeal was upheld by the Tenure Commission of the state Department of Education, but the school board then appealed that decision to the Ingham County Circuit Court.

SWEDEN VISIT

Apollo 11 Astronaut Col. Edwin Aldrin will visit Sweden in the fall as a guest of the Swedish government, the foreign ministry in Stockholm said Friday. BAND LEADER RUSS MORGAN DIES AT 65

Russ Morgan, one of the leaders of yesteryear's "big band sound" and who helped the Dorsey brothers get their start, is dead at the age of 65. Morgan, whose music was among dancers' favorites in the 1930s and 1940s, died Thursday night of a cerebral hemmorrhage at Las Vegas' Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital. An accomplished arranger and songwriter, he wrote such hits as "You're Nobody Till Somebody Loves You," "Somebody New is Taking My Place" and his band's theme, "Does Your Heart Beat for Me?"

He formed the Russ Morgan Orchestra in 1936 and dubbed the sound "Music in the Morgan Manner." Survivors include his wife Shirley, and four children.

CARY GRANT SUES FOR $8 MILLION

Actor Cary Grant Friday filed suit for $8.8 million in Superior court against MCA, Inc., and Universal Studios, Inc., charging they mishandled sale of four of his movies to television. Grant, 65, asserts the firms did not exhaust the movie box office potential of the movies before selling them for television release. The suit was filed under the names of Grant, Stanley Donen Films, Inc., and with four other production companies owned by Grant. The films — in which Grant starred — are "Operation Petticoat," "The Grass is Greener," "That Touch of Mink," and "Father Goose."

BANKER'S TERM

Don C. Silverthorne, 69, former president of the short-lived San Francisco National Bank, was sentenced Friday to eight years in jail for manipulation and mismanagement of bank funds. A U.S. district judge sentenced the former banker to five years in prison on five counts of misapplication of bank funds and three additional years for conspiracy, falsifying bank records and two other misapplication counts.

A literary agent says at least six American publishers are bidding for U.S. rights to "The Fire," by Soviet writer Anatoly V. Kuznetsov, who recently defected to the West in London. Kuznetsov said he could no longer tolerate repression and censorship in his homeland and remarked that the Russian language version of the book differed greatly from his original manuscript. British publishers are having both versions of "The Fire" translated.

L.A. Paper Sued for Identifying Narcotic Agents

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

A $15-million lawsuit was filed against the Los Angeles Free Press Friday after the paper published names, addresses and phone numbers of 80 state narcotics agents.

Publication of the list also sparked an internal investigation of the state attorney general's office and intensive police protection for the agents and their families.

The state's Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement reported a barrage of harassing and sometimes threatening phone calls to agents named on the list — many of whom reside in the Southland — after the Aug. 6 edition of the tabloid paper hit the stands Thursday.

THE LIST included agents assigned to the bureau's Los Angeles, Santa Ana, San Diego and San Francisco offices.

Thomas C. McDonald, executive assistant to Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, told the Independent, Press-Telegram an internal investigation of the attorney general's office is being conducted to determine whether the list of agents was given the Free Press by a state employe.

If an "inside leak" is found, criminal action may be taken, he said.

The lawsuit against the underground newspaper was filed in Los Angeles Superior Court by Senior Agent Harold Feldman on behalf of himself and the other listed agents.

In addition to the monetary damages, the suit seeks an injunction against publishing personal information about agents not named and confiscation of unsold copies of the newspaper which contain the list of agents.

Judge Richard Schauer denied a motion to issue the injunction, but handed down a temporary restraining order forbidding the Free Press from printing personal information about agents not named in the published list.

A SECOND hearing on the lawsuit will be held Aug. 22, McDonald said.

The Free Press list did not include identification of agents assigned to the Fresno and Sacramento offices.

Agent Feldman's suit seeks $5 million general damages and $10 million punitive damages from Free Press publisher Art Kunkin and 23 other persons, presumably members of the newspaper's staff.

The suit, which charges the defendants with "malicious conduct," claims the list of agents was stolen from a locked office at the bureau's Los Angeles headquarters, but does not identify the thief.

Attorney Ruth P. Wolfe, representing Feldman, said publication of the list was a conspiracy to cause physical and emotional injury to the agents and their families.

THE SUIT also contends publication of the list was done solely for gain and profit, and to obstruct justice.

Feldman told Judge Schauer he is worried about his family's safety after receiving several telephone threats.

John Warner, the bureau's Los Angeles area field supervisor, said the wave of telephone calls to agents' homes began at about 10 a.m. Thursday.

"We don't expect to have much trouble from persons involved in narcotics trafficking," he said. Reprisals against police officers from these people are pretty rare."

"But I imagine the self-styled revolutionaries and militants have filed away copies of the list for possible use sometime in the future," Warner told this newspaper.

McDONALD, however, said state officials are worried about possible violence against the agents, their families and homes.

"People involved in illegal drug dealings can be very dangerous," he said. "They are usually armed and — as a class of people — prone to violence.

"We also are worried about possible attacks on our agents and their families from the more violent of the militants living in the state.

"For this reason, we have provided intensive police protection for the agents, their families and property. Local police agencies have given us the utmost cooperation possible.

"Any violence against our agents will be met with swift and sure law enforcement action; you can just bet on that."

McDonald said that since the "apparently unorganized" telephone calling campaign began, at least one agent has moved to a new home.

Youth Held in Knife Slaying of Two Girls

SEASIDE (AP) — A 19-year-old Sacramento youth, arrested Friday with a repainted mini-van bearing traces of blood, under-went questioning in the knife killings of two girls in San Jose last Sunday.

Spots of blood were found on a quilt in the van, on an engine cover, and on the floor, police said.

Since discovery of the stabbed bodies of Deborah Furlong, 14, and Kathy Snoozy, 15, police have been hunting a white van-type vehicle which witnesses reported seeing near the scene.

ACCOUNTS pieced together from police and other sources said it was at 3 a.m., in Seaside Friday, 75 miles from the scene, that officers came on a blue van double-parked next to a foreign sports car.

As police approached, the van took off. A youth in the sports car said, "That guy pulled a gun on me," and pointed toward the van.

After a few blocks the van, found to have been repainted blue over white, was stopped and a person ran away. A man was arrested and identified as Charles Douglas Johnston of Sacramento.

POLICE did not mention a gun being found.

Although police said the van was stolen, Johnston was charged with possession of stolen license plates, from the sports car, and possession of a small quantity of marijuana. Bail was set at $6,250.

San Jose Chief of Detectives Barton Collins said the van now being microscopically examined showed signs of having been wiped inside.

Police reported traces of hair were found on a tool inside the van, but it wasn't known immediately if it was human hair. A yellow ribbon was among the material confiscated.

THE BLUE paint was reported still wet on top.

The van was reported stolen June 26 from a Sacramento auto dealer.

Johnston, who was assigned a public defender, was scheduled for arraignment at 9:30 a.m. Monday on the theft charge.

Hospital Employes OK Pact

Union hospital employes at Kaiser Permanente medical group have averted a possible strike by approving a new 30-month contract.

A walkout would have affected five hospitals, 23 clinics and several health offices serving 700,000 Southern Californians.

Members of the hospital and professional division of the Service Employes Union ratified the pact by a 300-vote margin, and union spokesmen said it restored Kaiser workers to their former "No. 1 position" in the wage field.

The union, which represents 3,000 of the medical group's 6,000 employes, will receive a minimum 65-cents-an-hour wage boost, pay for unused sick leave, a free dental plan and health benefits for retired union members.

On the key issue of workloads, the two sides agreed to establish a joint union-management committee to solve classification and work load problems. The union had called for reductions in the loads.

Mom Saves Tot; Two Others Drown

A 25-year-old mother saved her young daughter from drowning in a Lakewood swimming pool Friday by using methods she learned in a lifesaving course two weeks ago.

Two other young children — a 2-year-old San Pedro boy and a 3-year-old Torrance boy — were found dead in separate accidental drownings.

In Lakewood, Mrs. Sandra Agarth saved her 4-year-old daughter, Tammy, with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation techniques she'd learned in a course conducted by county firemen.

Mrs. Agarth, 7432 Warren Circle, La Palma, was talking with friends at the family swimming pool of friends at 3103 E. Eckelson St. when she noticed Tammy was beneath the surface.

The woman jumped in to the pool, pulled her daughter out and began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

A friend called the county fire station in Lakewood and an ambulance took Tammy to a local doctor's office.

Two less fortunate children were Michael Urioste Jr. and Robert Smith.

Young Urioste drowned in the backyard swimming pool of his family's home at 29614 Wycliff Ave., despite attempts by firemen and doctors to revive him.

He was found floating in the pool by his mother, Linda, 24.

Deputy Terell Spencer said the boy had been playing with his sister, Michelle, 6, before she ran to the house and told her mother the tot had fallen into the pool.

Mrs. Urioste dived into the water and took her son from the pool.

In Lone Pine, the body of the 3-year-old Smith was found in a creek not far from the Whitney Portal campgounds where he and his mother had been camping.

A group of Boy Scouts found the child's body about 24 hours after he disappeared. He'd been last seen playing near a bridge over Long Pine Creek, swollen from heavy snow runoff.

DOCTORS EXAMINE INJURED ARM

Frishman Rests at Bethesda

Navy Lt. Robert Frishman of Long Beach—released earlier this week from a North Vietnamese prisoner-of-war camp—was resting comfortably Friday in Bethesda Naval Hospital, Md.

Frishman and two other POW's released by the North Vietnamese, Navy Seaman Douglas Hegdahl, 23, of Watertown, S.D., and Air Force Capt. Wesley Rumble, 26, Oroville, Calif., arrived in Washington Friday after an overnight stay in New York City.

Frishman was accompanied by his wife, Jane, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frishman of Long Beach.

With Hegdahl were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hegdahl of Clark, S.D.

Frishman and Hegdahl were admitted to the naval hospital for examination and treatment of a rundown condition they suffered as a result of their long imprisonment.

Medical experts also will examine surgery performed by North Vietnamese doctors in removing the elbow from Frishman's right arm.

Frishman suffered serious injuries to his arm when his F4B jetfighter was shot down near Hanoi almost two years ago. After his release as a POW Frishman indicated he was grateful to the Vietnamese doctors for saving his arm from ampulation.

An ambulance was waiting at Andrews Air Force Base in Washington which transported Rumble, reportedly suffering from dysentery, chills and fever, to the base hospital. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Lyle C. Rumble, and his brother, Bruce, 17.

Asked what his plans for the future are, Frishman replied: "My plans are that I'm in the military, and I'll do anything they want."

UNSANITARY MEAT GETS INTO STATE

The State Department of Agriculture Friday said an estimated half-million pounds of illegal meat is going into the Los Angeles area every week, most of it from Idaho, Colorado and Texas.

Dr. Herald G. Wixom, assistant director for animal husbandry, said the meat comes from dead, disabled, diseased and dying animals which are slaughtered in "highly unsanitary conditions." He said none of three states mentioned prohibit the processing of unwholesome meat.

Wixom said state agents last week seized a 120,000-pound shipment of illegal meat.

Conflict Hint Is Ignored in Harbor Appointment

Despite a voiced fear of conflict of interests, the Los Angeles City Council Friday confirmed the appointment of Fishermen's Union executive John J. Royal to the L.A. Harbor Commission.

Royal, 47, of San Pedro, was appointed by Mayor Sam Yorty to a term ending July 1, 1972, to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Robert Fenton Craig.

Conflict of interests was raised by Councilman Ernani Bernardi after learning that Royal is executive secretary-treasurer of the Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union.

Bernardi said there could be conflict in some board actions because fishing boats are moored in L.A. Harbor.

"If we are going to correct some of the problems which have created conditions not too favorable to government at all levels, we will have to assume a hard-nosed attitude and be critical of all appointments," Bernardi said.

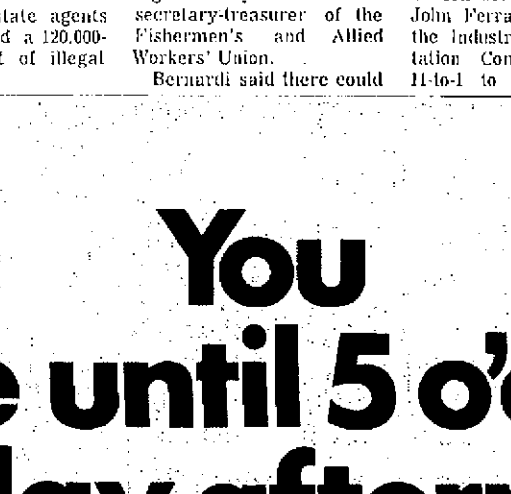

HOWEVER, council members seemed more inclined to go along with Council President John S. Gibson Jr. and Councilman John Ferraro, chairman of the Industry and Transportation Committee, voting 11-to-1 to affirm the appointment.

Royal is attending a U.S. - Chile - Peru - Ecuador conference in South America, representing the U.S. State Department as an advisor in discussions on Peru's claim that its territorial waters reach 200 miles into the high seas.

Royal is a former merchant seaman, a 20-year-resident of San Pedro and member of the State Marine Research Committee.

L.A. Paper Sued for Identifying Narcotic Agents

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

A $15-million lawsuit was filed against the Los Angeles Free Press Friday after the paper published names, addresses and phone numbers of 80 state narcotics agents.

Publication of the list also sparked an internal investigation of the state attorney general's office and intensive police protection for the agents and their families.

The state's Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement reported a barrage of harassing and sometimes threatening phone calls to agents named on the list — many of whom reside in the Southland — after the Aug. 8 edition of the tabloid paper hit the stands Thursday.

THE LIST included agents assigned to the bureau's Los Angeles, Santa Ana, San Diego and San Francisco offices.

Thomas C. McDonald, executive assistant to Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, told the Independent, Press-Telegram an internal investigation of the attorney general's office is being conducted to determine whether the list of agents was given the Free Press by a state employe.

If an "inside leak" is found, criminal action may be taken, he said.

The lawsuit against the underground newspaper was filed in Los Angeles Superior Court by Senior Agent Harold Feldman on behalf of himself and the other listed agents.

In addition to the monetary damages, the suit seeks an injunction against publishing personal information about agents not named and confiscation of unsold copies of the newspaper which contain the list of agents.

Judge Richard Schauer denied a motion to issue the injunction, but handed down a temporary restraining order forbidding the Free Press from printing personal information about agents not named in the published list.

A SECOND hearing on the lawsuit will be held Aug. 22, McDonald said.

The Free Press list did not include identification of agents assigned to the Fresno and Sacramento offices.

Agent Feldman's suit seeks $5 million general damages and $10 million punitive damages from Free Press publisher Art Kunkin and 23 other persons, presumably members of the newspaper's staff.

The suit, which charges the defendants with "malicious conduct," claims the list of agents was stolen from a locked office at the bureau's Los Angeles headquarters, but does not identify the thief.

Attorney Ruth P. Wolfe, representing Feldman, said publication of the list was a conspiracy to cause physical and emotional injury to the agents and their families.

THE SUIT also contends publication of the list was done solely for gain and profit, and to obstruct justice.

Feldman told Judge Schauer he is worried about his family's safety after receiving several telephone threats.

McDonald said that since the "apparently unorganized" telephone calling campaign began, at least one agent has moved to a new home.

WESTSIDE STORY

Fine Production of Musical Drama

By RALPH HINMAN JR.
Drama Critic

A note to musical-theater fans whose youngsters aren't in "West Side Story": Go see it anyway.

I'm not being cynical in observing that many musicals staged by youngsters chiefly attract audiences from among the ranks of friends and relatives. That's the way of the world, and I far from disapprove.

Because of a number of factors I'll elaborate on in a moment, this mounting of an updated Romeo and Juliet legend deserves special, serious consideration from theatergoers seeking only a good show.

Director Jim Brittain — a man whose work I admire enormously — has worked together a talented group of kids to create a total product. (Directors in my book never get enough credit — or blame — for this creative process.)

HE HAS STRONG ASSISTANCE FROM choreographer Jan Sanderson, whose production numbers are an unfailing joy; the musical people, including members of a large orchestra and a skilled technical staff. There's credit also for jointly sponsoring cities of Lakewood, Bellflower and Artesia, plus the coordinating county recreation department, in Lakewood High School Auditorium.

Now the cast: Although not professional by any means, it numbers many a youngster who is reaching out toward professionalism.

If there is a general flaw it is one that must be attributed to lack of mature vocal apparatuses. Sometimes there is difficulty in catching all the spoken lines because of under-developed projection. This is not a problem in solo, duet or choral singing; indeed, on occasion, vocalizers get a touch too much amplification.

In such a large group it's impossible to explore individual acting jobs done. Let is suffice to note that Ron Cessna and Coleen McBride — doing the star-crossed young cover-principals — are absolutely first-rate. Each possesses and displays musical and dramatic talents that could well become professional.

AMONG THE show's several delights are artistically disciplined production sequences such as gang "rumbles" between youthful Americans and Porto Ricans on New York's west side. In a lighter vein, a number in which Anglo kids lampoon their cop on the beat is excellent.

Give this an enthusiastic 3½ stars with a recommendation for general audiences.

STRUMMIN' AT THE 'FARM'

The "Beaver Hill String Band," daily performers in Ghost Town at Knott's Berry Farm at Buena Park, will be featured guest artists tonight in Knott's Covered Wagon Camp. Specializing in folk and bluegrass sound, the trio pictured will be joined by a fourth member on the bass in shows at 7, 8:30 and 10 p.m.

Caution Lowers Excitement at Mehta's Bowl Appearance

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

The midpoint in this 48th Hollywood Bowl season was reached Thursday night, when Zubin Mehta, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra's permanent musical director, led the second of his six current Bowl concerts.

It should have been a festive occasion. And, indeed, on paper it looked like one. But, somehow, the projected chemistry (astrology?) did not work.

Our hopes were high because Mehta had scheduled two pieces over which his mastery is well-known, the Prelude to Mussorgsky's "Khovanshchina," and Stravinsky's "Le Sacre du Printemps." Also because violinist Michael Rabin, an ex-prodigy just three dyas younger than Mehta himself, was to play the Tchaikovsky Concerto, a work perfectly appropriate to this miniature festival of Russian music.

What went wrong? Simply, an abundance of caution and reserve, on everyone's part, kept musical temperatures down, and the often-contagious excitement in both larger pieces thus failed to reach, and involve, the auditors.

Surprisingly enough, the "Khovanshchina" Prelude which demands the utmost transparency, as well as the most controlled pianissimos, and which we might have expected to evaporate completely in the open spaces of Hollywood Bowl, came off best. Even the interruption of a single, loud commercial airplane near the beginning could not mar a really exquisite performance.

Rabin's Tchaikovsky was correct enough, after some initial apprehensiveness, but we missed the full-blooded emotionalism, as well as the technical abandon, which this work needs to revive its by-now shop-worn profile. Rabin provided neither. Mehta's accompaniement, by the way, was more than sympathetic, a happy, and not always usual, circumstance.

"The Rite of Spring" — Stravinsky has said an even better English equivalent for the Russian title is "The Coronation of Spring" — enjoyed all the concentration and intellecutal propulsion Mehta and his orchestra could muster on this occasion. But they were working, not playing, and, while the difference between the one activity and the other may be small — especially on the artistic level these musicians occupy most of the year — it is nonetheless crucial.

MOVIE GUIDE

As a guide to moviegoers, this newspaper lists capsule contents of major motion pictures playing the Long Beach area. Most classifications represent the judgment of the Film Board of National Organizations.

RUN WILD, RUN FREE — Emotionally unable to speak, a 10-year-old boy on England's lonely and beautiful moors recovers his health through his love for a wild colt and the understanding aid of a retired Army officer. (G)

STILETTO — Alex Cord portrays a playboy count and assassin for an international crime cartel in an adventure drama based on the novel by Harold Robbins. (R)

THE MALTESE BIPPY — Rowan and Martin, in their first film, get their comedy kicks out of a pack of vampires and werewolves. (G)

SOUND OF MUSIC — The box offices are still aglow as Julie Andrews sings her heart out in this re-release that is making 20th Century-Fox very happy. (G)

WINNING — Paul Newman, a race car driver who spends more time at the track than with his wife, Joanne Woodward, finds he is coming in second at home. (M)

THE CHAIRMAN — Scientist Gregory Peck, a radio transmitter and destruct mechanism implanted behind his ear, travels to Red China on a secret and improbable mission for the U.S. (M)

CASTLE KEEP — It's not Moshe Dayan but Burt Lancaster sporting that black eyepatch as the World War II American commander of wounded misfits defending a Belgian castle against the Germans. (R)

GREAT BANK ROBBERY — Zero Mostel and Kim Novak, and a medicine show, in a Western comedy highlighted by a bizarre bank robbery. (M)

RATINGS:

G — Recommended for general audiences of all ages.

M — Suggested for mature audiences, adults and young people.

R — Restricted, persons under 16 not accompanied by parent or adult guardian.

X — Persons under 16 not admitted.

WESTSIDE STORY

Fine Production of Musical Drama

By RALPH HINMAN JR.
Drama Critic

A note to musical-theater fans whose youngsters aren't in "West Side Story": Go see it anyway.

I'm not being cynical in observing that many musicals staged by youngsters chiefly attract audiences from among the ranks of friends and relatives. That's the way of the world, and I far from disapprove.

Because of a number of factors I'll elaborate on in a moment, this mounting of an updated Romeo and Juliet legend deserves special, serious consideration from theatergoers seeking only a good show.

"WEST SIDE STORY"
By Arthur Laurents, Leonard Bernstein and Stephen Sondheim
Directed by James Brittain
Jan Sanderson, choreographer
Jan Ritschel, musical director
Jack Palatios, orchestra director
John Everest, technical director
CAST

Tony	Ron Cessna
Maria	Coleen McBride
Riff	Chuck Ward
Anita	Temre Jaco
Bernardo	Greg Barnett

Final performance tonight, 8, Lakewood High School auditorium, 4400 Briercrest Ave., Lakewood.

Director Jim Brittain — a man whose work I admire enormously — has worked together a talented group of kids to create a total product. (Directors in my book never get enough credit — or blame — for this creative process.)

HE HAS STRONG ASSISTANCE FROM choreographer Jan Sanderson, whose production numbers are an unfailing joy; the musical people, including members of a large orchestra and a skilled technical staff. There's credit also for jointly sponsoring cities of Lakewood, Bellflower and Artesia, plus the coordinating county recreation department, in Lakewood High School Auditorium.

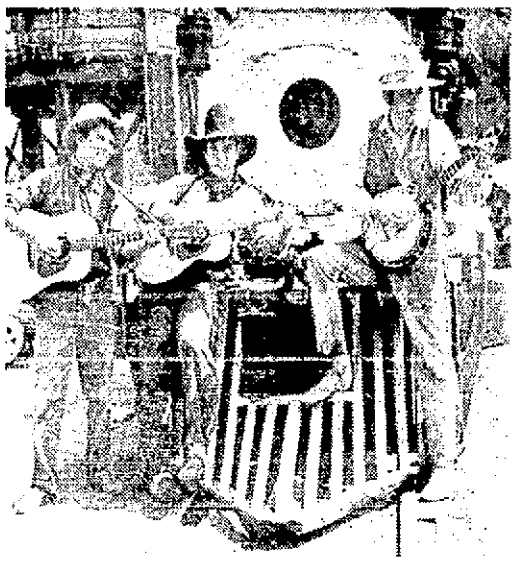

Now the cast: Although not professional by any means, it numbers many a youngster who is reaching out toward professionalism.

If there is a general flaw it is one that must be attributed to lack of mature vocal apparatuses. Sometimes there is difficulty in catching all the spoken lines because of under-developed projection. This is not a problem in solo, duet or choral singing; indeed, on occasion, vocalizers get a touch too much amplification.

In such a large group it's impossible to explore individual acting jobs done. Let is suffice to note that Ron Cessna and Coleen McBride — doing the star-crossed young lover-principals — are absolutely first-rate. Each possesses and displays musical and dramatic talents that could well become professional.

AMONG THE show's several delights are artistically disciplined production sequences such as gang "rumbles" between youthful Americans and Porto Ricans on New York's west side. In a lighter vein, a number in which Anglo kids lampoon their cop on the beat is excellent.

Give this an enthusiastic 3½ stars with a recommendation for general audiences.

STRUMMIN' AT THE 'FARM'

The "Beaver Hill String Band," daily performers in Ghost Town at Knott's Berry Farm at Buena Park, will be featured guest artists tonight in Knott's Covered Wagon Camp. Specializing in folk and bluegrass sound, the trio pictured will be joined by a fourth member on the bass in shows at 7, 8:30 and 10 p.m.

Caution Lowers Excitement at Mehta's Bowl Appearance

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

The midpoint in this 48th Hollywood Bowl season was reached Thursday night, when Zubin Mehta, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra's permanent musical director, led the second of his six current Bowl concerts.

It should have been a festive occasion. And, indeed, on paper it looked like one. But, somehow, the projected chemistry (astrology?) did not work.

Our hopes were high because Mehta had scheduled two pieces over which his mastery is well-known, the Prelude to Mussorgsky's "Khovanshchina," and Stravinsky's "Le Sacre du Printemps." Also because violinist Michael Rabin, an ex-prodigy just three dyas younger than Mehta himself, was to play the Tchiakovsky Concerto, a work perfectly appropriate to this miniature festival of Russian music.

What went wrong? Simply, an abundance of caution and reserve, on everyone's part, kept musical temperatures down, and the often-contagious excitement in both larger pieces thus failed to reach, and involve, the auditors.

Surprisingly enough, the "Khovanshchina" Prelude which demands the utmost transparency, as well as the most controlled pianissimos, and which we might have expected to evaporate completely in the open spaces of Hollywood Bowl, came off best. Even the interruption of a single, loud commercial airplane near the beginning could not mar a really exquisite performance.

Rabin's Tchaikovsky was correct enough, after some initial apprehensiveness, but we missed the full-blooded emotionalism, as well as the technical abandon, which this work needs to revive its by-now shop-worn profile. Rabin provided neither. Mehta's accompaniement, by the way, was more than sympathetic, a happy, and not always usual, circumstance.

"The Rite of Spring" — Stravinsky has said an even better English equivalent for the Russian title is "The Coronation of Spring" -- enjoyed all the concentration and intellecutal propulsion Mehta and his orchestra could muster on this occasion. But they were working, not playing, and, while the difference between the one activity and the other may be small — especially on the artistic level these musicians occupy most of the year — it is nonetheless crucial.

MOVIE GUIDE

As a guide to moviegoers, this newspaper lists capsule contents of major motion pictures playing the Long Beach area. Most classifications represent the judgment of the Film Board of National Organizations.

RUN WILD, RUN FREE — Emotionally unable to speak, a 10-year-old boy on England's lonely and beautiful moors recovers his health through his love for a wild colt and the understanding aid of a retired Army officer. (G)

STILETTO — Alex Cord portrays a playboy count and assassin for an international crime cartel in an adventure drama based on the novel by Harold Robbins. (R)

CASTLE KEEP — It's not Moshe Dayan but Burt Lancaster sporting that black eyepatch as the World War II American commander of wounded misfits defending a Belgian castle against the Germans. (R)

GREAT BANK ROBBERY — Zero Mostel and Kim Novak, and a medicine show, in a Western comedy highlighted by a bizarre bank robbery. (M)

THE MALTESE BIPPY — Rowan and Martin, in their first film, get their comedy kicks out of a pack of vampires and werewolves. (G)

SOUND OF MUSIC — The box offices are still aglow as Julie Andrews sings her heart out in this re-release that is making 20th Century-Fox very happy. (G)

WINNING — Paul Newman, a race car driver who spends more time at the track than with his wife, Joanne Woodward, finds he is coming in second at home. (M)

THE CHAIRMAN — Scientist Gregory Peck, a radio transmitter and destruct mechanism implanted behind his ear, travels to Red China on a secret and improbable mission for the U.S. (M)

RATINGS:

G — Recommended for general audiences of all ages.

M — Suggested for mature audiences, adults and young people.

R — Restricted, persons under 16 not accompanied by parent or adult guardian.

Nixon Plan Offers Incentive to Work

ber of persons eligible for public assistance.

They may also object that, despite Nixon's vows to decentralize government power, the states, counties and cities would lose their traditional power to determine who gets welfare and how much they get.

But Nixon argued that by 1971 the money would be available and, moreover, "this is a reform we cannot afford not to undertake.

"The cost of continuing the present system, in financial as well as human terms, is staggering if projected into the 1970s."

TO MARK HIS departure from the old ways, Nixon labeled his system "family assistance."

Under it, states could pay more if they chose, but every family of four would receive at least $1,600 a year in public assistance as long as the head of the household signed up for a job or job training.

Money would be available to "the working poor" — the thousands of people holding menial jobs who can't make ends meet even though the head of the household works. These are included in the "forgotten Americans" to whom Nixon pitched his presidential campaign.

A family of five with an income of $2,000 a year through work, for example, would receive a federal subsidy of $1,260.

But Nixon emphasized this was not the much-discussed "Guaranteed annual income" because, unlike the plan, under his proposal funds would not go to those unwilling to take jobs.

Abolished under the Nixon's "family assistance" is the controversial "Aid to Families With Dependent Children" program under which many fathers deserted their wives and children to make them eligible for welfare.

MISSISSIPPI now pays a welfare mother with three children only $39 a month while New Jersey pays $263. Because of the vast difference in payments between these and other states, thousands have moved into states with the higher benefits. The Nixon plan, by narrowing the gap between what states pay and instituting a $1,600 annual minimum, is designed to slow down that migration.

The day care center for working mothers proposed under the "New Federalism," would, Nixon said, "offer more than custodial care. They would also be devoted to the development of vigorous young minds and bodies."

Potentially greater impact on the future than his welfare substitute was the president's promise to start federal revenue sharing — a process long discussed in Washington and in hard-pressed statehouses across the country.

White House sources said that while the program would start at a relatively modest level of $1 billion a year, "in a few years" $5 billion or more would be turned over to the states, with some specifically earmarked for localities.

Officials of big cities had feared they would be denied the federal funds, but Nixon promised that the legislation he would propose would earmark "a percentage" for cities. He was no more specific.

CONTROVERSY was certain over Nixon's proposal to take from the states a lot of the control they now exercise over welfare costs and standards—who shall get it and how much they shall receive. In exchange, he would give them federal money in excess of what they now receive.

Under the president's formula, state costs for welfare payments would drop anywhere fro 10 to 50 per cent, depending on their present outlays.

The Nixon plan would take the job of certifying eligibility for "family assistance" out of the hands of state and local officials and give them to the Social Security Administration.

Another possible sticker was on the provision that people enrolled in "family assistance," as outlined by White House aides, would no longer be eligible for food stamps sold to the poor. The food stamp program would continue only for single people, couples without children who get no other kind of welfare and the disabled, blind or elderly poor.

Nixon also proposed to reduce the Office of Economic Opportunity—the government agency created by President Lyndon B. Johnson to fight his "War on Poverty"—to what Nixon called "a laboratory agency, where new ideas for helping people are tried on a pilot basis."

OEO WAS ONE of his frequent targets during the presidential campaign. He said in his speech it had failed "from a massive attempt to do everything at once."

The President's "family assistance" proposal would establish the federal floor of $1,600 for a family of four and $300 a year more for each additional member of the family.

In 20 states, Nixon said, "those in which poverty is most widespread," welfare payments are now below that $1,600 figure. For those states, the new federal minimum "would mean a leap upward for many thousands of families that cannot care for themselves," he said.

Under Nixon's formula, the head of the family could earn up to $60 a month with no drop in his benefits and beyond that his benefits would be reduced by 50 cents for each $1 he earned.

"With such incentives," Nixon said, "most recipients who can work will want to work. This is part of the American character."

BUT THOSE who refuse to work would be cut off.

"Everyone," said Nixon, "who accepts benefits must also accept work or training — provided suitable jobs are available either locally or at some distance if transportation is provided.

"The only exceptions would be those unable to work, and mothers of pre-school children. Even mothers of pre-school children, however, would have the opportunity to work — because I am also proposing along with this a major expansion of day-care centers to make it possible for mothers to take jobs by which they can support themselves and their children."

This, as Nixon pointed out, is not the frequently debated "guaranteed annual income" which would assure every American some income, whether he worked or not, but it was a step in that direction — just as Medicare and Medicaid can be called trends toward nationalized health care.

"A guaranteed income would undermine the incentive to work" and he opposes it, Nixon said. But the "family assistance plan" increases the incentive to work, he said.

Turning to the question of costs, Nixon said that while they were bound to rise in the short run, they would fall in the long run, when people now on welfare start finding employment.

"IF WE FAIL to make this investment in work incentives now . . . we will only be pouring good money after bad in ever-increasing amounts," he said.

"If we do invest in this modernization, the heavily-burdened taxpayer at last will see the light at the end of the tunnel. And the man who now looks ahead only to a lifetime of dependency will see hope for a life of work and pride and dignity."

"Poverty," said the President, "is not only a state of income. It is also a state of mind and a state of health. Poverty must be conquered without sacrificing the will to work, for if we take the route of the permanent handout, the American character will itself be impoverished."

Antiwar Unit May Confront Nixon at Apollo 11 Dinner

An antiwar group organizer says a confrontation may result at the site of President Nixon's state dinner Wednesday for the Apollo 11 astronauts if Los Angeles police continue to refuse permission for a protest rally.

Antiwar protestors seek to use one lane of the street outside the Century Plaza, where a violent antiwar protest was staged in 1967 against President Johnson.

Police say, permission for the required parade permit cannot be granted because the group did not apply 40 days in advance as required by ordinance. Officers said a rally could be held on sidewalks but must be orderly.

"We have no desire for any confrontation," said David Frankel, an organizer for the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

"But if police don't give us that lane they may provoke a confrontation," he said.

"The demonstration is against Nixon and not against the astronauts. We're against Nixon's attempt to use the astronauts to bolster his position in Vietnam."

The Quakers and the antiwar group Peace Action Council also said they will demonstrate outside the Century Plaza. The PAC also said it will protest Aug. 17 at the President's summer White House in San Clemente.

The groups didn't estimate how many demonstrators would be on hand Wednesday.

Welfare Changes May Have to Wait

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's welfare proposals will be acted on cautiously in Congress with no final decisions until next year.

That was the trend of reaction Friday night to Nixon's radio-television action speech.

Republicans generally praised the speech as offering a new departure from what has been regarded as an increasingly unsatisfactory public welfare system.

But some GOP legislators from large industrial states complained that the new plan would not do enough for their sections and insisted it would have to be revised in Congress.

DEMOCRATS were chary of commenting on the proposals. Several said they would wait until all the details are spelled out in messages to be sent to the Capitol next week. Democratic leaders were not given advance briefings on the speech as were the Republicans.

However some Democrats said they fear the plan would do little to help welfare families in large cities.

The House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees, which will have to act on welfare revision, have busy schedules for the rest of 1969 session with tax reform and other legislation.

Members of these panels said they see no chance for action on the Nixon recommendations this year, other than possibly some public hearings in the House.

MOST MEMBERS willing to make a prediction said they feel there will be an overhauling of the welfare laws within the next year or two, but they doubt that the Nixon plan will be approved without considerable change.

Nixon's revenue-sharing plan may face rough sledding.

Many Republicans have favored this idea for years but Democrats, who control Congress, are suspicious of it.

One opponent has been Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., Ways and Means chairman, who says he doubts that Congress will want to shovel out money to the states and cities with no strings on how it is spent.

'Hot Line' Welds U.S., Bonn Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard Nixon and West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger agreed Friday to establish a "hot line" for instant communication between the White House and the chancellor's office in Bonn.

A joint statement following two days of talks and the line would be installed as soon as technical arrangements have been completed.

The United States and the Soviet Union also maintain a "hot line" which permits instant communication between the nations' leaders in the event of a crisis.

While the joint statement between Nixon and Kiesinger made no mention of any crisis, it said that the two had agreed on the importance of staying in close communication with one another.

The President and the chancellor discussed a full range of issues affecting relations between East and West, including prospects for strategic arms limitation talks and broadening discussions on European security, the statement reported.

Ask Shift of Hospital Authority

A Los Angeles city councilman urged the city Friday to replace the administration of Central Receiving Hospital, where he said a wounded policeman died July 31 from lack of care.

Councilman Arthur K. Snyder said the Receiving Hospital Department should be abolished and its functions turned over the fire department.

HIS 12-POINT motion was referred without opposition to the council's Public Health and Welfare Committee.

Police officer Robert J. Cote, 23, shot July 31 by a robber, might have survived if the hospital had the blood he needed for a transfusion, Snyder said.

SNYDER SAID an attendant sent to a hospital three miles away for the blood returned too late to save Cote.

FRANC

same amount last November.

At that time there had been feverish speculation and at a Bonn monetary conference French officials tried to bargain a devaluation of the franc for an upward valuation of the West German mark. The German authorities refused to alter the mark's parity. French authorities then indicated they would devalue anyway, but De Gaulle, who had earlier characterized devaluation as "the worst possible absurdity," was determined to hold the parity. The franc had become a symbol of French prestige.

The new government under Pompidou, faced with an ever deteriorating financial position, was ruled by more practical considerations.

ALTHOUGH the French decision, which goes into effect on Monday, was expected to cause tremors on the currency markets, there was some hope that it would not lead to a rash of competitive devaluations.

A monetary official in Paris said the rate of devaluation was within what was considered to be the "safe limit" where it would have the least possible effect on other currencies.

There are, however, countries such as Denmark, which have suffered badly in recent rounds of speculation. They might be hard pressed to hold the parity line.

Some observers felt Friday that the French action had reopened the question of the West German mark.

Because of its ability to control inflation, Germany has what many monetary specialists believe is an undervalued currency. Cited as evidence are its continued trade surpluses amounting to $4 billion a year.

2 Bills on Campus Disorders Passed

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — The legislature Friday approved two bills giving campus authorities more weapons with which to combat disorders.

Both bills were approved Wednesday night, but disagreement over some late Senate amendments required two conference committees to iron our compromise measures. They now go to Gov. Ronald Reagan for his expected signature. When signed, they will go into effect immediately.

One bill, by Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, would yank any state scholarship aid from a recipient convicted of unlawful conduct on a campus.

STULL'S BILL allows the chief administrative officer of a junior college, state college, or state university campus to declare a state of emergency under certain conditions, but the compromise bill deletes the authority, contained in the earlier Stull bill, to seal off a campus when there is a disturbance.

The other bill, introduced by Assemblyman Frank Murphy, R-Santa Cruz, makes it a misdemeanor to fail to leave junior college, state college, or state university property when ordered to so by a campus official.

The two bills are a distillation of more than 100 bills dealing with the subject of campus unrest introduced in the Assembly and Senate this session. They contain most, but not all, of the measures asked by Gov. Reagan earlier this year.

bilities dealing with the Long Beach tidelands.

Earlier, assembly republicans had blocked what had been expected to be a bi-partisan attempt to prevent the governor's plan from taking effect at all.

The governmental organization committee, with no dissenting votes from its republican members, had recommended last month that the governor's plan be sent to interim study.

Assemblyman Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, chairman of the committee, reported the recommendation to the full assembly Friday. But republican floor leader Craig Biddle of Riverside asked that the recommendation be rejected and the governor's plan be allowed to take effect.

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, argued that the governor's plan had laudatory objectives — the locating in one agency of all ocean-related responsibilities of the state—but did not, in fact, accomplish that. He said only five of 24 ocean-related departments were included in the plan.

He said the language was clumsily drawn, and would result in confusion about the responsibilities of the proposed new department.

But republicans united solidly to reject Moretti's motion, and the governor's plan will take effect one day after the Legislature formally adjourns this year.

Lockheed Hikes Small Business Contracts 18%

BURBANK (CNS) — During the first half of 1969 awards to small business firms by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. amounted to more than $178 million — an increase of 17.8 percent over the last six months of 1968.

The small business dollar volume accounted for 27.1 per cent of Lockheed's total subcontract commitments during the period.

Lockheed issued a total of 237,140 orders to 23,545 small companies across the country.

Both bills were approved Wednesday night, but disagreement over some late Senate amendments required two conference committees to iron our compromise measures. They now go to Gov. Ronald Reagan for his expected signature. When signed, they will go into effect immediately.

One bill, by Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, would yank any state scholarship aid from a recipient convicted of unlawful conduct on a campus.

STULL'S BILL allows the chief administrative officer of a junior college, state college, or state university campus to declare a state of emergency under certain conditions, but the compromise bill deletes the authority, contained in the earlier Stull bill, to seal off a campus when there is a disturbance.

The other bill introduced by Assemblyman Frank Murphy, R-Santa Cruz, makes it a misdemeanor to fail to leave junior college, state college, or state university property when ordered to so by a campus official.

The two bills are a distillation of more than 100 bills dealing with the subject of campus unrest introduced in the Assembly and Senate this session. They contain most, but not all, of the measures asked by Gov. Reagan earlier this year.

bilities dealing with the Long Beach tidelands.

Earlier, assembly republicans had blocked what had been expected to be a bi-partisan attempt to prevent the governor's plan from taking effect at all.

The governmental organization committee, with no dissenting votes from its republican members, had recommended last month that the governor's plan be sent to interim study.

Assemblyman Bob Morelli, D-Van Nuys, chairman of the committee, reported the recommendation to the full assembly Friday. But republican floor leader Craig Biddle of Riverside asked that the recommendation be rejected and the governor's plan be allowed to take effect.

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, argued that the governor's plan had laudatory objectives — the locating in one agency of all ocean-related responsibilities of the state—but did not, in fact, accomplish that. He said only five of 24 ocean-related departments were included in the plan.

He said the language was clumsily drawn, and would result in confusion about the responsibilities of the proposed new department.

But republicans united solidly to reject Moretti's motion, and the governor's plan will take effect one day after the Legislature formally adjourns this year.

Lockheed Hikes Small Business Contracts 18%

BURBANK (CNS) — During the first half of 1969 awards to small business firms by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. amounted to more than $178 million — an increase of 17.8 percent over the last six months of 1968.

The small business dollar volume accounted for 27.1 per cent of Lockheed's total subcontract commitments during the period.

Lockheed issued a total of 237,140 orders to 23,545 small companies across the country.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: Service is the keyword for the year. Goals that seemed impossible now come within reach. If you will be persistent. You must simplify your life this year, as you will have no time later for outworn habits. Today's natives are generally candid, also easy to get along with.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Your pleasant surface may not reflect much of your impatience, but it does aid you in getting through this day of minor irritation. Your effort brings returns.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Get started bright and early to lend your share of the community's expression of faith. You will find cooperation especially if you do not rush. Give people space and time to work out their own patterns.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Take care not to leave anybody out as you skid through the long day and evening. Social contracts are satisfying if you have well-made preliminary plans.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your initiative today becomes more important. Rather than sulk or complain of being alone, bestir yourself to invite other people to share your enjoyment of your home.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Good humor and an adventurous spirit make this day a lively one. The unexpected quality of today is that purely temporary expedients are apt to turn out to be permanent, settled arrangements.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There is a premium today on thinking for yourself. Your friends seem to have good news in all directions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You will have plenty to scribble about before this active, complex day is done. Seek the company of people you like, get some outdoors activity going.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): After you have done your normal Sunday morning rounds, give attention to home, properly. Do something or sketch out ideas to make it more attractive.

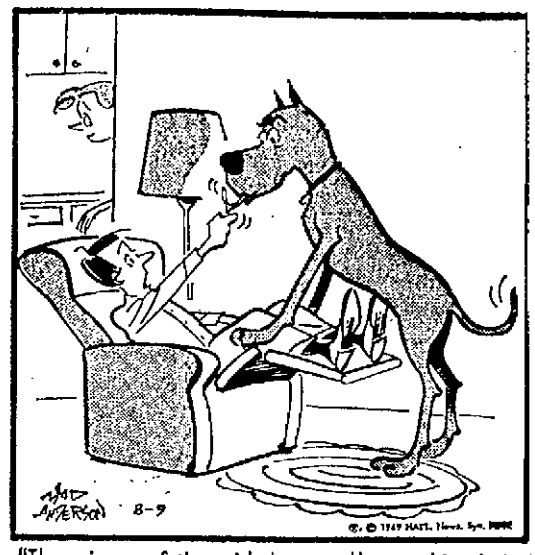

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This Sunday morning is an excellent time to make long-planned changes. Turn over the new leaf: Children provide plenty of entertainment (and perhaps surprises).

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You can relax and let things take their course this Sunday. Gather friends and relatives about you. Try a different menu for the evening meal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 23-Feb. 18): You can make this a calm Sunday. Give yourself a rest. Seek the company of people you enjoy, pursue sentimental interests.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 23): Do your share in the activities of the family and the local community. Make the rounds to renew acquaintances. Attend to correspondence, errands.

Blood Tests May Spring Moonmen

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Prebreakfast blood samples taken today from the Apollo 11 astronauts will be either their ticket out of quarantine to meet their public — or the key that locks them in isolation for more tests.

Doctors will examine Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin, Jr., the first humans exposed to moon soil, in a search for any indication of disease from the moon.

IF THE TESTS turn up nothing, the astronauts and 20 persons quarantined with them in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory will be released late Sunday or early Monday morning.

If unexplained organisms or serious changes were found in the blood, the 23 in quarantine would remain isolated until the germs are either identified or those exposed are cured. That could mean an indefinite stay in the isolation quarters.

Blood samples will also be taken from the 20 support personnel in the quarantine, but officials have said the astronauts are the true test for any moon microbes taking hold in humans.

Meanwhile, officials at the Manned Spacecraft Center got their first close look at rocks from the moon. Dr. Robert Gilruth, MSC director, and others saw moon rock through the glass of a vacuum viewing area and termed it "fascinating."

Scientists continue to study the moon material in laboratories of the quarantine station. They also are watching the health of germ-free mice that were injected last week with moon dust.

Budget Cut Eliminates Army Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced plans Friday for the immediate inactivation of the 9th Infantry Division, many of whose troops have been returning from Vietnam.

The action is being taken because of budget cuts ordered by the Nixon Administration. The Pentagon estimated savings of $40.4 million in the year which began July 1.

The Division's 2nd Brigade recently returned from Vietnam and is being inactivated at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The 1st Brigade was being pulled back to Hawaii but instead will be eliminated.

The remaining 3rd Brigate will stay in Vietnam but under a new, as yet undetermined, unit designation.

DISMANTLING of the 9th will leave the Army with the equivalent of 19 active duty divisions.

Pentagon spokesmen said the net effect will be to cut over-all Army strength by about 6,000 men, coming in addition to a previously estimated 13,000 man reduction taking place as result of the cutback in Vietnam.

Daniel Z. Henkin, Pentagon spokesman, said the sidelining of the division in no way affects Administration plans for the 25,000-man withdrawal from Vietnam.

The announcement, by Acting Secretary of the Army Thaddeus R. Beal, did not say how long it would take to inactivate the unit but the process will begin immediately.

Fullbright Blasts Pact Tying U.S. to Thailand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright angrily asserted Friday the Nixon Administration is refusing to let the Senate Foreign Relations Committee see documents which he said show a commitment to Thailand that could lead to another Vietnam type war.

Fulbright charged in a Senate speech that the State and Defense Departments are withholding the documents from the committee which he heads.

The Arkansas Democrat also said he has reason to believe that the Defense Department even has refused to let the State Department have a copy.

According to Fulbright, the documents are an agreement between the United States and Thailand providing for U.S. action to be taken in certain circumstances of aggression or threatened aggression against Thailand.

It is designated as a "contingency plan" and was signed by the Prime Minister of Thailand and by the U.S. military assistance advisory group, he told the Senate.

"Out of respect for its top secret classification, I shall not go further, at this time, into its main provisions except to say that it provides, in certain circumstances, for the commitment of substantial numbers of American troops to Thailand," the Senator declared.

"The Secretary of State argues that this plan does not represent any commitment to Thailand beyond that contained in the SEATO treaty.

"From what I have been able to learn of the plan, I believe it does go beyond the SEATO commitment," Fulbright added. "But the best evidence of this issue would be the plan itself, if we could examine it in its totality."

Fulbright said that on July 14 Secretary of State William P. Rogers, in an open hearing, said he would make the plan available.

"Now, he has apparently been overruled by the Department of Defense — another example of the trend toward Defense Department domination of foreign policy.

"Indeed, I have some reason to believe that the Department of State, itself, is not allowed to have a copy of the plan, despite the fact that the plan could very well involve us in another Vietnam-type war."

French Prepare Nuclear Tests

PARIS (AP) — France will resume nuclear weapons tests in the Pacific in the summer of 1970, Defense Ministry sources confirmed Friday. The tests, begun in 1966, were suspended this year under the government's austerity program.

France exploded her first two hydrogen bombs, of one and two megaton force respectively, at a Polynesian site last year. France is not a signatory of the Moscow test ban treaty outlawing nuclear tests in the atmosphere or under water.

Reds Say Zond Mission to Test Rocket System

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia sent an unmanned spacecraft, Zond 7, streaking toward the moon Friday on an undisclosed mission in the latest chapter of the space race with America.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the craft was sent to "further study the moon and near lunar space, to photograph the moon's surface and further the improved onboard systems and spacerocket complex."

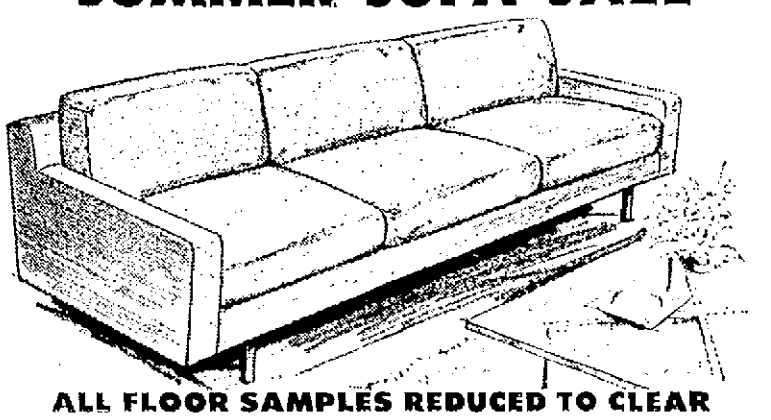

Tass did not indicate whether the mooncraft would return home although its two predecessors, Zonds 5 and 6, soft-landed on earth after looping the moon once. The announcement referred to the spacecraft as an "automatic station," making it clear cosmonauts were not aboard.

Zond 7 was the Soviet's first major space effort since their Luna 15 plummeted into a moon crater only a few hours before the American Apollo 11 astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin blasted off from the lunar surface after their triumphant moonwalk.

The Tass announcement did not indicate if the Zond would attempt an unmanned duplication of the Apollo feat.

"From what I have been able to learn of the plan, I believe it does go beyond the SEATO commitment," Fulbright added. "But the best evidence of this issue would be the plan itself, if we could examine it in its totality."

Fulbright said that on July 14 Secretary of State William P. Rogers, in an open hearing, said he would make the plan available.

"Now, he has apparently been overruled by the Department of Defense — another example of the trend toward Defense Department domination of foreign policy.

"Indeed, I have some reason to believe that the Department of State, itself, is not allowed to have a copy of the plan, despite the fact that the plan could very well involve us in another Vietnam-type war."

French Prepare Nuclear Tests

PARIS (AP) — France will resume nuclear weapons tests in the Pacific in the summer of 1970, Defense Ministry sources confirmed Friday. The tests, begun in 1966, were suspended this year under the government's austerity program.

France exploded her first two hydrogen bombs, of one and two megaton force respectively, at a Polynesian site last year. France is not a signatory of the Moscow test ban treaty outlawing nuclear tests in the atmosphere or under water.

Reds Say Zond Mission to Test Rocket System

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia sent an unmanned spacecraft, Zond 7, streaking toward the moon Friday on an undisclosed mission in the latest chapter of the space race with America.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the craft was sent to "further study the moon and near lunar space, to photograph the moon's surface and further the improved onboard systems and space-rocket complex."

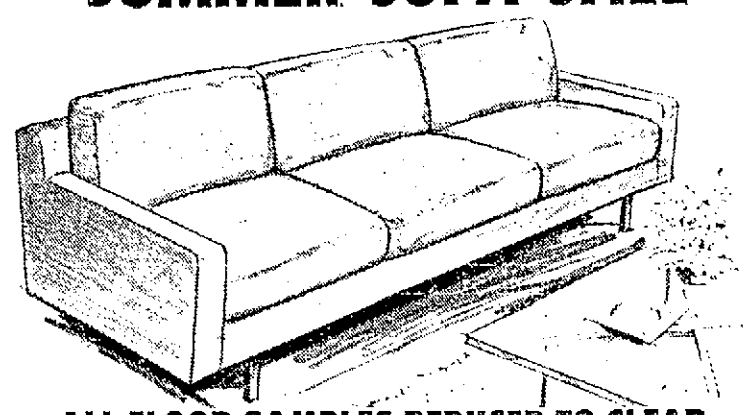

Tass did not indicate whether the mooncraft would return home although its two predecessors, Zonds 5 and 6, soft-landed on earth after looping the moon once. The announcement referred to the spacecraft as an "automatic station," making it clear cosmonauts were not aboard.

Zond 7 was the Soviet's first major space effort since their Luna 15 plummeted into a moon crater only a few hours before the American Apollo 11 astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin blasted off from the lunar surface after their triumphant moonwalk.

The Tass announcement did not indicate if the Zond would attempt an unmanned duplication of the Apollo feat.

REOPENED KENNEDY CASE

Dinis - Loner Willing To Fight Own Party

New York Times Service

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — As a political loner who built a career out of playing devil's advocate to local party bosses, Edmund Dinis now finds himself cast in a national role with his request — which was granted — for an inquest in the fatal automobile accident involving Sen. Edward M. Kennedy on July 18.

Dinis, who is district attorney for southeastern Massachusetts, waited for two weeks before making his move, then applied to the state Superior Court, instead of the district courts, for an inquest. He was rebuked by Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro of the Superior Court, who pointed out that the law "clearly" showed the jurisdiction to lie in the district courts.

Dinis suggested that the law was ambiguous. But among the few who are considered close to him, some said that Dinis (pronounced Din-eese) was probably expressing his contempt for the district court system.

HE ONCE SAID that the Massachusetts district and probate courts "are among the most corrupt systems in the world, because the judges have such absolute power."

In a brief interview in his law office the other day, he said, "I am controversial, and I have been ever since I entered politics 20 years ago. Sometimes I may have been wrong, but at least I have gone along doing what I thought was right."

Edmund Dinis was born Oct. 4, 1924, at St. Michael in the Azores. He has in his office, among scrimshaw and other mementoes of seafaring ancestors, a glass-encased model of a sailing dory, similar to one used by his grandfather, a whale hunter. Dinis's father, Jacinto, sat in the Massachusetts House of Representatives more than 20 years ago. The son succeeded to the seat in 1953 after his father's death.

Later that year, Dinis was denouncing the "boss-minded knaves and culprits" leading the Democratic party, who he said were "star chamber coatholders."

DURING 10 YEARS in the Legislature, including a period in the Senate, he studied law at night at Suffolk University.

Dinis is considered a handsome man who dresses well and stands erect. He is just under six feet tall, stockily built. He played football in high school but left before graduation to enter the Army. He served in World War II Army intelligence as a French interpreter.

Along the way since, Dinis has acquired an insurance agency and a law practice and only within the last year acquired a restaurant.

In a state where ethnic considerations still run strong, Dinis as district attorney holds the highest office ever attained in Massachusetts by a Portugese-American. He has always run well among voters of his extraction in southeastern Massachusetts.

But aside from one stretch as a city councilor, he has been unsuccessful in tries for mayor of New Bedford because of greater Irish and Yankee voting strength.

FOR YEARS Dinis has battled with the New Bedford Standard Times, a daily newspaper of Republican leanings, which has both scolded and commended him on occasion. He no longer speaks to most of its editors and staff.

The other day, as Dinis was talking with two acquaintances outside a drugstore, a Standard Times editor said he happened by as the district attorney was saying: "The doctor is a goddam liar, in fact, almost as big a liar as some newspapermen I know."

At that, the editor quipped: "Or some DA's we all know."

Dinis turned and said: "But I have to run for re-election; you don't."

INQUEST SET IN DEATH OF MARY JO

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — District Judge James A. Boyle Friday set Sept. 3 as the date for an inquest into the fatal auto wreck involving Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Boyle, who said he will preside at the judicial review, announced his decision after meeting briefly with Dist. Atty. Edmund S. Dinis.

The inquest was ordered to establish a legal cause for the death of Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, of Washington.

Dinis said he plans to call about 15 witnesses to the inquest which will be open to accredited members of the press, but closed to the general public.

Senators Hit Cost of Supertank

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senators critical of Pentagon spending staged a day-long talkathon Friday which ended with a compromise on a sophisticated new super tank, which they said was prohibitively expensive.

Critics voluntarily withdrew their amendment to cut off funding authority for a new Army tank — the MBT-70—when the Senate Armed Services Committee agreed to submit the issue to a congressional audit.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee — trying to move the procurement bill along -agreed to write a letter to the General Accounting Office (GAO) asking for an advisory opinion on whether the tank had become prohibitively expensive, as its opponents claim.

In exchange, Eagleton and other MBT.70 critics agreed not to press their amendment — at least until the defense appropriations bill comes to the floor later in the year.

Stennis warned, however, that the decision would in no way establish a precedent for resolving disputes about defense spending.

Subdued Kennedy Chairs Hearing on Minority Hiring

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In an informal setting devoid of speeches, press releases and television cameras, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., presided at a Senate subcommittee hearing Friday for the first time since his July 18 auto accident.

Kennedy even avoided a raised, half-moon podium at which subcommittee members usually sit, looking down at the witnesses they interrogate. Instead, he sat at a U-shaped table with witnesses only a few feet away.

The hearing before Kennedy's Administrative Practices and Procedures subcommittee was called to question federal agencies with installations in Alaska about their programs to hire more Alaskan natives.

Kennedy politely told them, one after another, that they should use more energy and more imagination so the government can set an example in minority hiring.

Kennedy's staff gave Friday's hearing no advance buildup. Fewer than five reporters showed up. Unlike most Congressional hearings, there were no press releases, or proclamations by the chairman. The committee staff said it did not even have a witness list.

When the same subcommittee held hearings earlier this year, the committee room was filled with spectators, television lights glared and Kennedy got into widely publicized debate with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen about the government's role in promoting minority employment.

Driver Sways Judge With Naked Truth

WAUKESHA, Wis. (UPI) — Charges against an 18-year-old driver arrested by Menomonee Falls police for repeatedly veering over the center line were dismissed here Thursday.

Price County Judge Carl E. Bjork, sitting in Waukesha County Court, said the erratic driving was understandable under the circumstances.

The boy had a nude 16-year-old girl as a passenger, according to Sgt. Terry O. Couillard of the Menomonee Falls Police Department, who stopped the auto Wednesday.

Charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor were dropped after the boy explained the girl — his fiancee — "surprised" him in his car when he finished work as a grocery clerk early that morning. He said he was taking her home.

The girl gave no explanation, police said.

TWO 68-YARD BOMBS BY MORTON

87,381 See Rams Fight Off Cowboys, 24-17

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

The NFL's little universe hasn't changed — the experts are fabbing the Rams and Dallas to meet Jan. 4 for the championship.

The Rams, embarrassed with their worst setback in the George Allen era a year ago by the Cowboys, gained a measure of revenge by striking for 17 points in the third quarter en route to an opening 24-17 pre-season triumph before a shirt-sleeved mob of 87,381 Friday night at the Coliseum.

Spurred on by the largest Ram home crowd since 1959, Roman Gabriel and Wendell Tucker combined on a spectacular 5-yard touchdown bomb to stretch their lead to 17-3 with 1:37 remaining in the third period.

	Cowboys	Rams
First downs	10	13
Rushing yardage	55	93
Passing yardage	227	194
Return yardage	33	91
Passes	11-23-1	13-22-0
Punts	8-37	7-38
Fumbles lost	1	0
Yards penalized	138	172

One minute, 4 seconds later an explosion from the partisan fans matched the halftime fireworks when rookie Mide Foote from Oregon State blocked Ron Widby's punt and Willie Daniel fell on the bounding ball in the end zone for six points to apparently turn the game into a rout.

But Craig Morton, who stands alone now that Don Meredith has retired, clicked on a pair of 68-yard touchdown passes to Bob Hayes and Lance Rentzel with 9:04 remaining to put the Cowboys within one touchdown of a tie. The crowd watched anxiously as the Ram pass defense stiffened and repulsed the Texans three successive series without getting closer than the Ram 42-yard line. But it wasn't until the final series when Morton failed on four aerials that the crowd could breath easily.

Each team had a touchdown rubbed off the board. Trailing 7-0 in the second quarter, Morton threw a pass intended for Pettis Norman. The Cowboy receiver tipped the ball, and running back George Nordgren raced under it and continued on to a 58-yeard dash. Officials ruled two offensive players can not field a pass, and the score was nullified.

In the third quarter Ron Smith's 70-yard TD punt return was in vain when officials flagged Foote on a clipping penalty. It was on the next play that Gabriel unleashed his pass to Tucker, who made the grab on the Dallas 49 and easily outdistanced defenders Cornell Green and Mel Renfro.

Bruce Gossett, who missed field goal attempts of 44, 36 and 42 yards, matched his previous longest kick of 49 yards in the third quarter. The Cowboys' Clark countered with a 45-yard fielder.

After failing to pick up a first down in the first quarter, the Rams generated a 76-yard drive and finally broke on top when Gabriel passed eight yards to Jack Snow, who skidded out of the end zone with the ball.

When the Rams left the field at halftime leading 10-3, fans couldn't help but think back one year ago when the Cowboys enjoyed a 35-10 margin at intermission.

With the preliminaries out of the way, football buffs will look ahead to Nov. 23 for the rematch in league play.

Allen said afterward: "It's like the last three years, a real team win. I thought Ron Smith's punt return was a big factor, and that Jimmy Nettles did

Singer Serves Up Stinger to Leo's Protesting Cubs

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

The last time the Dodgers ran into Leo Durocher and his ferocious little Cubbies the stormy manager decided to duck a couple of games, phoned in sick and, as it was learned later, spent the weekend enjoying some Wisconsin greenery.

It didn't go unnoticed, as you might have read, and a number of people were upset, including the Cubs' boss, P. K. Wrigley.

Leo wasted little time making his presence known in Friday night's series opener at Dodger Stadium.

Not only did Durocher protest the game because of an umpire's call, but he raced to the plate to bust up an altercation between his catcher, Randy Hundley, and the Dodgers' Willie Davis.

It really didn't matter, though, since Bill Singer was breezing along to a two-hit, 5-0 whiffer over the Cubs to give the Dodgers their third win in a row.

Durocher's peacemaking gesture came in the third inning when Ferguson Jenkins, who lost to the Dodgers for the third time in two weeks, placed a pitch a trifle close to Willie's chin.

Davis, who was beaned less than a month ago by the Giants' Juan Marichal, glared at Jenkins. Then Hundley got into it, and words were exchanged.

Enter Leo.

The Cubs skipper had some words with Hundley, and then a word or two with Willie. Then Davis had some words for both of them.

"Ah, you know Leo," Willie said, smiling now when asked about the exchange. "He just said they weren't throwing at me and I said I knew it."

Hundley said Willie hinted the Dodgers would do the same thing, to which the Cub catcher replied, "Bring it on, bring it on."

Intentionally or not, Singer, whose ERA dipped another notch or two to 1.30, sent Hundley sprawling on his pants pockets the next time he appeared at the plate.

It was a delight for Singer to see the Dodgers chase Jenkins with a nine-hit spree. The big Dodger righthander hadn't managed a win since the All-Star break, although he allowed only three earned runs in 24-1-3 innings.

"You bet I was tickled to see us get some runs," Bill smiled after the win, the second shutout in as many nights. Singer and Claude Osteen, who teamed on the back - to - back zeros, also pitched consecutive shutouts against the Reds earlier in the season.

Singer didn't allow the Cubs so much as a hit until Don Kessinger lined a clean single to right in the sixth. Jim Qualls got the other hit, a single in the eighth.

The Dodgers shoved over two runs in the second inning when Bill Sudakis singled home one and Jenkins wild pitched across the other.

INJURY FORCES BIG D TO ASK FOR RELEASE

Don Drysdale, proud warrior of the Dodgers' pitching staff, may be through with baseball.

He reportedly has asked the club's executive vice-president, Peter O'Malley, to scratch him from the active roster.

Big D, last of the old Brooklyn Dodgers, talked with O'Malley after Thursday's game and again Friday.

"I've decided to ask to be removed from the active roster," Big D announced dejectedly before Friday's game.

"The shoulder isn't coming around, I don't want any more of the disabled list. I'm going to ask Peter O'Malley to take my name off the active roster and bring in someone who can help the club."

The big righthander, who's been through it all in his 14 years with the Dodgers, has pitched only briefly since injuring the shoulder while chasing an overthrow and falling into a dugout in Houston.

He spent a month on the disabled list, but in his last two starts, last week in St. Louis and earlier this week at Dodger Stadium, the pain persisted.

"It's so bad I can't even sleep," he said. "I just can't help the club, and that's why I made the decision."

O'Malley acknowledged that Drysdale had talked with him Thursday.

"I told him to go home, talk to Ginger and then let me know something," the personable Dodger boss said of Thursday's meeting.

Dr. Frank Jobe gave Drysdale a thorough going-over after his latest outing against the Pirates and prescribed complete rest. No medicine, no painkillers, just rest.

Big D, the guy who hurled an amazing 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings last year and won more than 200 games over the years for the Dodgers, decided against the disabled list and reportedly asked to be taken off the active roster.—By Gordon Verrell

Angel Arsenal Turns Loose Flamethrower

By DON MERRY
Staff Writer

BOSTON — Marv Grissom, the Angels' gray-thatched pitching coach, considers Ken Tatum's fastball to be one of the liveliest in the American League.

Grissom could be accused of being prejudiced in the matter. But the Boston Red Sox stood ready to second Grissom's motion after the rookie reliefer authored three perfect innings here Friday night.

His short but stingy stint was not without its rewards because Aurelio Rodriguez doubled home two runs in the ninth inning as the Angels pulled out a 7-6 victory before a motley turnout of 28,608.

It was Tatum's first look at friendly Fenway's great wall, the green monster that rises ominously in short leftfield. Hitters eye it lovingly. Pitchers cringe.

On this night, Tatum did not cower.

"I wasn't too concerned about the wall," he confessed while accepting accolades for his fifth victory in six decisions since being called up from El Paso in June. "Actually, I was more concerned about guys like Carl Yastrezemski and Reggie Smith.

"I pitched in El Paso and the dimensions there are short, too." Tatum said in explaining his disdain for the wall.

Tatum, who entered the game with a 1.80 ERA, preferred to attribute his success to the fact it was the first time he had faced the free-swinging Red Sox.

"I'm primarily a fastball pitcher," he said. "In fact, I threw about 90 per cent fastballs tonight. So, I think that gave me an advantage. They knew I was fast but they didn't know just how fast."

Now Boston does.

For awhile, it appeared as if the Angels were playing giveaway again. They staked themselves to an early 5-1 lead only to see the Red Sox score twice after two were out in the fifth to assume a 6-5 advantage. That's where matters stood until the Angels kicked up their heels in the ninth and stole the game back.

TWO 68-YARD BOMBS BY MORTON

87,381 See Rams Fight Off Cowboys, 24-17

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

The NFL's little universe hasn't changed — the experts are tabbing the Rams and Dallas to meet Jan. 4 for the championship.

The Rams, embarrassed with their worst setback in the George Allen era a year ago by the Cowboys, gained a measure of revenge by striking for 17 points in the third quarter en route to an opening 24-17 pre-season triumph before a shirt-sleeved mob of 87,381 Friday night at the Coliseum.

Spurred on by the largest Ram home crowd since 1959, Roman Gabriel and Wendell Tucker combined on a spectacular 5-yard-touchdown bomb to stretch their lead to 17-3 with 1:37

	Cowboys	Rams
First downs	15	13
Rushing yardage	75	93
Passing yardage	227	194
Return yardage	43	91
Passes	11-25-1	15-32-0
Punts	5-37	7-39
Fumbles lost	1	0

remaining in the third period.

One minute, 4 seconds later an explosion from the partisan fans matched the halftime fireworks when rookie Mide Foote from Oregon State blocked Ron Widby's punt and Willie Daniel fell on the bounding ball in the end zone for six points to apparently turn the game into a rout.

But Craig Morton, who stands alone now that Don Meredith has retired, clicked on a pair of 68-yard touchdown passes to Bob Hayes and Lance Rentzel with 9:04 remaining to put the Cowboys within one touchdown of a tie. The crowd watched anxiously as the Ram pass defense stiffened and repulsed the Texans three successive series without getting closer than the Ram 42-yard line. But it wasn't until the final series when Morton failed on four aerials that the crowd could breath easily.

Each team had a touchdown rubbed off the board. Trailing 7-0 in the second quarter, Morton threw a pass intended for Pettis Norman. The Cowboy receiver tipped the ball, and running back George Nordgren raced under it and continued on to a 58-yard dash. Officials ruled two offensive players can not field a pass, and the score was nullified.

In the third quarter Ron Smith's 70-yard TD punt return was in vain when officials flagged Foote on a clipping penalty. It was on the next play that Gabriel unleashed his pass to Tucker, who made the grab on the Dallas 49 and easily outdistanced defenders Cornell Green and Mel Renfro.

Bruce Gossett, who missed field goal attempts of 44, 36 and 42 yards, matched his previous longest kick of 49 yards in the third quarter. The Cowboys' Clark countered with a 45-yard fielder.

After failing to pick up a first down in the first quarter, the Rams generated a 76-yard drive and finally broke on top when Gabriel passed eight yards to Jack Snow, who skidded out of the end zone with the ball.

When the Rams left the field at halftime leading 10-3, fans couldn't help but think back one year ago when the Cowboys enjoyed a 35-10 margin at intermission.

With the preliminaries out of the way, football buffs will look ahead to Nov. 23 for the rematch in league play.

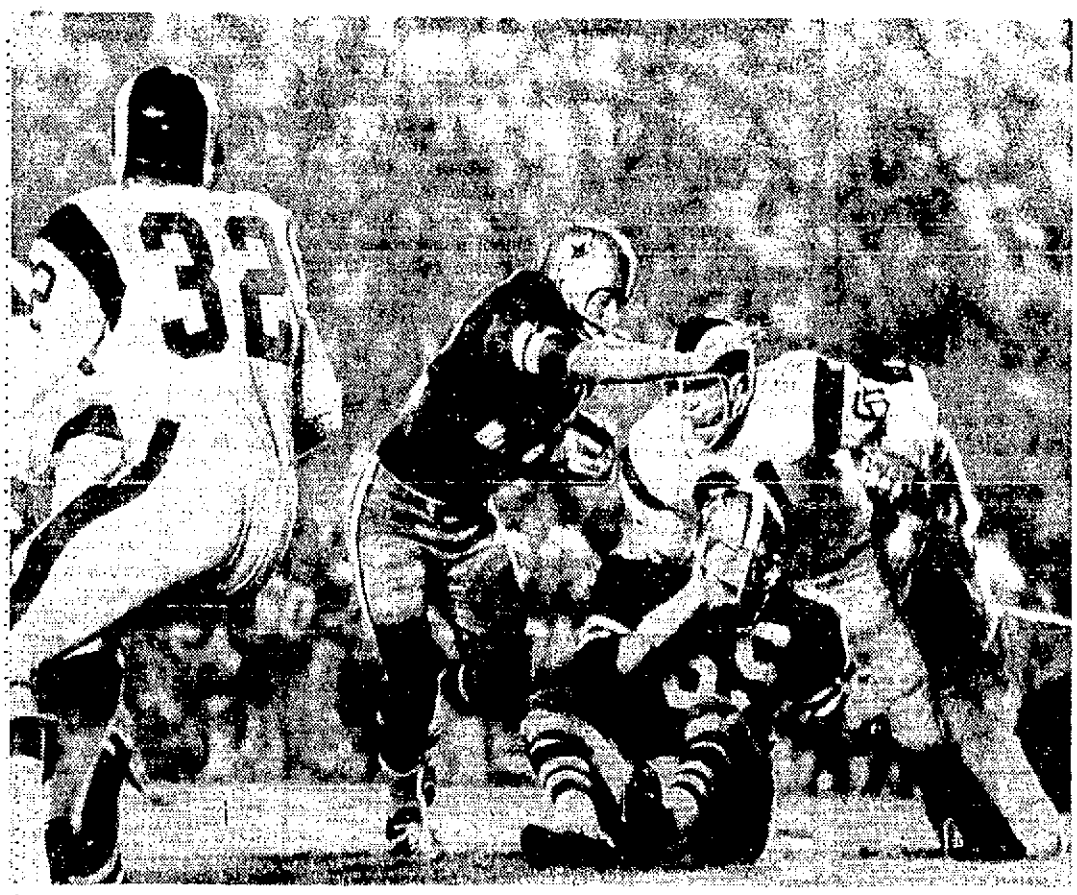

Allen said afterward: "It's like the last three years, a real team win. I thought Ron Smith's punt return was a big factor, and that Jimmy Nettles did

Singer Serves Up Stinger to Leo's Protesting Cubs

Staff Writer

The last time the Dodgers ran into Leo Durocher and his ferocious little Cubbies the stormy manager decided to duck a couple of games, phoned in sick and, as it was learned later, spent the weekend enjoying some Wisconsin greenery.

It didn't go unnoticed, as you might have read, and a number of people were upset, including the Cubs' boss, P. K. Wrigley.

Leo wasted little time making his presence known in Friday night's series opener at Dodger Stadium.

Not only did Durocher protest the game because of an umpire's call, but he raced to the plate to bust up an altercation between his catcher, Randy Hundley, and the Dodgers' Willie Davis.

It really didn't matter, though, since Bill Singer was breezing along to a two-hit, 5-0 whiffer over the Cubs to give the Dodgers their third win in a row.

Durocher's peacemaking gesture came in the third inning when Ferguson Jenkins, who lost to the Dodgers for the third time in two weeks, placed a pitch a trifle close to Willie's chin.

Davis, who was beaned less than a month ago by the Giants' Juan Marichal, glared at Jenkins. Then Hundley got into it, and words were exchanged.

Enter Leo.

The Cubs skipper had some words with Hundley, and then a word or two with Willie. Then Davis had some words for both of them.

"Ah, you know Leo," Willie said, smiling now when asked about the exchange. "He just said they weren't throwing at me and I said I knew it."

Hundley said Willie hinted the Dodgers would do the same thing, to which the Cub catcher replied, "Bring it on, bring it on."

Intentionally or not, Singer, whose ERA dipped another notch or two to 1.30, sent Hundley sprawling on his pants pockets the next time he appeared at the plate.

It was a delight for Singer to see the Dodgers chase Jenkins with a nine-hit spree. The big Dodger righthander hadn't managed a win since the All-Star break, although he allowed only three earned runs in 24-1-3 innings.

"You bet I was tickled to see us get some runs," Bill smiled after the win, the second shutout in as many nights. Singer and Claude Osteen, who teamed on the back-to-back zeros, also pitched consecutive shutouts against the Reds earlier in the season.

Singer didn't allow the Cubs so much as a hit until Don Kessinger lined a clean single to right in the sixth. Jim Qualls got the other hit, a single in the eighth.

The Dodgers shoved over two runs in the second inning when Bill Sudakis singled home one and Jenkins wild pitched across the other.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Dave Johnson's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded scored Frank Robinson from third base to climax a four-run ninth inning rally as the Baltimore Orioles upended the Minnesota Twins 6-5 Friday night.

Singles by Andy Etchebarren and Don Buford plus a walk to Paul Blair, all off Al Worthington, set the stage for Frank Robinson's ninth-inning heroics. His bases-loaded single off Ron Perranoski scored Etchebarren and Buford to make the score 5-4.

Boog Powell's single scored Blair with the tying run, and after Brooks Robinson was intentionallly walked, Johnson lined his game-winning fly ball to Tony Oliva in the right field.

Blair's 23rd home run, an inside-the-park blast, gave Baltimore a 1-0 lead in the first inning and Brooks Robinson rapped a solo homer, his 19th in the eight inning.

ANGEL HAS HIS SIGNALS CROSSED
Jim Fregosi (11) is known as the master joker on Angels. Whether he's giving sliding Bill Voss the "stand-up" sign here or just raising arms in happiness isn't known, but Voss scored past Red Sox catcher Jerry Moses in third inning Friday as Angels won, 7-6. —AP Wirephoto more in the third. Willie Crawford scored all the way from first on Davis' single and an overthrow by Glenn Beckert.

DODGERS---

This is what brought the protest from Leo.

"The same thing happened to us at home against the Giants in July," Leo explained. "Only that time they (the umps) made our runner stay at third. It was the same play exactly only the ball was hit to the shortstop rather than second base. This time they let Crawford score and that's why I protested."

The Dodgers got a second run in the inning when Tommy Haller singled to left, Davis slamming into Hundley at the plate for the run and, maybe, a little personal revenge as well.

Singer breezed behind the four-run cushion and notched his 14th win in 21 decisions, the most games he's ever won in the majors.

"Sure I was going for it," Singer smiled when the subject of the no-hitter came up. "But the main thing was to beat the Cubs."

DODGER DOINGS: It took less than three innings for stormy Leo Durocher to make his entrance. Leo objected to a third-inning ruling by the umps that let Willie Crawford score from first base on a single and on overthrow. Leo wound up playing the game under protest . . . By the way, Leo lunched Friday with his old chum, Frank Sinatra . . . Maury Wills is the Dodgers' player of the month for July and Maury picks up some threads at Mort Wollin's. Wills batted .333 during the month (39 for 117), scored 17 runs and drove in 13. What's more he had two home runs. . . .

Bill Sudakis and Willie Davis extended their hitting streaks Friday. Sudsy has now hit safely in nine games in a row, Willie D. in seven consecutive games. Tonight the Hollywood Stars meet the Sportwriters Sportcasters in a 6:30 preliminary. . . .

Pitching tonight for the Dodgers will be Alan Foster (3-6) taking Don Drysdale's spot in the regular rotation. . . the Cubs' starter will be Bill Hands (13-8) . . . Sunday Don Sutton opposes either Ken Holtzman or Dick Selma.

Cardinals Stop S.F. on 6 Hits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Chuck Taylor retired 19 of the last 21 batters he faced and wound up with a six-hitter Friday night to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

In recording his fourth win against one defeat, Taylor who was put into the starting rotation only three weeks ago, gave up three hits — one Willie McCovey's 35th home run — over the last eight innings.

Taylor struck out six and walked only one and outside of the run-scoring innings was never in trouble.

ANGELS---

center and the Angels finally savored their initial win of the season at Fenway.

Run scoring singles by Bill Voss and Sandy Alomar sent the Angels into a 2-1 lead in the second after Dick Schofield's triple and Yastrzemski's grounder gave the Bosox a run in the first inning.

The Angels chased Boston starter Sonny Siebert in the third with a three-run uprising. Singles by Rick Reichardt and Fregosi put the Angels in motion and Voss sent one run across with a single to right. When Siebert hit Rodriguez with a pitch, Boston manager Dick Williams summoned . Bill Landis from the bullpen. Tom Egan provided a noisy welcome by slamming his first pitch for a two-run single to left.

They caught and passed the Angels in the fifth. With two out, Yastrezemski slammed one of Andy Messersmith's offerings into the leftfield screen for his 30th homer of the year. Smith followed with a single to chase Messersmith.

ANGEL ANGELS: Jim McGlothlin, winless since June 3, draws Boston bellwether Ray Culp for a mound rival in today's matinee affair . . . McGlothlin is 0-2 against the Red Sox this season but still holds a 4-3 lifetime advantage . . . Culp has never been defeated by the Anaheims, sporting a 1-0 mark this season and 3-0 overall . . . pitching matchup in Sunday's finale will find Tom Murphy (6-11) going against the noted skiier Jim Lonborg (7-4) . . . The Red Sox were minus the heart of their infield Friday . . second baseman Mike Andrews was nursing a sore foot and shortstop Rico Petrocelli was sidelined with a muscle pull in his lower back . . . Both have enjoyed marked success against the Angels this season . . . Andrews was feasting on California pitching to the tune of a .441 average to accompany 9 RBI while Petrocelli had accounted for four of the 10 Red Sox homers against the Angels.

Reds Crack 5 Homers, Rout Phils

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds slugged five home runs en route to a 12-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night and regained their hold on first place in the National League's Western Division.

Lee May, Johnny Bench, Pete Rose, Ted Savage and Alex Johnson each homered for the Reds in support of Jack Fisher, who blanked the Phillies without a hit for the last four innings.

The Reds trailed 5-2 when Rose doubled off Grant Jackson to touch off a five-run sixth inning.

A homer by Rose, his 13th of the season, touched off a five-run seventh inning which sent Mike Raffo to the showers.

Veale Has Easy Time as Pirates Top San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Manny Sanguillen, on a torrid hitting streak, hit a single, double and triple Friday night, helping Pittsburgh to a 7-1 victory over slump-ridden San Diego.

Sanguillen, who was 13 hits in 26 at bats in his last six games, figured in three rallies to help Pirate left-hander Bob Veale gain his seventh victory against 11 defeats.

Veale gave up 11 hits and lost a shutout in the seventh inning when John Sipin doubled, took third on a single by Tommy Dean and scored on a throwing error by left fielder Willie Stargell.

The Lakewood Falcons, champions of the Southern California Amateur Softball Assn., will host South Gate in the season's windup, a double-header at Mayfair Park tonight at 7:30.

Both teams are preparing for the Regional tournament beginning Saturday, Aug. 16.

Doormat Bills Stun Washington, 21-17

BUFFALO (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, doormats of the American Football League last season, stunned Vince Lombardi's Washington Redskins 21-17 Friday night in an exhibition game with a lot of help from the smallest player on the field, Max Anderson.

	Redskins	Bills
First downs	11	20
Rushing yardage	70	150
Passing yardage	137	135
Passes	11-22-0	14-25-1
Fumbles lost	2	1
Yards penalized	29	65
Punts	5-33	5-43

Anderson cut, weaved and sneaked through the Washington line and secondary most of the night and set up the Bills' game-winning touchdown with a 25-yard pass reception from Tom Flores at the Redskins' one-yard line.

The touchdown came on a six-yard pass from Flores to Haven Moses after the Bills had been penalized five yards for illegal procedure.

Anderson carried the ball 10 times for 59 yards, including four runs of eight yards each in the first period that led to Buffalo's initial touchdown:

Buffalo struck fast, getting its first six-pointer on Jack Kemp's nine-yard pass to Bill Masters.

The other touchdown came on Anderson's 11-yard run in the third period.

Washington scored only three points in the first half, on Charley Gogolak's 21-yard field goal, as Buffalo's defense contained the NFL gridders.

After the intermission, veteran quarterback Sonny Jurgensen rallied Washington with a pair of touchdown passes. He hit Pat Richter with a 12-yarder and Jerry Smith from 19 yards out.

Flores, who called signals for Buffalo in the second half, connected on nine passes in 13 tries for 135 yards.

The victory was Buffalo's first in two pre-season games and Washington's first loss after a victory.

HIM OR ME—RICH ALLEN

CINCINNATI (AP) — Controversial Richie Allen asserted Friday night that his former manager, Bob Skinner, was not "man enough" to come to him with anything and said that Skinner is using him as a scapegoat.

"That's just an alibi," Allen said before the Philadelphia Phillies game with Cincinnati as he pointed to a newspaper with a headline reading, "Skinner quits because of Allen."

"I resent being made a scapegoat in another managerial move by the Phillies," he continued regarding Skinner's resignation as manager Thursday.

Skinner, replaced by George Myatt, said he quit because Philadelphia management would not support him in attempts to handle Allen.

"It boiled down to him (Skinner) or me. He didn't have to go," Allen said. "I would have gone."

Allen said that he respected Skinner as a man, but Skinner had not proved himself as a manager.

"He can't put all the blame on me. He can't blame me for a 44-64 record."

Allen denied that he had been reimbursed for some fine money from owner Robert Carpenter for being awol from the team a few weeks back.

"I have never seen a cent of that fine money." Allen said. "I don't know where it goes. They say I have a direct line to the front office. They say I call my own shots. How can they say that when all I want to do is get the hell out of Philadelphia?"

a fine job on Hayes except for that one play." Nettles, the newly-acquired defensive back from Philadelphia, received the game ball.

Allen also singled out Clancy Williams for his coverage on Rentzel. Clancy had to leave the game with an injured right arm in the final quarter. X-rays indicated it was badly bruised.

Allen admitted the blocked punt, part of the Rams' arsenal the past three years, was a planned play. "We put eight men on the line."

Morton said: "We showed we can come back. If I could have hit Hayes on the next to last series, it would have been a different outcome."

The former Cal quarterback explained he tried to do a lot of different things "but the next time we meet it will be different. I know now what I can and can't do against them."

The Rams were jolted just before the kickoff when commissioner Pete Rozelle ruled that Alvin Haymond would not he able to play.

Tigers Chisox Tamers

CHICAGO (AP) — Three-run homers by Willie Horton in the first inning of the opener and by Tom Tresh in the eighth inning of the nightcap spurred the Detroit Tigers to 7-3, 9-7 victories over the Chicago White Sox Friday in a twi-night doubleheader.

Tresh's eighth homer capped a four-run rally that wiped out a 7-5 Chicago lead.

Singles by Mickey Stanley, Bill Freehan and Don Wert preceeded Tresh's winning blow.

Orioles Rally in 9th, 6-5

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Dave Johnson's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded scored Frank Robinson from third base to climax a four-run ninth inning rally as the Baltimore Orioles upended the Minnesota Twins 6-5 Friday night.

Singles by Andy Etchebarren and Don Buford plus a walk to Paul Blair, all off Al Worthington, set the stage for Frank Robinson's ninth-inning heroics. His bases-loaded single off Ron Perranoski scored Etchebarren and Buford to make the score 5-4.

Boog Powell's single scored Blair with the tying run, and after Brooks Robinson was intentionallly walked, Johnson lined his game-winning fly ball to Tony Oliva in the right field.

Blair's 23rd home run, an inside-the-park blast, gave Baltimore a 1-0 lead in the first inning and Brooks Robinson rapped a solo homer, his 19th in the eight inning.

DODGERS—

more in the third. Willie Crawford scored all the way from first on Davis' single and an overthrow by Glenn Beckert.

This is what brought the protest from Leo.

"The same thing happened to us at home against the Giants in July," Leo explained. "Only that time they (the umps) made our runner stay at third. It was the same play exactly only the ball was hit to the shortstop rather than second base. This time they let Crawford score and that's why I protested."

The Dodgers got a second run in the inning when Tommy Haller singled to left, Davis slamming into Hundley at the plate for the run and, maybe, a little personal revenge as well.

Singer breezed behind the four-run cushion and notched his 14th win in 21 decisions, the most games he's ever won in the majors.

"Sure I was going for it," Singer smiled when the subject of the no-hitter came up. "But the main thing was to beat the Cubs."

DODGER DOINGS: It took less than three innings for stormy Leo Durocher to make his entrance. Leo objected to a third-inning ruling by the umps that let Willie Crawford score from first base on a single and an overthrow. Leo wound up playing the game under protest . . .By the way, Leo lunched Friday with his old chum, Frank Sinatra . . . Maury Wills is the Dodgers' player of the month for July and Maury picks up some threads at Mort Wallin's. Wills batted .333 during the month (37 for 117), scored 17 runs and drove in 13. What's more he had two home runs. . . .

Bill Sudakis and Willie Davis extended their hitting streaks Friday. Sudsy has now hit safely in nine games in a row, Willie D. in seven consecutive games. Tonight the Hollywood Stars meet the Sportwriters Sportcasters in a 6:30 preliminary. . . .

Pitching tonight for the Dodgers will be Alan Foster (3-6) taking Don Drysdale's spot in the regular rotation. . . .the Cubs' starter will be Bill Hands (13-8) . . . .Sunday Don Sutton opposes either Ken Holtzmen or Dick Selma.

Cardinals Stop S.F. on 6 Hits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Chuck Taylor retired 19 of the last 21 batters he faced and wound up with a six-hitter Friday night to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

In recording his fourth win against one defeat, Taylor who was put into the starting rotation only three weeks ago, gave up three hits — one Willie McCovey's 35th home run — over the last eight innings.

Taylor struck out six and walked only one and outside of the run-scoring innings was never in trouble.

ANGELS—

center and the Angels finally savored their initial win of the season at Fenway.

Run scoring singles by Bill Voss and Sandy Alomar sent the Angels into a 2-1 lead in the second after Dick Schofield's triple and Yastrzemski's grounder gave the Bosox a run in the first inning.

The Angels chased Boston starter Sonny Siebert in the third with a three-run uprising. Singles by Rick Reichardt and Fregosi put the Angels in motion and Voss sent one run across with a single to right. When Siebert hit Rodriguez with a pitch, Boston manager Dick Williams summoned Bill Landis from the bullpen. Tom Egan provided a noisy welcome by slamming his first pitch for a two-run single to left.

They caught and passed the Angels in the fifth. With two out, Yastrezemski slammed one of Andy Messersmith's offerings into the leftfield screen for his 30th homer of the year. Smith followed with a single to chase Messersmith.

ANGEL ANGELS: Jim McGlothlin, winless since June 8, draws Boston bellwether Ray Culp for a mound rival in today's matinee affair . . . McGlothlin is 0-2 against the Red Sox this season but still holds a 4-3 lifetime advantage . . . Culp has never been defeated by the Anaheims, sporting a 1-0 mark this season and 3-0 overall . . . pitching matchup in Sunday's finale will find Tom Murphy (6-11) going against the noted skiier Jim Lonborg (7-4) . . . The Red Sox were minus the heart of their infield Friday . . second baseman Mike Andrews was nursing a sore foot and shortstop Rico Petrocelli was sidelined with a muscle pull in his lower back . . . Both have enjoyed marked success against the Angels this season . . . Andrews was feasting on California pitching to the tune of a .441 average to accompany 9 RBI while Petrocelli had accounted for four of the 10 Red Sox homers against the Angels.

Reds Crack 5 Homers, Rout Phils

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds slugged five home runs en route to a 12-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night and regained their hold on first place in the National League's Western Division.

Lee May, Johnny Bench, Pete Rose, Ted Savage and Alex Johnson each homered for the Reds in support of Jack Fisher, who blanked the Phillies without a hit for the last four innings.

The Reds trailed 5-2 when Rose doubled off Grant Jackson to touch off a five-run sixth inning.

A homer by Rose, his 13th of the season, touched off a five-run seventh inning which sent Mike Raffo to the showers.

Veale Has Easy Time as Pirates Top San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Manny Sanguillen, on a torrid hitting streak, hit a single, double and triple Friday night, helping Pittsburgh to a 7-1 victory over slump-ridden San Diego.

Sanguillen, who was 13 hits in 26 at bats in his last six games, figured in three rallies to help Pirate left-hander Bob Veale gain his seventh victory against 11 defeats.

Veale gave up 11 hits and lost a shutout in the seventh inning when John Sipin doubled, took third on a single by Tommy Dean and scored on a throwing error by left fielder Willie Stargell.

Lakewood Falcons Tackle South Gate

The Lakewood Falcons, champions of the Southern California Amateur Softball Assn., will host South Gate in the season's windup, a double-header at Mayfair Park tonight at 7:30.

Both teams are preparing for the Regional tournament beginning Saturday, Aug. 16.

HIM OR ME— RICH ALLEN

CINCINNATI (AP) — Controversial Richie Allen asserted Friday night that his former manager, Bob Skinner, was not "man enough" to come to him with anything and said that Skinner is using him as a scapegoat.

"That's just an alibi," Allen said before the Philadelphia Phillies game with Cincinnati as he pointed to a newspaper with a headline reading, "Skinner quits because of Allen."

"I resent being made a scapegoat in another managerial move by the Phillies," he continued regarding Skinner's resignation as manager Thursday.

Skinner, replaced by George Myatt, said he quit because Philadelphia management would not support him in attempts to handle Allen.

"It boiled down to him (Skinner) or me. He didn't have to go," Allen said. "I would have gone."

Allen said that he respected Skinner as a man but Skinner had not proved himself as a manager.

"He can't put all the blame on me. He can't blame me for a 44-64 record."

Allen denied that he had been reimbursed for some fine money from owner Robert Carpenter for being awol from the team a few weeks back.

"I have never seen a cent of that fine money." Allen said. "I don't know where it goes. They say I kave a direct line to the front office. They say I call my own shots. How can they say that when all I want to do is get the hell out of Philadelphia?"

RAMS DUMP DALLAS—

a fine job on Hayes except for that one play." Nettles, the newly-acquired defensive back from Philadelphia, received the game ball.

Allen also singled out Clancy Williams for his coverage on Rentzel. Clancy had to leave the game with an injured right arm in the final quarter. X-rays indicated it was badly bruised.

Allen admitted the blocked punt, part of the Rams' arsenal the past three years, was a planned play. "We put eight men on the line."

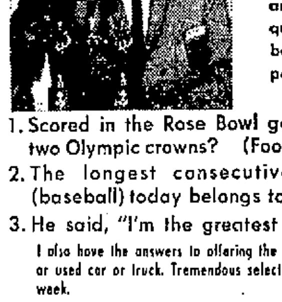

Morton said: "We showed we can come back. If I could have hit Hayes on the next to last series, it would have been a different outcome."

The former Cal quarterback explained he tried to do a lot of different things "but the next time we meet it will be different. I know now what I can and can't do against them."

The Rams were jolted just before the kickoff when commissioner Pete Rozelle ruled that Alvin Haymond would not be able to play.

Athletics Yankees, Divide

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thurman Munson made his major league debut with two hits, driving in two runs, and the New York Yankees backed the four-hit pitching of Al Downing with a 5-0 victory in the second game of a double-header Friday night after the Oakland Athletics won the first game, 5-3, on Larry Haney's RBI double in the 10th inning.

Munson singled home Bobby Murcer and Jimmie Hall in the eighth inning after Murcer had singled, moved to second on Hall's walk and both runners had advanced on Gene Michael's ground ball that Oakland pitcher Jim Lachemann threw into the dirt at first base.

Braves Net Split on Alou's Hit

ATLANTA (UPI) — Felipe Alou singled home the only run of the nitecap with one out in the 10th inning Friday night, giving Ron Reed and the Atlanta Braves a 1-0 victory after the New York Mets won the opener 4-1 behind the seven-hit pitching of Jerry Koosman.

Alou's hit off reliever Ron Taylor drove in Clete Boyer, who had singled to open the inning and was sacrificed to second. An intentional walk to Tito Francona and a pinch-hit single by Rico Carty loaded the bases and set the stage for Alou's winning hit.

SCHOFIELD IN SAILING LEAD

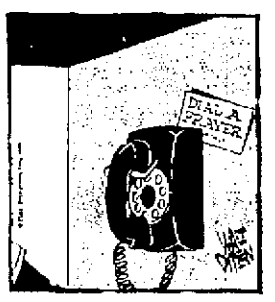

HONOLULU — A 25-year-old sailmaker from Long Beach, Hank Schofield, won the first race in the best-of-three Cal 20 Nationals off Waikiki Beach Friday.

Schofield, representing Alamitos Bay Yacht Club, scored 5½ points, enough for a 1½ point lead over Norm Baxter of Kaneohe Bay YC of Honolulu.

Small Shoots Into Amateur Golf Race

Terry Small of Long Beach, hurt by a two-stroke penalty for a rule violation on Thursday, shot back into contention for the Pacific Coast Amateur championship at Lakeside Golf Club Friday.

The 25-year-old Small carded a 33-36—69, best round of the day on the par-70 course to vault from sixth to second place with a 54-hole total of 212.

The former NCAA champion from San Jose State, recently discharged from the Army, trails Oregon University senior Mike Davis by one stroke. Davis had a 71 Friday.

Two other collegians, Chip Stewart of Dallas and Lane Bennett of Pebble Beach, also are in title contention. Stewart shot his third 71 for a 213 total while Bennett stands at 214 after tying Small for the day's low round of 69.

Small sank birdie putts of 40, five and eight feet on the front nine to tie for the lead, but bogeys on the 15th, 16th and 17th holes prevented him from catching Davis.

Another Long Beach golfer, John Richardson, moved into a ninth place tie at 217 after carding a 71. He rallied with a 32 on the back nine, making birdie putts of two, 10 and 15 feet.

Mike Fedderly of Long Beach fell out of contention with a 76, putting him at 222. He is tied for 19th. Results:

211— Mike Davis (Portland) 67-73-71.
212 — Terry Small (Long Beach) 69-74-69. 213 — Chip Stewart (Dallas) 71-71-71.
214 — Lane Bennett (Pebble Beach) 71-74-69. 215 — Forrest Fezler (San Jose) 67-73-74., Bud Bradley (Los Angeles) 74-69-73. Joe Simpson (San Diego) 72-73-71.
217 — John Richardson (Long Beach) 75-73-71. Dick Runkle (Los Angeles) 72-72-73. 218 — Ed Meyerson (Los Angeles) 73-70-75. Tom Cuilligan (San Mateo) 74-74-70. 219 — Dan Overturf (Houston) 76-73-70, Brad Lozames (Saratoga) 75-73-71. 220 — Mike Spang (Sherwood, Ore.) 74-73-73, Bob Risch (Englewood) 74-73-73.

'Dad' Balding Ties Rookie Cox in Canada PGA Action

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Bob Cox shot the eagle, but veteran Al Balding of Toronto had the gallery watching the birdies Friday to go into the second round of the Canadian Professional Golfer's Assn. Championship tied with the Richmond, B. C., rookie at six-under par 66.

Cox, who was only 15 when Balding became the first Canadian to win a tournament on the United States money tour in 1955, reeled off four birdies and an eagle three on the par-five 18th to take the first round lead by two strokes for about 10 minutes.

Then Balding, nicknamed "Dad" by the U.S. pros, strolled onto the 18th and picked up his seventh birdie of the afternoon to tie the 29-year-old Cox 8 two up on Neil Green of Calgary, who was virtually unknown going into the 72-hole championship.

BUSY NIGHT FOR PRO GRID TEAMS

Cards Hope to Deal With Joe

Combined News Services

Even if it is four years too late, the St. Louis football Cardinals would like to get Joe Namath tonight for the sake of league, family relations and personal pride.

The Jets and Cardinals bid for the services of Namath's talented arm and fender knees in 1965. The Jets wound up with Namath. The Cardinals wound up this week tossing a coin to see who would quarterback the team. Charley Johnson won. Jim Hart gets his starting chance next week against Pittsburgh.

In other action tonight, Detroit (NFL) is at Kansas City (AFL), Baltimore (NFL) takes on Oakland (AFL), Miami (AFL) plays host to Chicago (NFL), Denver (AFL) is at Minnesota (NFL) and New Orleans (NFL) tangles with the Chargers at San Diego (AFL) in inter-league games.

New York will be at Green Bay and Atlanta plays Philadelphia at Portland, Ore., in all-NFL games, and Boston meets Cincinnati in Bowling Green, Ohio, in an AFL exhibition.

Sunday, the Cleveland Browns play the San Francisco 49ers at Seattle.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the Jets, is excited about the game, even if it is only a exhibition. For one thing he'd like his team to improve on its 26-24 victory over the College All-Stars last week.

"We wanted to win that game badly," said the American Football League coach. "We had to uphold the name of the league and the Jets."

Ewbank might have another little reason for making his trip to St. Louis a successful one. The coach of the National Football League Cardinals is Charley Winner, who also happens to be Ewbank's son-in-law.

The Cards will only have the first half to get at Namath. After that, they'll have to settle for Babe Parilli.

Sellers, Greene Agree to Terms with Pats, Pitt

Combined News Services

Two more No. 1 draft choices came to terms with professional football teams Friday.

Ron Sellers, the nation's top pass receiver at Florida State last year, agreed to terms in a telephone call with Boston Patriots coach Clive Rush.

He reportedly had been holding out for a long-term no-cut contract and big bonus, but the Patriots rejected the demands.

Six-foot four, 270 pound Joe Greene of North Texas State ended several weeks of negotiations with the Pittsburgh Steelers and signed a contract that called for more than one year.

AFL rookie of the year Paul Robinson has come to terms with the Cincinnati Bengals for a reported $40,000. Robinson led the league in rushing last year with 1,028 yards.

Salta Risks Title Hopes in Twin Bill

Salta Pontiac, resting in first place by 50 percentage points in the California Collegiate Baseball League, plays host to La Mesa today at Blair Field in a noon doubleheader.

Salta, which has won the championship for the past four years, has a 16-4 record. La Mesa is 18-6. Las Mesa was runner-up the last four years.

Coach Joe Hicks will start Long Beach City College aces Tim Brady and Ray Brown as Salta will attempt to pick up its first wins of the season from the San Deigo-based team.

La Mesa has won all four games against Salta this year and today's doubleheader matches the teams for the last time this season.

"It's a do or die situation," Hicks said. "We've got to win."

Salta hosts San Bernardino Sunday at 2 p.m. at Blair.

Athletics Yankees, Divide

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thurman Munson made his major league debut with two hits, driving in two runs, and the New York Yankees backed the four-hit pitching of Al Downing with a 5-0 victory in the second game of a doubleheader Friday night after the Oakland Athletics won the first game, 5-3, on Larry Haney's RBI double in the 10th inning.

Munson singled home Bobby Murcer and Jimmie Hall in the eighth inning after Murcer had singled, moved to second on Hall's walk and both runners had advanced on Gene Michael's ground ball that Oakland pitcher Jim Lachemann threw into the dirt at first base.

Braves Net Split on Alou's Hit

ATLANTA (UPI) — Felipe Alou singled home the only run of the nitecap with one out in the 10th inning Friday night, giving Ron Reed and the Atlanta Braves a 1-0 victory after the New York Mets won the opener 4-1 behind the seven-hit pitching of Jerry Koosman.

Alou's hit off reliever Ron Taylor drove in Clete Boyer, who had singled to open the inning and was sacrificed to second. An intentional walk to Tito Francona and a pinch-hit single by Rico Carty loaded the bases and set the stage for Alou's winning hit.

Small Shoots Into Amateur Golf Race

Terry Small of Long Beach, hurt by a two-stroke penalty for a rule violation on Thursday, shot back into contention for the Pacific Coast Amateur championship at Lakeside Golf Club Friday.

The 25-year-old Small carded a 33-36—69, best round of the day on the par-70 course to vault from sixth to second place with a 54-hole total of 212.

The former NCAA champion from San Jose State, recently discharged from the Army, trails Oregon University senior Mike Davis by one stroke. Davis had a 71 Friday.

Two other collegians, Chip Stewart of Dallas and Lane Bennett of Pebble Beach, also are in title contention. Stewart shot his third 71 for a 213 total while Bennett stands at 214 after tying Small for the day's low round of 69.

Small sank birdie putts of 40, five and eight feet on the front nine to tie for the lead, but bogeys on the 15th, 16th and 17th holes prevented him from catching Davis.

Another Long Beach golfer, John Richardson, moved into a ninth place tie at 217 after carding a 71. He rallied with a 32 on the back nine, making birdie putts of two, 10 and 15 feet.

Mike Fedderly of Long Beach fell out of contention with a 76, putting him at 222. He is tied for 19th. Results:

211— Mike Davis (Portland) 67-73-71.
212 — Terry Small (Long Beach) 69-74-69, 213 — Chip Stewart (Dallas) 71-71-71, 214 — Lane Bennett (Pebble Beach) 71-74-69, 216 — Forrest Fezler (San Jose) 67-75-74,. Bud Bradley (Los Angeles) 74-67-75. Joe Simpson (San Diego) 73-72-71, 217 — John Richardson (Long Beach) 73-73-71, Dick Rinkle (Los Angeles) 72-72-73, 218 — Ed Meyerson (Los Angeles) 73-70-75, Tom Culligan (San Mateo) 75-71-70, 219 — Dean Overturf (Hemilton) 76-73-70, Bret Lazaries (Saratoga) 75-73-71, 220 — Mike Spargo (Sherwood, Ore.) 74-73-73, Bob Risch (Inglewood) 74-73-71.

'Dad' Balding Ties Rookie Cox in Canada PGA Action

VANCOVER, B. C. (AP) - Bob Cox shot the eagle, but veteran Al Balding of Toronto had the gallery watching the birdies Friday to go into the second round of the Canadian Professional Golfer's Assn. Championship tied with the Richmond, B. C., rookie at six-under par 66.

Cox, who was only 15 when Balding became the first Canadian to win a tournament on the United States money tour in 1955, reeled off four birdies and an eagle three on the par-five 18th to take the first round lead by two strokes for about 10 minutes.

Then Balding, nicknamed "Dad" by the U.S. pros, strolled onto the 18th and picked up his seventh birdie of the afternoon to tie the 29-year-old Cox 8 two up on Neil Green of Calgary, who was virtually unknown going into the 72-hole championship.

Sellers, Greene Agree to Terms with Pats, Pitt

Combined News Services

Two more No. 1 draft choices came to terms with professional football teams Friday.

Ron Sellers, the nation's top pass receiver at Florida State last year, agreed to terms in a telephone call with Boston Patriots coach Clive Rush.

He reportedly had been holding out for a long-term no-cut contract and big bonus, but the Patriots rejected the demands.

Six-foot four, 270-pound Joe Greene of North Texas State ended several weeks of negotiations with the Pittsburgh Steelers and signed a contract that called for more than one year.

AFL rookie of the year Paul Robinson has come to terms with the Cincinnati Bengals for a reported $40,000. Robinson led the league in rushing last year with 1,028 yards.

BUSY NIGHT FOR PRO GRID TEAMS

Cards Hope to Deal With Joe

Combined News Services

Even if it is four years too late, the St. Louis football Cardinals would like to get Joe Namath tonight for the sake of league, family relations and personal pride.

The Jets and Cardinals bid for the services of Namath's talented arm and tender knees in 1965. The Jets wound up with Namath. The Cardinals wound up this week tossing a coin to see who would quarterback the team. Charley Johnson won. Jim Hart gets his starting chance next week against Pittsburgh.

In other action tonight, Detroit (NFL) is at Kansas City (AFL). Baltimore (NFL) takes on Oakland (AFL). Miami (AFL) plays host to Chicago (NFL). Denver (AFL) is at Minnesota (NFL) and New Orleans (NFL) tangles with the Chargers at San Diego (AFL) in inter-league games.

New York will be at Green Bay and Atlanta plays Philadelphia at Portland, Ore., in all-NFL games, and Boston meets Cincinnati in Bowling Green, Ohio, in an AFL exhibition.

Sunday, the Cleveland Browns play the San Francisco 49ers at Seattle.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the Jets, is excited about the game, even if it is only a exhibition. For one thing he'd like his team to improve on its 26-24 victory over the College All-Stars last week.

"We wanted to win that game badly," said the American Football League coach. "We had to uphold the name of the league and the Jets."

Ewbank might have another little reason for making his trip to St. Louis a successful one. The coach of the National Football League Cardinals is Charley Winner, who also happens to be Ewbank's son-in-law.

The Cards will only have the first half to get at Namath. After that, they'll have to settle for Babe Parilli.

Salta Risks Title Hopes in Twin Bill

Salta Pontiac, resting in first place by 50 percentage points in the California Collegiate Baseball League, plays host to La Mesa today at Blair Field in a noon doubleheader.

Salta, which has won the championship for the past four years, has a 16-4 record. La Mesa is 18-6. Las Mesa was runner-up the last four years.

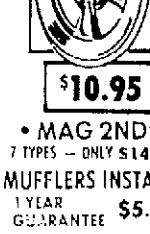

Coach Joe Hicks will start Long Beach City College aces Tim Brady and Ray Brown as Salta will attempt to pick up its first wins of the season from the San Deigo-based team.

La Mesa has won all four games against Salta this year and today's doubleheader matches the teams for the last time this season.

"It's a do or die situation," Hicks said. "We've got to win."

Salta hosts San Bernardino Sunday at 2 p.m. at Blair.

Unknowns Moehling, Marti Survive Milwaukee Winds

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A pair of relative unknowns — Ed Moehling and Fred Marti — withstood the challenge of high winds and more seasoned professionals Friday to share the second round lead in the $100,000 Greater Milwaukee Open.

Moehling, returning to the pro tour after a five-year layoff, fired a three-under par 69 and Marti, who has yet to win in five years on the tour, a one-under 71 for 36 hole totals of 141.

First round leader Peter Townsend of Britain, first round runnerup John Miller of San Francisco, veteran Steve Opperman of San Francisco and Allen Henning of South Africa were in a four-way tie for third place at 142.

Townsend, who was five under par Thursday, lost four of those strokes on his first four holes and then rallied to stay under par for the tournament.

South African Gary Player made a strong bid for the lead, but a bogey on the 18th left him with a 70 for the day and a 143 total. He was tied with five others at that figure.

The winds continued to hamper play at the 7,075-yard North Shore Country Club course with only 17 players firing par or better. Seventy-two made the cut at five under par 149.

Arnold Palmer, top name in the tourney, came from a 76 Thursday with a 71 Friday to barely reach the final two rounds. Defending champion Dave Stockton failed in his bid, finishing Friday with a 73 and a 36-hole total of 150.

The 28-year-old Moehling, on the tour just six weeks after serving as a club pro the past three years, chipped in two shots — one of them for an eagle on the 560-yard seventh hole. He also dropped an 80-foot putt for a birdie on the 10th.

At least three of his putts rimmed the cup and came out, otherwise he could have been ahead alone.

"Yes, I rimmed a lot, but those chips made up for it," he said.

Foursome Shares Springfield Lead

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Four lady professionals tied for the first-round lead Friday in the LPGA $20,000 Springfield Open Golf Tournament.

Murle Lindstrom Breer, Sharon Miller, Marlene Hagge and Sandra Spuzich posted one-under-par 71s on the 6,480-yard Northwood Hills Country Club course.

A stroke behind at 72 was Sybil Griffin while four others were deadlocked at 73. They were Jane Blalock, veteran Patty Berg, Peggy Wilson and Marilyn Smith.

Among those in a five-way knot at 74 was Carol Mann, the tour's second leading money winner. Top money winner Kathy Whitworth took a double bogey 7 on the seventh hold and finished at 76.

The 32-year-old Miss Spuzich, victor in the Buckeye Savings International at Cincinnati, had the best chance to take the first-day lead.

The Indianapolis golfer was three under through 10 holes but bogeyed 13 and 14. She turned in an eagle 3 on the 520-yard No. 7 when she reached the green in two and rolled in a 15-foot putt.

ARTS AND LETTERS 10-LENGTH VICTOR

Combined News Services

Arts and Letters, leading contender for horse-of-the year honors, destroyed his slim competition with a 10-length victory Friday in the $25,000-added Jim Dandy Stakes at Saratoga.

Making his first start since winning the Belmont Stakes June 7, the 3-year-old colt took the lead about midway through the mile test and had a breeze to the wire.

Gleaming Light was second, a length and one-half over Mr. Mag, the early pacesetter.

Arts and Letters was timed in 1:36 flat under Braulio Baeza and returned $2.20 to win and $2.10 to place.

Two $50,000-added stakes for 3-year-old colts top today's national program — the 1⅛-mile Minuteman Handicap at Liberty Bell and the one-mile Arlington Park Towers Handicap.

Claiborne Farm's Jay Ray, winner of the California Derby and third in the Preakness, and Ogden Phipps' King of the Castle, the Louisiana and Illinois Derby winner, head a field of five entered in the Minuteman.

Best Trials Race by Nuther Brother

Nuther Brother, the colt that cost $142,500 three months ago, looked like a million dollar baby in winning the second division of the Kindergarten Trials Friday night at Los Alamitos.

The two-year-old son of the famed Go Man Go posted the fastest time of the three division winners, being clocked in 17.1 seconds for 350 yards.

Rica's Gold, in capturing the third division with a 17.9 clocking, had the second best time of the night, while Whataway To Go was timed in 18 seconds flat in taking the first division.

Nuther Brother was bet down to 6-5 by the crowd of 11,765, but actually went off second choice as Jaguar Rocket went off the 11-10 favorite.

The third division saw Rica's Gold winning over Lulu by one and a quarter lengths.

Whataway To Go had a difficult time breaking away from the field in the first division, but finally won by a half-length over Red Chigger Bar and stablemate Ought To Go.

The 10 fastest qualifiers will race in the $90,000 Kindergarten Saturday, Aug. 16.

Go Derussa Go, her three-race winning streak stopped by Kaweah Bar two weeks ago, attempts to get back on the winning trail tonight as she faces five rivals in the $8,000 Clabbertown G. at 350 yards.

The four-year-old daughter of Go Man Go captured her final start at Bay Meadows when she established a new track record of 20 seconds flat for 400 yards. Then she took her initial two outings at Los Alamitos, running identical times of 17.8 seconds for 350 yards.

On July 26 she finished a fast-closing third behind Kaweah and Double Dibs in the $8,000 Miss Princess.

Go Derussa Go gets the rail this evening. Other entries are Dividend's Bar, Shadow Man, Go A Mile, Witch Chic and Ettabo. Go Derussa Go and Dividend's Bar share high post of 124 pounds, with Go A Mile assigned the low weight of 113.

Dividend's Bar upset Top Rockette in his last outing, the $8,000 Shue Fly July 16.

Witch Chic moves back into stakes company following two victories in a row against AAA-minus competition.

Noholme Del Mar Favorite

DEL MAR — Noholme Jr., a vastly-improved claimant to the West's three-year-old crown, will face nine rivals today as he makes his 1969 Del Mar debut in the $19,175 La Jolla mile.

The race is the final prelude to the $25,000 - added Del Mar Derby August 23.

Noholme Jr., burdened with top weight of 122 pounds, will be opposed by Little Scribe 117, Equine Power 104, Copper Jay 113, Juliet's Dream 115, French Tutor 113, Royal Dynasty 115, Eagle Fly 115, Imaginative 113, Gallant Policy 115.

Last year at Del Mar, Noholme Jr. shocked a weekday crowd when he upset the favorite in a six-furlong maiden event and paid $146.60 Since that win the son of Noholme II has several times shown he ranks with the country's top sophomores .

Count The Green registered the fastest six furlongs of the season Friday when he won the $5,500 Blue Reading Purse in a blazing 1:08-1/5 before 8,325 fans.

Sent postward as the 3-5 favorite, Count the Green took command right at the start and led all the way to click by 1 1-2 lengths over Injunction.

Count The Green rewarded his backers with $3.40, $2.40 and $2.10. Injunction paid $3.20 and $2.40 and Orbit Tracer $2.40.

Unknowns Moehling, Marti Survive Milwaukee Winds

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A pair of relative unknowns — Ed Moehling and Fred Marti — withstood the challenge of high winds and more seasoned professionals Friday to share the second round lead in the $100,000 Greater Milwaukee Open.

Moehling, returning to the pro tour after a five-year layoff, fired a three-under par 69 and Marti, who has yet to win in five years on the tour, a one-under 71 for 36 hole totals of 141.

First round leader Peter Townsend of Britain, first round runnerup John Miller of San Francisco, veteran Steve Opperman of San Francisco and Allen Henning of South Africa were in a four-way tie for third place at 142.

Townsend, who was five under par Thursday, lost four of those strokes on his first four holes and then rallied to stay under par for the tournament.

South African Gary Player made a strong bid for the lead, but a bogey on the 18th left him with a 70 for the day and a 143 total. He was tied with five others at that figure.

The winds continued to hamper play at the 7,075-yard North Shore Country Club course with only 17 players firing par or better. Seventy-two made the cut at five under par 149.

Arnold Palmer, top name in the tourney, came from a 76 Thursday with a 71 Friday to barely reach the final two rounds. Defending champion Dave Stockton failed in his bid, finishing Friday with a 73 and a 36-hole total of 150.

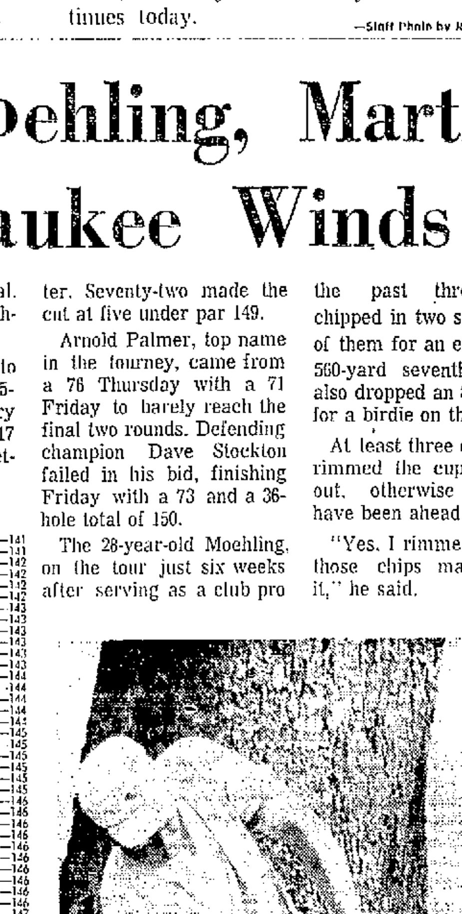

The 28-year-old Moehling, on the tour just six weeks after serving as a club pro the past three years, chipped in two shots — one of them for an eagle on the 560-yard seventh hole. He also dropped an 80-foot putt for a birdie on the 10th.

At least three of his putts rimmed the cup and came out, otherwise he could have been ahead alone.

"Yes, I rimmed a lot, but those chips made up for it," he said.

Foursome Shares Springfield Lead

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Four lady professionals tied for the first-round lead Friday in the LPGA $20,000 Springfield Open Golf Tournament.

Murle Lindstrom Breer, Sharon Miller, Marlene Hagge and Sandra Spuzich posted one-under-par 71s on the 6,480-yard Northwood Hills Country Club course.

A stroke behind at 72 was Sybil Griffin while four others were deadlocked at 73. They were Jane Blalock, veteran Patty Berg, Peggy Wilson and Marilyn Smith.

Among those in a five-way knot at 74 was Carol Mann, the tour's second leading money winner. Top money winner Kathy Whitworth took a double bogey 7 on the seventh hold and finished at 76.

The 32-year-old Miss Spuzich, victor in the Buckeye Savings International at Cincinnati, had the best chance to take the first-day lead.

The Indianapolis golfer was three under through 10 holes but bogeyed 13 and 14. She turned in an eagle 3 on the 520-yard No. 7 when she reached the green in two and rolled in a 15-foot putt.

ARTS AND LETTERS 10-LENGTH VICTOR

Combined News Services

Arts and Letters, leading contender for horse-of-the year honors, destroyed his slim competition with a 10-length victory Friday in the $25,000-added Jim Dandy Stakes at Saratoga.

Making his first start since winning the Belmont Stakes June 7, the 3-year-old colt took the lead about mid-way through the mile test and had a breeze to the wire.

Gleaming Light was second, a length and one-half over Mr. Mag, the early pacesetter.

Arts and Letters was timed in 1:36 flat under Braulio Baeza and returned $2.20 to win and $2.10 to place.

Two $50,000-added stakes for 3-year-old colts top today's national program — the 1⅛-mile Minuteman Handicap at Liberty Bell and the one-mile Arlington Park Towers Handicap.

Claiborne Farm's Jay Ray, winner of the California Derby and third in the Preakness, and Ogden Phipps' King of the Castle, the Louisiana and Illinois Derby winner, head a field of five entered in the Minuteman.

Best Trials Race by Nuther Brother

Nuther Brother, the colt that cost $142,500 three months ago, looked like a million dollar baby in winning the second division of the Kindergarten Trials Friday night at Los Alamitos.

The two-year-old son of the famed Go Man Go posted the fastest time of the three division winners, being clocked in 17.1 seconds for 350 yards.

Rica's Gold, in capturing the third division with a 17.9 clocking, had the second best time of the night, while Whataway To Go was timed in 18 seconds flat in taking the first division.

Nuther Brother was bet down to 6-5 by the crowd of 11,765, but actually went off second choice as Jaguar Rocket went off the 11-10 favorite.

The third division saw Rica's Gold winning over Lulu by one and a quarter lengths.

Whataway To Go had a difficult time breaking away from the field in the first division, but finally won by a half-length over Red Chigger Bar and stablemate Oought To Go

The 10 fastest qualifiers will race in the $90,000 Kindergarten Saturday, Aug. 16.

Go Derussa Go, her three-race winning streak stopped by Kaweah Bar two weeks ago, attempts to get back on the winning trail tonight as she faces five rivals in the $8,000 Clabbertown G. at 350 yards.

The four-year-old daughter of Go Man Go captured her final start at Bay Meadows when she established a new track record of 20 seconds flat for 400 yards. Then she took her initial two outings at Los Alamitos, running identical times of 17.8 seconds for 350 yards.

On July 26 she finished a fast-closing third behind Kaweah and Double Dibs in the $8,000 Miss Princess.

Go Derussa Go gets the rail this evening. Other entries are Dividend's Bar, Shadow Man, Go A Mite, Witch Chic and Ettabo. Go Derussa Go and Dividend's Bar share high post of 124 pounds, with Go A Mite assigned the low weight of 113.

Dividend's Bar upset Top Rockette in his last outing, the $8,000 Shue Fly July 18.

Witch Chic moves back into stakes company following two victories in a row against AAA-minus competition.

Noholme Del Mar Favorite

DEL MAR — Noholme Jr., a vastly-improved claimant to the West's three-year-old crown, will face nine rivals today as he makes his 1969 Del Mar debut in the $19,175 La Jolla mile.

The race is the final prelude to the $25,000 - added Del Mar Derby August 23.

Noholme Jr., burdened with top weight of 122 pounds, will be opposed by Little Scribe 117, Equine Power 104, Copper Jay 113, Juliet's Dream 115, French Tutor 113, Royal Dynasty 115, Eagle Fly 115, Imaginative 113, Gallant Policy 115.

Last year at Del Mar, Noholme Jr. shocked a weekday crowd when he upset the favorite in a six-furlong maiden event and paid $146.60 Since that win the son of Noholme II has several times shown he ranks with the country's top sophomores .

Count The Green registered the fastest six furlongs of the season Friday when he won the $5,500 Blue Reading Purse in a blazing 1.08-1/5 before 8,325 fans.

Sent postward as the 3-5 favorite, Count the Green took command right at the start and led all the way to click by 1 1-2 lengths over Injunction.

Count The Green rewarded his backers with $3.40, $2.40 and $2.10. Injunction paid $3.20 and $2.40 and Orbit Tracer $2.40.

CLUB NOTES

The Long Beach chapter of the American Begonia Society has slated a plant show today from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. The show will be held in the Community Room of the Glendale Federal building, 5535 Stearns St., Long Beach. Visitors are welcome.

DAHLIA GROWERS from all over California will gather in Inglewood to display their prize-winning dahlias in the 38th Annual Dahlia Show scheduled today and Sunday at Inglewood's Darby Park.

Prizewinning blooms, chosen from all sections of the show will be displayed.

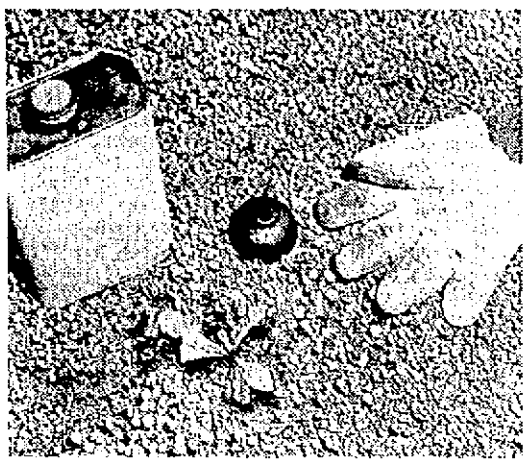

In addition to Dahlia Club members, Joe Littlefield will be present, and he will be glad to advise anyone regarding their garden problems.

Show hours are 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. today, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Darby Park is located at 3400 W. Arbor Vitae, Inglewood (west on Arbor Vitae off Crenshaw.)

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

DANDELIONS . . . The Way to Stop Them

One can admire the golden yellow dandelion blossoms followed by graceful looking full round seed heads, if they aren't growing in your own lawn, or in your neighbor's lawn from where the seeds float through the air to effect perfect landings into your good dichondra lawn!

For a time, I used an asparagus knife, jabbed it diagonally downward several inches into the soil below the dandelion weeds in my neighbor's lawn and rooted them out. He probably didn't even notice those persistent weeds; and persistent they were, because they'd again grow from the portion of the roots left in the ground. Next time usually twin plants would grow up from the remainder-root stub.

THE 2-4-D herbicide cannot be used on dichondra lawn to kill the broad leaf weeds and dandelion, as you normally would apply it in a grass lawn to kill those weeds. The herbicide kills dichondra.

Apply the 2-4-D herbicide 100 per cent strong, but carefully through an oil can.

Don't water the dichondra lawn for several days. Fill the oil can with the herbicide. Part the weed leaves near their base to expose the crown. Squirt four or five drops of the herbicide from the oil can directly onto the crown only.

Don't water the lawn for several days. You'll find the weed dies down throughout the whole root area.

We agree, it is time consuming killing those weeds in this manner, but you can be sure you're eradicating them, doing it this way.

As long as we're discussing weeds, let's talk about white flies that look like tiny white butterflies. They're found on about 36 kinds of plants, noticeable particularly on mint, iris, mums, fuchsias, and gloriosa daisies. They eventually change to scale-like plates, which reminds one of scale insects. These pests secrete honeydew, attract ants, provide a medium for smut fungus. A general insecticide spray that lists "white fly" on the spray bottle label, controls them.

PREPARE THE soil for vining sweet peas, also for the bush type. A soil-prepared trench for the vine sweet peas still is the best, because the sweet pea vines have to be trained to supports. A ten foot row of vining sweet peas provides more blossoms than you'll be able to use as cut flowers.

Mix the manure and bone meal with the soil in the trench, then soak well. Dig over the prepared soil a week or two later and irrigate thoroughly again. Several weeks later the area is ready for sweet pea sowing.

The flower bed area you plant to grow bush-type sweet peas should be prepared similarly, excepting you prepare the whole planting area. Repeat the digging over and soaking process as for vining sweet-pea trench.

A LANDSCAPE problem question we've helped one of our readers solve, was that of a sunny orphan area between the driveway and the property line.

We recommend cannas near the property line because these perennials blossom for several months during the summer season. Some of the colors are bright and gay and vie with the brilliant Southern California sunshine — when there's no smog present. The flowers on the tall spikes don't all bloom at once, and there's a continuing show of lovely blossoms.

A ground cover of sand verbena (pulchella,) not desert verbena, was planted in the rest of the area up to the cannas. The verbenas bloom for about six months time. The very fine texture foliage of the sand verbena fools some folk who think is surely must be a tender ground cover. Far from it. It is fairly hardy and also tolerates considerable dry conditions.

Another verbena (peruviana hybrids) available in nearly a dozen different colors, would be suitable for such a planting. Both types of the verbenas may be planted as lawn substitutes, in parkings, slopes, and burms.

DO IT NOW

Scale are hard shell sap sucking insects that attack citrus, gardenias, camellias, and other plants. There's a different type of scale found on evergreen elm trees. Ants busily scurrying up and down such a tree indicates those pests. Before spraying with an oil emulsion spray, check the spray bottle label for precautions, particularly the insecticide dosage amounts recommended for specific plants. If the weather temperature precaution isn't listed, then don't spray if the weather is 85 degrees or hotter.

EARNS CHERISHED AWARD

Rev. William Miedema, pastor of El Dorado Park Community Church, happily presents the "God and Community" Scout award to Karen Caley, a member of his congregation. Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Caley of 19054 S. Grayland Ave., Artesia, and a recent graduate of Tetzlaff Junior High, worked for more than a year to win the coveted award.

CHAPLAIN HEADS MINISTER GROUP

Lt. Cmdr. Jack R. Peters, Naval Station chaplain, has been elected president of the Long Beach Ministerial Assn. for the next year. First military chaplain to hold this post, he automatically becomes a member of the board of Memorial Hospital, an ex-officio member of the local Council of Churches and the Armed Services YMCA.

CAN HEAR 'SOUNDS' ON NEW JERSEY

The swinging Sound Generation, musical group from John Brown University, will be featured in a performance Sunday at 2 p.m. aboard the USS New Jersey.

They then appear at the Armed Services YMCA starting 5:30, also for servicemen only, breaking for dinner served by the American Gold Star Mothers, an returning at 7:30 for a musical program including modern brass, choral arrangements, conventional and progressive jazz, Southern spirituals.

On Tuesday, the Kiwanis Club will meet at the same Y and will hear the busy "Sounds."

Charisma Clinic Will Draw 2,000

More than 40 Protestant and Catholic theologians and 2,000 laymen from this country and overseas are scheduled to participate in the second annual Charismatic Clinic at Christian Center Church of Anaheim — the former Melodyland Theater — Sunday through Aug. 17 and a second session Aug. 17-24.

Sponsoring pastor Rev. Ralph Wilkerson described the event this way:

"It is designed to instruct Christians to walk in the Spirit-filled life. Christian laymen from across the nation and from around the world will hear these distinguished theologians share ideas, opinions, and experiences as well as discuss some of the most provocative issues facing Christianity today.

"Such subjects as 'Corinthians' and 'Supernatural Ministry of the Spirit' will be covered in an open-forum type of atmosphere."

The basic belief held in common by all speakers, he added, is that the "Baptism with the Holy Spirit" which is first evidenced in a person by "speaking in tongues" is vital for bringing in a divine impartation of power and spiritual gifts to serve the needs of the lost and dying.

Lutheran Minister Rev. Larry Christenson, of San Pedro, author of "Speaking in Tongues" claims that "It has intensified for many the sense of the presence of God — the Word of God has become more contemporary, believable — Christ the Lord has become more real. We are not dealing with a new church program or 'approach' or 'technique'; We are dealing with a supernatural manifestation of the Holy Spirit which is clearly spoken of in the Bible."

The clinic will have three sessions daily, morning (9:30-noon), afternoon (1:30-4), and evening (7:30). The daytime sessions are by reservation and evening sessions are open to the public. All sessions will be held at Melodyland Theater with the exception of the Sunday morning services. All sessions will be broadcast over radio station KHOF-FM 99.5. A children's clinic is provided for those 5 to 12 whose parents attend.

Vacation School

A Vacation Bible School for boys and girls 4 years old through 6th grade will be held from Aug. 18-29 at Belmont Heights Methodist Church, 317 Termino Ave. Stories, films, singing and a final picnic are on the agenda.

CLUB NOTES

The Long Beach chapter of the American Begonia Society has slated a plant show today from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. The show will be held in the Community Room of the Glendale Federal building, 5535 Stearns St., Long Beach. Visitors are welcome.

DAHLIA GROWERS from all over California will gather in Inglewood to display their prize-winning dahlias in the 38th Annual Dahlia Show scheduled today and Sunday at Inglewood's Darby Park.

Prizewinning blooms, chosen from all sections of the show will be displayed.

In addition to Dahlia Club members, Joe Littlefield will be present, and he will be glad to advise anyone regarding their garden problems.

Show hours are 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. today, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Darby Park is located at 3400 W. Arbor Vitae, Inglewood (west on Arbor Vitae off Crenshaw.)

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

One can admire the golden yellow dandelion blossoms followed by graceful looking full round seed heads, if they aren't growing in your own lawn, or in your neighbor's lawn from where the seeds float through the air to effect perfect landings into your good dichondra lawn!

For a time, I used an asparagus knife, jabbed it diagonally downward several inches into the soil below the dandelion weeds in my neighbor's lawn and rooted them out. He probably didn't even notice those persistent weeds; and persistent they were, because they'd again grow from the portion of the roots left in the ground. Next time usually twin plants would grow up from the remainder-root stub. .

DANDELIONS... The Way to Stop Them

THE 2-4-D herbicide cannot be used on dichondra lawn to kill the broad leaf weeds and dandelion, as you normally would apply it in a grass lawn to kill those weeds. The herbicide kills dichondra.

Apply the 2-4 D herbicide 100 per cent strong, but carefully through an oil can.

Don't water the dichondra lawn for several days. Fill the oil can with the herbicide. Part the weed leaves near their base to expose the crown. Squirt four or five drops of the herbicide from the oil can directly onto the crown only.

Don't water the lawn for several days. You'll find the weed dies down throughout the whole root area.

We agree, it is time consuming killing those weeds in this manner, but you can be sure you're eradicating them, doing it this way.

As long as we're discussing weeds, let's talk about white flies that look like tiny white butterflies. They're found on about 36 kinds of plants, noticeable particularly on mint, iris, mums, fuchsias, and gloriosa daisies. They eventually change to scale-like plates, which reminds one of scale insects. These pests secrete honeydew, attract ants, provide a medium for smut fungus. A general insecticide spray that lists "white fly" on the spray bottle label, controls them.

PREPARE THE soil for vining sweet peas, also for the bush type. A soil-prepared trench for the vine sweet peas still is the best, because the sweet pea vines have to be trained to supports. A ten foot row of vining sweet peas provides more blossoms than you'll be able to use as cut flowers.

Mix the manure and bone meal with the soil in the trench, then soak well. Dig over the prepared soil a week or two later and irrigate thoroughly again. Several weeks later the area is ready for sweet pea sowing.

The flower bed area you plant to grow bush-type sweet peas should be prepared similarly, excepting you prepare the whole planting area. Repeat the digging over and soaking process as for vining sweet-pea trench.

A LANDSCAPE problem question we've helped one of our readers solve, was that of a sunny orphan area between the driveway and the property line.

Presbyterian Nix to Manifesto Seen U.S. Church Line

By LES RODNEY

The categorical rejection of James Forman's Black Manifesto by the eight top officials of the United Presbyterian Church, coupled with a plea for Christians to get on with God's work of aid to fellow human beings in trouble, probably foreshadows the action of the National Council of Churches General Assembly next month.

There has been a division of opinion among Council leaders on how to respond to the threatening demand for "reparations." The Presbyterians, who have hardly been last in responding to the nation's crisis, seem to point the way. The Council General Assembly, after all, is composed of representatives of the major denominations.

In their unusual message, which appears in the Aug. 15 issue of Presbyterian Life, the denomination leaders, headed by Rev. George E. Sweazy, moderator, and layman William P. Thompson, stated clerk, emphasize that no funds have been or will be allocated to the Forman group.

EVER SINCE Forman addressed the General Assembly at San Antonio, the leadership has been getting heat not only from the strongly conservative lay group centered around J. Howard Pew, but from many concerned pastors and "moderate" laymen, who felt that official encouragement had been given to Forman.

The eight leaders seek to allay this criticism by pointing out that the firery manifesto itself "was not a part of Mr. Forman's presentation in San Antonio, so it was not a document calling for action by the General Assembly."

The manifesto attacks the United States as "the most barbaric country in the world," and speaks with approval of "the use of force and power of the gun to bring down the colonizer."

Some Protestant church leaders have suggested ignoring the inflammatory language in order to give thoughtful consideration to the substance of the claim for $500 million from U.S. churches to finance black economic development.

But the Presbyterian leaders feel it's a bit much to ignore.

"We believe that we must do the authors of the Black Manifesto the courtesy of assuming that they meant what the words say," they declare. "When we do that we must and we do reject . . . its Marxist ideology; its rejection of the church; its call for violence and for the overthrow of our government; its design for interferring with services of worship and the taking over of church property; and its threatening demands for so-called reparations. These are all out of harmony with our Christain understanding of life.

"Nevertheless," the statement continues, "the very existence of the Black Manifesto adds to the frightful evidence of intolerable inequities in American society and reveals the bitterness of those who despair of righting ancient wrongs.

"AS CITIZENS, we are required to set new standards in government, in business and in human relations. As Christians, we shall respond not out of fear or in answer to pressure but out of love and in obedience to our Lord . . . We who believe in Jesus Christ must now give ourselves and our resources in unprecedented efforts to meet the distress of our fellow men of all races and in all parts of the world."

The statement will be read from many Presbyterian pulpits during the next few Sundays.

DEATH WITH DIGNITY: What Should Be Attitude Toward Hopelessly Prolonging Life?

(This candid discussion of a controversial topic by T. B. Maston, retired professor of ethics, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, is reprinted from the California Southern Baptist. We welcome other views.)

By T. B. MASTON

A friend of mine passed away after a long illness. The doctors concluded months before his death that the illness was terminal. Yet, he was kept alive for several weeks by artificial means. This cost the family thousands of dollars. They possibly could afford it, but most families could not.

This experience relating to my friend and similar incidents raise some questions that should be answered. Should one whose illness is definitely terminal be kept alive by artificial means: medication, tubes, etc.?

Some people contend that the doctor's oath binds him to preserve life and not to take it. Some even suggest that the physician is under obligation to keep one alive as long as possible. Others say that his oath simply means that he is not to take life; he is not to practice positive euthanasia. The latter is the correct interpretation. The only statement in the oath that relates to this matter is as follows: "I will give no deadly medicine to any one if asked, nor suggest any such counsel."

Another argument made by some people for the artificial continuation of life is the fact that a doctor's diagnosis may be wrong. He may consider a case terminal when it is not. For one thing he has no way to measure the will to live of a particular patient. Furthermore, some insist that a doctor cannot predict how God will work in a particular case. Therefore, so they reason, the doctor should use every skill and technique available to keep one alive.

There are others, including some doctors, who claim that the medical profession may learn a great deal by using artificial methods to keep a patient alive. If this is a valid reason for using various means of extending life in terminal cases, we do not believe the family should have to pay the bill. The doctor, the hospital, the medical society, the government, or some charitable foundation should relieve the family of the tremendous expense frequently involved.

There is a possibility that one reason for efforts to keep people alive as long as possible is the fear of death. This may be understandable for non-Christians, but it is hard to understand why Christians should fear death personally or for their loved ones who are Christians.

After all, regardless of what is done, death is inevitable. There are limits to how long it can be postponed.

Members of the family, who should have a major voice regarding any decision that is made, should be fully informed regarding possible costs. And while the cost should not be the deciding factor in any decision that is made, it may properly be a major factor at least for families with limited financial resources.

The one whose voice should speak the loudest is the patient himself. This is particularly true if he decides against the artificial continuance of his life. Such a decision should be made while he is still in full control of his faculties. If he wishes to be permitted "to die with dignity" he should let his family and his doctor know. Those wishes should be respected. We have such an understanding in our household.

Why should any of us want to hold on to life when our days of usefulness are over? Why should we want to live any longer when it would simply add to the burden of loved ones and friends? Why not go on and be with the Lord? After all Paul said, "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain" (Phil. 1.21). Do we really believe this or have we been teaching and preaching something we have not believed?

Wedding Kiss Not Required, Says Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church's new wedding ceremony does not require the groom to kiss the bride on the cheek, the Vatican says.

The Congregation of the Divine Cult, the division in charge of church rites, said in a communique this week that the new rules require only that a newly married couple exchange a "sign of peace and love," perhaps only a squeeze of the hand, after exchanging vows.

Camp Meetings Back Next Week

A familiar and lively August phenomenon will hit Long Beach next Saturday as the Salvation Army of Southern California, heralded by a traditional parade featuring brass bands and bonnets, opens its 12th annual Long Beach Camp Meeting at Municipal Auditorium.

The sessions, open to the public, will be held from Aug. 16 through 24, said Brig. Orval A. Taylor, Southland division commander, who has played a prominent role in carrying out the modernization program, while continuing the focus on the Corps' spiritual heart.

Evangelistic meetings will take place at 3 and 7:30 p.m. Sundays and Saturdays and week nights at 7:30. Afternoon prayer meetings during the week are slated for 2 p.m. followed by Bible study at 3.

Speakers of international and national renown who will take part are Commissioner Gosta Blomberg, Territorial Commander in Stockholm, Sweden; Captain Bram Tillsley, Education Officer at the School for Officers' Training in Toronto, Canada, and Prof. Lee Fisher of Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky.

Lt. Commissioner William J. Parkins, territorial commander in 14 western states, including Alaska and Hawaii, who initiated the Long Beach Camp Meetings, will also be present.

A final parade featuring six Salvation Army brass bands and the familiar banners and bonnets is scheduled to march down Broadway and Long Beach Blvd. to the auditorium at

FROM THE PULPIT

Difficulty is sent to reveal to us what God can do in answer to the faith that prays and works. Peter refers to the trials of faith as precious.

If you are having difficulty and your faith is being tried, pray and ask God to come to your aid and then let your faith work with God's power. There is no other way that you can know your own weakness and your own lack of wisdom except through human failure. And you will never turn to God as long as you feel that you do not need Him.

His strength is made perfect in our weakness. The strength of a loving Lord is what we need — and we need it today, and our difficulties and trials will introduce us to this help.

We are just waiting for your visit at Calvary. Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

Camp Meetings Back Next Week

A familiar and lively August phenomenon will hit Long Beach next Saturday as the Salvation Army of Southern California, heralded by a traditional parade featuring brass bands and bonnets, opens its 12th annual Long Beach Camp Meeting at Municipal Auditorium.

The sessions, open to the public, will be held from Aug. 16 through 24, said Brig. Orval A. Taylor, Southland division commander, who has played a prominent role in carrying out the modernization program, while continuing the focus on the Corps' spiritual heart.

Evangelistic meetings will take place at 3 and 7:30 p.m. Sundays and Saturdays and week nights at 7:30. Afternoon prayer meetings during the week are slated for 2 p.m. followed by Bible study at 3.

Speakers of international and national renown who will take part are Commissioner Gosta Blomberg, Territorial Commander in Stockholm, Sweden; Captain Bram Tillsley, Education Officer at the School for Officers' Training in Toronto, Canada, and Prof. Lee Fisher of Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky.

Lt. Commissioner William J. Parkins, territorial commander in 14 western states, including Alaska and Hawaii, who initiated the Long Beach Camp Meetings, will also be present.

A final parade featuring six Salvation Army brass bands and the familiar banners and bonnets is scheduled to march down Broadway and Long Beach Blvd. to the auditorium at 6:30 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 24.

FROM THE PULPIT

Difficulty is sent to reveal to us what God can do in answer to the faith that prays and works. Peter refers to the trials of faith as precious.

If you are having difficulty and your faith is being tried, pray and ask God to come to your aid and then let your faith work with God's power. There is no other way that you can know your own weakness and your own lack of wisdom except through human failure. And you will never turn to God as long as you feel that you do not need Him.

His strength is made perfect in our weakness. The strength of a loving Lord is what we need — and we need it today, and our difficulties and trials will introduce us to this help.

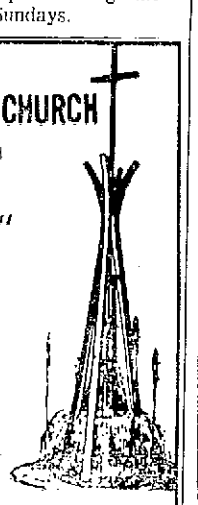

We are just waiting for your visit at Calvary. Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

CONFIDENT LIVING

A Wonderful Day, Thanks to Mrs. P.

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Have you ever thought of living as an art? It is indeed a skill. But many people live it, or exist in it, without ever mastering this skill. How many days have you lived fully awake to the zest, the beauty, the opportunity of life? How many days have you been aware of the excitement of human experience and been thrilled by the great movements that are operating in the affairs of men? Do you wake up each morning thinking of the potentialities and possibilities of the day? A good rule to follow is to forget yesterday and live today.

Every night a curtain of darkness comes down to shut off the day that is past, and to get you ready for tomorrow. Sir William Osler, the famous physician, said that we should live in "day-tight" compartments. Each day we should pull down a mental curtain, shutting out the past, and another curtain, shutting out the future so as to live for today, unburdened by remnants of the past or anxieties about the future.

NOW I'M no different than anybody else and there are times when we all have problems. There is a cyclic rise and fall with everything in this world: in the tides of the sea, in the seasons of the earth, in darkness and light. There is also a cycle in the moods and feelings in human beings: We have our ups and downs, our joys and sorrows, our victories and defeats. When you are caught in a down period, life may not seem so good. But you can make it good, even then.

I remember my wife and I had a few days of anxiety about a problem. We were on the West Coast at the time where I was making some speeches. We decided to rest for a day or two in the beautiful environment of Palm Springs. Our next engagement was to be in Phoenix, Ariz., and my wife said the night before, "What do you say; let's drive to Phoenix in the morning?"

"Oh, that's foolish," I objected. "You can fly over there in an hour. Sleep late and fly in an hour."

"But," she protested, "I'd really like to drive. I've always wanted to drive across the desert early in the morning."

"It's about four or five hundred miles uphill all the way. And besides it's hot."

"Well," she said, "then we'll enjoy the heat. I thought I heard you in some of your effusive moments proclaiming the glories of the desert."

Feebly I reminded her, "To drive we would have to get up very early because between here and Phoenix the time changes and we lose an hour."

"But," she answered, "it'll do us good to get up early."

So we got up early, so early that the hotel dining room wasn't open yet. The one employe already at work obligingly got us some coffee and rolls. My wife then said, "We've been having several days of anxiety. Let us decide that this particular day is going to be one of the best days we ever lived."

That struck a responsive chord in me and I agreed, "I'm for that!"

So we went outside and the first thing that happened — it rained! But it was an interesting kind of rain. It was rain in the midst of sunshine. The raindrops glittered like diamonds on the palm trees. And I stood entranced for a moment listening to the sweet song of the mockingbirds.

We started across the desert, but we hadn't gotten very far when we ran into an enormous sandstorm. I never saw anything like it. Dust mounted a hundred feet in the air. Billowing clouds enveloped the car. It got so dark it was necessary to turn the car lights on. And even then the visibility was almost nil. Negatively I said, "This sand will get in the engine and we'll be stuck in the desert." My wife reminded me of the wonderful day we had agreed to have. Soon we were out in the clear again and in bright sunshine.

THE ROAD led gradually down until it came to a place marked "Forty-seven feet below sea level." Then we started to climb and within 20 miles were 2,000 feet above sea level on a great mountain-encircled plateau. We stopped the car and sat gazing at the vastness of rock and sand and space. There wasn't another soul in sight. "This is truly Western," I exclaimed. "I can just see cowboys loping across these sands against the backdrop of those mountains."

And so the hours passed, one glorious hour after another. And as we got ready to turn in for the night, my wife said, "Hasn't this been a wonderful day?"

"Sure has been," I answered, "this has been one of the finest and most interesting days of my life." And it was because we had resolved to make it so. Any day can be just about what you set out to make it. Living is an art which anyone can practice. Try it!

GUILD LEADER
Gene Driskill, of Mottell's Chapel, has been elected dean for the coming year of the Long Beach chapter, American Guild of Organists. The 140-member local group endeavors to enrich and advance church music. Driskill, a well known area organist, has been chairman of regional and national Guild conventions, and a member of the National Council for the past three years.

Jazz Group Will Lead L.B. Worship

The John Hobbs Quintet, a group of area jazz musicians, will lead a worship celebration Thursday, 7:30 p.m. in First Congregational Church.

"These services are not stunts," said Rev. Dr. Duane L. Day, pastor, "not excuses for entertainment. They will be genuine, though untraditional, experiences in worship."

BRIEFLY . . .

Navy Chaplain's Problems, That Tax Loophole Bill

Lt. Cmdr. Jack R. Peters, Naval Station chaplain who is the new president of the Long Beach Ministerial Assn., rates drug addiction and marital breakup the two major problems to come to his counseling attention these days.

Not that drug addiction is that large a numerical problem, but any is too much. "It's very tragic to see a young serviceman who has gotten hooked," Peters commented this week. Most who go on the hard stuff in this area fab the Sunset Strip in Los Angeles as the danger spot.

A counselor has no easy task with drug addiction. "They need a lot of help," the chaplain said.

Marital woes, a more timeless problem, often involve the young couple in which the serviceman departs for duty overseas.

Frequently, Chaplain Peters relates, the breakup comes after the couple's first child is born. The young mother resents the absence of the father during these important and hectic days.

Does counseling actually save some marriages?

"Oh yes," Peters nooded. "Quite a few.

"If there is any religious background whatsoever, that seems to help."

Prolonged separation "really puts a marriage to the test, sort of makes it or breaks it," the chaplain noted, recalling with a smile that his own marriage had to undergo this test. "In many cases it deepens the marriage. People learn to appreciate each other more!"

Lt. Cmdr. Peters, an Oklahoman of Southern Baptist background, is a down-to-earth person with a ready smile and an empathy with young people. From the vote of the Ministerial Assn. which made him the first military chaplain to serve as president, his popularity evidently isn't limited to those under thirty.

A PROGRAM for the Southern Baptist Young People's Convention held at First Baptist Church of Long Beach includes the following forward looking and controversial topics:

"Christ and Social Reconstruction."

"Christianity and the Relationships of Races."

"Love and Marriage."

"Christian Attitudes on Economic Readjustment."

Oh, the convention was held November 25, 26 and 27, in the year 1932.

What else is new:

ANYBODY WHO has ever leaned his pack up against a tree, taken a deep breath, and let his eyes run over the High Sierra landscape will appreciate this little verse by Charles Hanson:

I need not shout my faith. Thrice eloquent
Are quiet trees and the green listening sod;
Hushed are the stars,
whose power is never spent;
The hills are mute; yet
how they speak of
God.

THE CALIFORNIA legislature has passed a bill ending the tax exempt status of church-owned businesses which are unrelated to religious purposes. And about time.

Washington still fiddle faddles around the issue, which isn't really an issue at all.

It was largely through the insistence of the churches themselves that the thing was brought front and center in the first place. No right minded American can object to the ending of a loophole which allows an Ohio church to run a profitable girdle factory in Brooklyn, beating the business competition by not paying taxes. This has nothing to do with freedom of religion, nor with the popularly supported, historic tax-free status of religious institutions themselves.

But some cautious lawmakers, oversensitive to the word "church," worry about anything that may appear to be "anti church." Others take the opportunity to put themselves on the record as fearless crusaders, rehashing the same facts and thundering "Is This Fair?" — ignoring the fact that every major Christian and Jewish organization in the land, plus independent religious bodies, not only agree but are most anxious to end the abuse by a tiny minority.

Then there are some newspapers and magazines which continue to editorialize righteously on it, as if anyone in America disagrees.

Talk about beating a dead horse and pushing an open door. Why don't they do like California, stop all the windy rhetoric and just pass the danged thing?

A ROMAN CATHOLIC publication in Yugoslavia, Glas Koncila, has picked up a quick 180,000 subscribers with what appears to be a bold, uncensored Western approach to things. There are renewed stirrings noted in the eastern Orthodox part of the country too. In a recent interview, Belgrade's Bishop Gabriel Bukatko suggested that religious education "can be a positive influence on youth. It can make them strong, honest, motivated, good citizens.

"In this the interests of the church and the state do not conflict," he continued in what sounds like a plaintive appeal to the authorities for fuller freedom. "If all you have are nihilists who do not care for anything, who will rule tomorrow?"

None of this open talk, or even the casual appearance of crosses worn by many persons in this independent minded Communist country, means that religion is free and unhampered as in the West. Just some more little evidence, if any was needed, testifying to the stubborn resilience of belief in the face of adverse conditions.

CHURCH HUMOR

"I always thought the 'Padres' was just the name for your ball club."

Catholic Funeral Rules Liberalized

DETROIT (AP) — Liberalized funeral guidelines for the Archdiocese of Detroit were announced Friday by John Cardinal Dearden. The guidelines allow full Catholic burial ceremonies in most instances to members of Catholic families, nonpracticing Catholics, Catholics who married improperly and suicides. In the past, such persons often were denied full funeral rites of the church.

CONFIDENT LIVING

A Wonderful Day, Thanks to Mrs. P.

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Have you ever thought of living as an art? It is indeed a skill. But many people live it, or exist in it, without ever mastering this skill. How many days have you lived fully awake to the zest, the beauty, the opportunity of life? How many days have you been aware of the excitement of human experience and been thrilled by the great movements that are operating in the affairs of men? Do you wake up each morning thinking of the potentialities and possibilities of the day? A good rule to follow is to forget yesterday and live today.

Every night a curtain of darkness comes down to shut off the day that is past, and to get you ready for tomorrow. Sir William Osler, the famous physician, said that we should live in "day-tight" compartments. Each day we should pull down a mental curtain, shutting out the past, and another curtain, shutting out the future so as to live for today, unburdened by remnants of the past or anxieties about the future.

NOW I'M no different than anybody else and there are times when we all have problems. There is a cyclic rise and fall with everything in this world: in the tides of the sea, in the seasons of the earth, in darkness and light. There is also a cycle in the moods and feelings in human beings: We have our ups and downs, our joys and sorrows, our victories and defeats. When you are caught in a down period, life may not seem so good. But you can make it good, even then.

I remember my wife and I had a few days of anxiety about a problem. We were on the West Coast at the time where I was making some speeches. We decided to rest for a day or two in the beautiful environment of Palm Springs. Our next engagement was to be in Phoenix, Ariz., and my wife said the night before, "What do you say: let's drive to Phoenix in the morning?"

"Oh, that's foolish," I objected. "You can fly over there in an hour. Sleep late and fly in an hour."

"But," she protested, "I'd really like to drive. I've always wanted to drive across the desert early in the morning."

"It's about four or five hundred miles uphill all the way. And besides it's hot."

"Well," she said, "then we'll enjoy the heat. I thought I heard you in some of your effusive moments proclaiming the glories of the desert."

Feebly I reminded her, "To drive we would have to get up very early because between here and Phoenix the time changes and we lose an hour."

"But," she answered, "it'll do us good to get up early."

So we got up early, so early that the hotel dining room wasn't open yet. The one employe already at work obligingly got us some coffee and rolls. My wife then said, "We've been having several days of anxiety. Let us decide that this particular day is going to be one of the best days we ever lived."

That struck a responsive chord in me and I agreed, "I'm for that!"

So we went outside and the first thing that happened -- it rained! But it was an interesting kind of rain. It was rain in the midst of sunshine. The raindrops glittered like diamonds on the palm trees. And I stood entranced for a moment listening to the sweet song of the mockingbirds.

We started across the desert, but we hadn't gotten very far when we ran into an enormous sandstorm. I never saw anything like it. Dust mounted a hundred feet in the air. Billowing clouds enveloped the car. It got so dark it was necessary to turn the car lights on. And even then the visibility was almost nil. Negatively I said, "This sand will get in the engine and we'll be stuck in the desert." My wife reminded me of the wonderful day we had agreed to have. Soon we were out in the clear again and in bright sunshine.

THE ROAD led gradually down until it came to a place marked "Forty-seven feet below sea level." Then we started to climb and within 20 miles were 2,000 feet above sea level on a great mountain-encircled plateau. We stopped the car and sat gazing at the vastness of rock and sand and space. There wasn't another soul in sight. "This is truly Western," I exclaimed. "I can just see cowboys loping across these sands against the backdrop of those mountains."

And so the hours passed, one glorious hour after another. And as we got ready to turn in for the night, my wife said, "Hasn't this been a wonderful day?"

"Sure has been." I answered, "this has been one of the finest and most interesting days of my life." And it was because we had resolved to make it so. Any day can be just about what you set out to make it. Living is an art which anyone can practice. Try it!

GUILD LEADER

Gene Driskill, of Mottell's Chapel, has been elected dean for the coming year of the Long Beach chapter, American Guild of Organists. The 140-member local group endeavors to enrich and advance church music. Driskill, a well known area organist, has been chairman of regional and national Guild conventions, and a member of the National Council for the past three years.

Jazz Group Will Lead L.B. Worship

The John Hobbs Quintet, a group of area jazz musicians, will lead a worship celebration Thursday, 7:30 p.m. in First Congregational Church.

"These services are not stunts," said Rev. Dr. Duane L. Day, pastor, "not excuses for entertainment. They will be genuine, though untraditional, experiences in worship."

BRIEFLY . . .

Navy Chaplain's Problems, That Tax Loophole Bill

Lt. Cmdr. Jack R. Peters, Naval Station chaplain who is the new president of the Long Beach Ministerial Assn., rates drug addiction and marital breakup the two major problems to come to his counseling attention these days.

Not that drug addiction is that large a numerical problem, but any is too much. "It's very tragic to see a young serviceman who has gotten hooked," Peters commented this week. Most who go on the hard stuff in this area tab the Sunset Strip in Los Angeles as the danger spot.

A counselor has no easy task with drug addiction. "They need a lot of help," the chaplain said.

Marital woes, a more timeless problem, often involve the young couple in which the serviceman departs for duty overseas.

Frequently, Chaplain Peters relates, the breakup comes after the couple's first child is born. The young mother resents the absence of the father during these important and hectic days.

Does counseling actually save some marriages?

"Oh yes," Peters nooded. "Quite a few.

"If there is any religious background whatsoever, that seems to help."

Prolonged separation "really puts a marriage to the test, sort of makes it or breaks it," the chaplain noted, recalling with a smile that his own marriage had to undergo this test. "In many cases it deepens the marriage. People learn to appreciate each other more!"

Lt. Cmdr. Peters, an Oklahoman of Southern Baptist background, is a down-to-earth person with a ready smile and an empathy with young people. From the vote of the Ministerial Assn. which made him the first military chaplain to serve as president, his popularity evidently isn't limited to those under thirty.

A PROGRAM for the Southern Baptist Young People's Convention held at First Baptist Church of Long Beach includes the following forward looking and controversial topics:

"Christ and Social Reconstruction."

"Christianity and the Relationships of Races."

"Love and Marriage."

"Christian Attitudes on Economic Readjustment."

Oh, the convention was held November 25, 26 and 27, in the year 1932.

What else is new:

ANYBODY WHO has ever leaned his pack up against a tree, taken a deep breath, and let his eyes run over the High Sierra landscape will appreciate this little verse by Charles Hanson:

I need not shout my faith. Thrice eloquent
Are quiet trees and the green listening sod;
Hushed are the stars,
whose power is never
spent;
The hills are mute: yet
how they speak of
God.

THE CALIFORNIA legislature has passed a bill ending the tax exempt status of church-owned businesses which are unrelated to religious purposes. And about time.

Washington still fiddle faddles around the issue, which isn't really an issue at all.

It was largely through the insistence of the churches themselves that the thing was brought front and center in the first place. No right minded American can object to the ending of a loophole which allows an Ohio church to run a profitable girdle factory in Brooklyn, beating the business competition by not paying taxes. This has nothing to do with freedom of religion, nor with the popularly supported, historic tax-free status of religious institutions themselves.

But some cautious lawmakers, oversensitive to the word "church," worry about anything that may appear to be "anti church." Others take the opportunity to put themselves on the record as fearless crusaders, rehashing the same facts and thundering "Is This Fair?" — ignoring the fact that every major Christian and Jewish organization in the land, plus independent religious bodies, not only agree but are most anxious to end the abuse by a tiny minority.

Then there are some newspapers and magazines which continue to editorialize righteously on it, as if anyone in America disagrees.

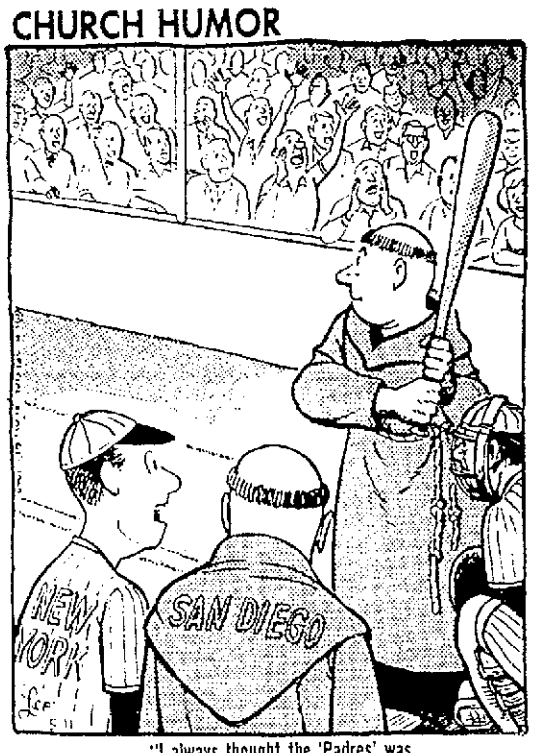

Talk about beating a dead horse and pushing an open door. Why don't they do like California, stop all the windy rhetoric and just pass the danged thing?

A ROMAN CATHOLIC publication in Yugoslavia, Glas Koncila, has picked up a quick 180,000 subscribers with what appears to be a bold, uncensored Western approach to things. There are renewed stirrings noted in the eastern Orthodox part of the country too. In a recent interview, Belgrade's Bishop Gabriel Bukatko suggested that religious education "can be a positive influence on youth. It can make them strong, honest, motivated, good citizens.

"In this the interests of the church and the state do not conflict," he continued in what sounds like a plaintive appeal to the authorities for fuller freedom. "If all you have are nihilists who do not care for anything, who will rule tomorrow?"

None of this open talk, or even the casual appearance of crosses worn by many persons in this independent minded Communist country, means that religion is free and unhampered as in the West. Just some more little evidence, if any was needed, testifying to the stubborn resilience of belief in the face of adverse conditions.

CHURCH HUMOR

"I always thought the 'Padres' was just the name for your ball club."

Catholic Funeral Rules Liberalized

DETROIT (AP) — Liberalized funeral guidelines for the Archdiocese of Detroit were announced Friday by John Cardinal Dearden. The guidelines allow full Catholic burial ceremonies in most instances to members of Catholic families, nonpracticing Catholics, Catholics who married improperly and suicides. In the past, such persons often were denied full funeral rites of the church.

Week's Wall Street Trend

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Some questions, observations and comments about the state of the American economy, especially as they relate to ordinary consumers and their quest for financial security:

Despite the classic beauty of the Nixon Administration's anti-inflation program isn't it badly off target when among the first effects to be felt are a decline in housing construction and a curtailment of student loans?

BECAUSE OF AN eight-months-old squeeze on the supply of money, home mortgage rates are now up to 7¾ per cent on average. Moreover, many requests for loans simply are turned down no matter how sound the borrower's finances.

The net result is that housing starts are down to around 1.4-million units a year, or hundreds of thousands of units fewer than are needed. In addition, at least one-third of the units are in large apartment houses.

The one bright aspect of the housing picture is that in some areas the steep rise in prices has slowed. In fact, if you check with real estate brokers you'll find that the price tags on some houses have dropped in recent weeks.

THE BANKS can charge only 7 per cent on government backed loans, while the basic lending rate to the best customers is 8.5 per cent.

Unless quick action is taken in the House of Representatives to improve the return to banks, as many as 200,000 students might be turned down in seeking loans for the fall semester.

So far this year the average retail price of meat has risen more than 9 per cent. Since meats account for 25 to 30 per cent of the average grocery bill, it is obvious what this increase is doing to food budgets.

BUT WHY should meat prices rise so sharply when the supplies of meat are abundant? In the past, price increases generally were associated with a shortage of supplies. But there's no great shortage today.

The American Meat Institute, a producer's organization, claims that the only possible answer is a big increase in demands for meats, resulting partially from consumer prosperity. If so, that demand was indeed very sudden.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market wandered about a bit this past week, but it moved in a fairly narrow range, and by the end of trading it really had not gone very far.

The popular averages turned in a mixed performance, and advances finished with a narrow lead over declines.

Shearson, Hammill & Co. thinks the market "performed reasonably well and may well continue to move in a narrow range over the near term.

"At this time, we have no strong conviction that the lows made last week will hold. The Dow Jones industrial average made a new 1969 low of 801.96 July 29. But even if they don't we would not expect the new lows to be sufficiently below the bottom reached last week."

The DJI moved in a zigzag manner this past week before closing with a loss of 2.13 at 824.466. It had gained 8.53 the week before. The Associated Press 60-stock average also showed a loss, off 1.8 at 292.2, after gaining 2.7 the previous week.

However, Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .47 to 93.94, and the New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks was up .28 at 51.90. They had risen 1.51 and 0.80 respectively the previous week.

Of 1,707 issues traded on the Big Board during the week, 866 advanced, 698 declined, and 143 were unchanged, compared to 857 advances, 759 declines and 104 unchanged the week earlier. There were 20 new highs for the year and 190 new lows, compared with 2 new highs and 10,096 new lows the previous week.

"It was a sort of a week of consolidation, following the rebound of the preceding week," Eldon A. Grimm, Walston & Co., Inc., senior vice president, said. "Investors and traders apparently were cautious while trying to figure out what the market's next direction is going to be—a further little summer rally or will we test the lows again?"

Rancho Bernardo Merger With Laguna Niguel Eyed

San Diego County and Laguna Niguel Corp. of Orange County have disclosed they are conducting merger negotiations.

Controlling stockholders of Laguna Niguel would sell 1.4-million shares to Avco Corp., parent firm of the Rancho Bernardo land developers, for cash and notes totaling $7.50 per share.

Avco would own 70 per cent, Harry L. Summers, president of San Diego-based Rancho Bernardo, 5 per cent, and the public 25 per cent of outstanding shares of the merged companies.

If the merger negotiations are successful and all other conditions are met, Avco will acquire holdings aligned with two Boston-based concerns — Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, a real estate developer, and Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, a New York Stock Exchange member.

The plans were announced in a joint statement by Summers and Gerald W. Blakely Jr., president of both Laguna Niguel and Cabot, Cabot & Forbes.

Week's Wall Street Trend

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Some questions, observations and comments about the state of the American economy, especially as they relate to ordinary consumers and their quest for financial security:

Despite the classic beauty of the Nixon Administration's anti-inflation program isn't it badly off target when among the first effects to be felt are a decline in housing construction and a curtailment of student loans?

BECAUSE OF AN eight - months - old squeeze on the supply of money, home mortgage rates are now up to 7¾ per cent on average. Moreover, many requests for loans simply are turned down no matter how sound the borrower's finances.

The net result is that housing starts are down to around 1.4 - million units a year, or hundreds of thousands of units fewer than are needed. In addition, at least one-third of the units are in large apartment houses.

The one bright aspect of the housing picture is that in some areas the steep rise in prices has slowed. In fact, if you check with real estate brokers you'll find that the price tags on some houses have dropped in recent weeks.

THE BANKS can charge only 7 per cent on government backed loans, while the basic lending rate to the best customers is 8.5 per cent.

Unless quick action is taken in the House of Representatives to improve the return to banks, as many as 200,000 students might be turned down in seeking loans for the fall semester.

So far this year the average retail price of meat has risen more than 9 per cent. Since meats account for 25 to 30 per cent of the average grocery bill, it is obvious what this increase is doing to food budgets.

BUT WHY should meat prices rise so sharply when the supplies of meat are abundant? In the past, price increases generally were associated with a shortage of supplies. But there's no great shortage today.

The American Meat Institute, a producer's organization, claims that the only possible answer is a big increase in demands for meats, resulting partially from consumer prosperity. If so, that demand was indeed very sudden.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market wandered about a bit this past week, but it moved in a fairly narrow range, and by the end of trading it really had not gone very far.

The popular averages turned in a mixed performance, and advances finished with a narrow lead over declines.

Shearson, Hammill & Co. thinks the market "performed reasonably well and may well continue to move in a narrow range over the near term.

"At this time, we have no strong conviction that the lows made last week will hold. The Dow Jones industrial average made a new 1969 low of 801.96 July 29. But even if they don't we would not expect the new lows to be sufficiently below the bottom reached last week."

The DJI moved in a zigzag manner this past week before closing with a loss of 2.13 at 824.486. It had gained 8.53 the week before. The Associated Press 60-stock average also showed a loss, off 1.8 at 292.2, after gaining 2.7 the previous week.

However, Standard & Peor's 500-stock index rose .47 to 93.94, and the New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks was up .28 at 51.90. They had risen 1.51 and 0.80 respectively the previous week.

Of 1,707 issues traded on the Big Board during the week, 866 advanced, 698 declined, and 143 were unchanged, compared to 857 advances, 759 declines and 104 unchanged the week earlier. There were 20 new highs for the year and 190 new lows, compared with 2 new highs and 10,096 new lows the previous week.

"It was a sort of a week of consolidation, following the rebound of the preceding week," Eldon A. Grimm, Walston & Co., Inc., senior vice president, said. "Investors and traders apparently were cautious while trying to figure out what the market's next direction is going to be—a further little summer rally or will we test the lows again?"

Rancho Bernardo Merger With Laguna Niguel Eyed

San Diego County and Laguna Niguel Corp. of Orange County have disclosed they are conducting merger negotiations.

Controlling stockholders of Laguna Niguel would sell 1.4-million shares to Avco Corp., parent firm of the Rancho Bernardo land developers, for cash and notes totaling $7.50 per share.

Avco would own 70 per cent, Harry L. Summers, president of San Diego-based Rancho Bernardo, 5 per cent, and the public 25 per cent of outstanding shares of the merged companies.

If the merger negotiations are successful and all other conditions are met, Avco will acquire holdings aligned with two Boston-based concerns — Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, a real estate developer, and Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, a New York Stock Exchange member.

The plans were announced in a joint statement by Summers and Gerald W. Blakely Jr., president of both Laguna Niguel and Cabot, Cabot & Forbes.

Thurber 'World' to Bring Pleasure

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

One of the shows I'm looking forward to seeing next season is "My World and Welcome to It," a weekly show based somewhat on the works of James Thurber.

I don't know how well it will capture Thurber's world or what its chances are, but if it only makes some viewers aware of a writer named James Thurber it will have been useful.

I was reading over some of the advance releases on show the other day and came across a piece on "My World and Welcome To It," which was signed by Mel Shavelson the man who guided the series into being.

SHAVELSON met Thurber in London in 1957, because, according to Shavelson, Thurber "wanted to meet whoever it was who was foolish enough to think that his own special world of insight and insanity could be converted to the selling of mouthwash."

Thurber's interest in transferring his work to TV was financial. "Our greatest humorist since Mark Twain has never been able to turn his particular genius into any considerable quantity of cash. His work had always resisted . . . . transfer to other media; he was heard to remark, as he left the preview of the motion picture Samuel Goldwyn had made of his 'The Secret Life of Walter Mitty': 'By the way — did anyone happen to catch the name of that flick?'"

THE PILOT was made and Thurber, attending the viewing with his wife, Helen, who described the action — Thurber could hardly see — give Shavelson some advice: "I'm afraid, that you are trying to be too faithful to Jim Thurber. Forget it and let's all make some dough."

Shavelson said he didn't intend to neglect Thurber. But in addition, we . . . are trying to follow Thurber's advice and make this show for the TV medium, one that will be amusing and funny and understandable to many who have never — God help them — heard of Thurber or seen his cartoons of people and animals who are often indistinguishable from each other."

The original Thurber pilot was made in 1959 and aired once. "The unkindest word said about it was that it was 'ahead of its time,' said Shavelson.

I'LL GO along with that "ahead of his time" bit. I was reading through some Thurber stories the other night and came across a piece about a baseball team that was in a slump.

This team's manager was about as miserable as he could get. He meets a midget who is expert at razzing the players. In desperation, the manager signs the midget as a player and puts him in as a pinch hitter at a crucial moment.

I don't want to ruin the story for you by telling you what happens because I can't the way Thurber does. But you could look it up in a story called, "You Could Look It Up," in the book "My World and Welcome To It."

YOU MAY think that Thurber made a story out of Bill Veeck who back in 1951 hired a midget named Eddie Gaedel and put him in the lineup to liven up the game. Gaedel was at bat once in his career. He walked.

Actually, it was the other way around. The Thurber piece, based on the idea that no pitcher could pitch three strikes to a midget before pitching four balls, appeared in the Saturday Evening Post in 1941.

Of course, nearly everybody remembers Veeck and his midget and the storm it caused.

Thurber was 10 years ahead of him.

He Died to Save His Recruits

SOLDIERS' SOLDIER SURVIVED VIETNAM
But Sgt. William H. Juechter Jr. Became A Hero

By FRANK ANDERSON
Staff Writer

Army Sgt. William H. Juechter Jr. of Long Beach bought tomorrow for a group of Army recruits and paid for it with his life.

The gift will be commemorated this morning at Ft. Bragg, N.C., when the Army dedicates a plaque on the spot where Bill Juechter was killed smothering a live hand grenade with his body.

The explosion that ended his 22 years of life still echoes far from the place of his sacrifice.

It reverberates in the memories of the soldiers he saved last March 18 on the Ft. Bragg hand grenade range. The day is forever etched on the mind of the young recruit who panicked and dropped the grenade in the circle of trainees Juechter was instructing.

THE SHOCK WAVES OF GRIEF still are felt at 627 E. Burnett St., where snapshots, letters and the yesterdays Bill Juechter left behind are legacies of love and pain for his family.

William H. Juechter Sr. and his wife, Neva, find some comfort in the Bronze Star Medal for heroism their dead son earned in Vietnam. They cherish the letter from his colonel at Ft. Bragg lauding Bill as an outstanding soldier "who served with honor and distinction."

The parents have been notified Bill is to be posthumously awarded the Soldiers Medal for his final heroism at Ft. Bragg. It is the highest award the Army can give for courage and selflessness under noncombat conditions.

These things help, but they can't be a substitute for the son who had only five weeks left to serve before he came home for good.

The Army knew the soldier and the man. William and Neva Juechter knew the boy who became the soldier and the man. He was carved out of their hearts, molded with their training, their love and their example.

The band will play at Ft. Bragg today, the words will be said by superior officers and honor will be duly rendered to the sergeant who put the lives of his men above his own. But William H. Juechter Sr., a Southern Pacific railroad engineer, won't be there to see and hear.

Nor will Neva Juechter, who spends her days taking care of her home and children and keeping vigil at the bedside of her cancer-stricken husband.

THE SENIOR JUECHTERS ARE NOT ALONE. They have Kenneth, a city Gas Department employe, son Jess and Kathy, a June graduate of Poly High School. And they have the figure on the silver crucifix in William Juechter's bedroom.

Memories parade past the pain-filled eyes of the man in the bed. He runs a hand through his steel-gray hair and the lines on his pale face soften as he shares the yesterdays of his son.

"Bill was graduated from Poly High in 1964 and went on to City College for two years, studying aerodynamics. He wanted to be an aeronautical engineer, and he planned to continue his education at San Jose State.

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM
SATURDAY, AUG. 9, 1969 SECTION C—Page C-1

"He wasn't an athlete, and he wasn't big in school activities.

"He used to carry The Independent Press-Telegram. Every customer on his route liked him. In fact, I don't know anybody who ever had a bad word to say for Bill.

"He had a pilot's license and a motorcycle. And before he left for the service two years ago he had a scraggly little beard. We kidded him about shaving it off for the Army."

A fit of coughing interrupts the father's recollections of his son. He apologizes, saying, "It always comes on at night. Has something to do with body temperature."

The father looks at Bill's picture on the dresser near his bed. "I wish I could go to Ft. Bragg — I'm so proud of Bill and all my children. But I just can't. I don't feel up to it."

LUNG CANCER IS AS MEAN AND IMPLACABLE as the enemy Sgt. Juechter faced for almost a year in Vietnam as a long-range reconnaissance patrol leader with the 199th Light Infantry Brigade. But Bill Juechter came back from Vietnam, and his father is confident of winning his own battle.

Mrs. Juechter said the family was to be represented at Ft. Bragg by daughter Dorothy Ann Kafader, whose husband is a Navy man stationed in Virginia, and by Bill's aunt, Lillian Reed of Columbus, Ohio.

"Our hearts will be there," Mrs. Juechter said simply.

William Juechter's voice is hoarse with coughing and the things a father feels about a son he loved so much.

"Tell your readers about Bill. I think people should know about him and the kind of youth he represented. They're still the big majority in this country, you know."

Assessment Protested in City Quake Plan

DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

A "blanket protest" of all assessed valuations on buildings which are, or may be, subject to the city's program to eliminate earthquake hazards was filed Friday with City Assessor J. Richard Cole.

The "protest" was in the form of a three-page letter from attorney Philip E. Poppler, who called it "a formal demand" all assessments on such property be reduced to zero and stricken from the roll.

Poppler said he represents the United Property Owners Association, which represents "owners, tenants and lessees" of property in Long Beach "threatened with abalement and demolition as alleged earthquake hazard nuisances."

The UPOA, said Poppler, estimates the market value of the properties involved is $134 million, and contends this means a potential tax loss of $3 million.

Cole said applications for hearings before the city's Board of Equalization on property assessments normally are made for specific pieces of property, and he asked City Attorney Leonard Putnam to review Poppler's letter and determine if a hearing can be scheduled.

Putnam pointed out the letter did not indicate what properties are involved, or which property owners Poppler represents. He said he had assigned two deputies to research the matter, noting that "we normally lean over backward to be sure a property owner gets a hearing."

Friday was the deadline for filing applications for hearings before the Board of Equalization. More than 100 such applications were filed.

THE CITY COUNCIL, sitting as a Board of Equalization, will begin hearing requests for equalization of assessments Monday at 10 a.m. Further hearing will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, starting at 10 a.m. each day.

Poppler said his "protest" was filed "in blanket form" because he had to meet the Friday deadline, and had been told by Building Superintendent Edward M. O'Connor that a complete list of properties subject to the city's earthquake protection program would not be available for several weeks.

He asked permission to amend his "notice of protest and demand" when the list is available.

In filing the protest Poppler said, clients do not concede that the city's earthquake protection program is constitutional.

He said the UPOA contends the program is unconstitutional, and that the Building and Safety Department is "creating an unrecorded cloud on the titles" and has "greatly impaired or totally destroyed" the loan values and security of existing loans.

Wallace to Submit Revised Resume to CEO Directors

By GEORGE LAINE
Staff Writer

Carl P. Wallace, executive director of the Long Beach poverty war agency, Friday made a tacit admission to the Office of Economic Opportunity in San Francisco that he lied on his job application and current resume.

"Mr. Wallace has informed me," said Joe P. Maldonado, acting regional director of the OEO, "that he will submit a revised resume to this office and to his board of directors which will reflect his prior education and job experience."

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, chairman of the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities, said she will attempt to contact other board members before making an official statement.

"I REALLY DON'T KNOW WHERE WE STAND right now," she said.

Wallace previously told Mrs. Moore, the poverty board's executive committee and the full board of directors — on at least two occasions — his application and resume were honest and that he had documents to support every statement.

A press officer, speaking for Maldonado, said although "no deadline has been established for furnishing of the revised resume," the San Francisco office will not continue to honor the present one.

"You can bet," the official said, "that if the Long Beach board doesn't take some corrective action, we will probably reject future projects from your city."

Maldonado's statement placed responsibility on the local board -- which July 23 voted, 10-9, not to demand Wallace's resignation — but in terms which allow the board some latitude.

"Although OEO regulations ask for biographical information on the principal employes" Maldonado said, "the regulations do not set basic job qualifications nor do they specify any formal educational requirements. These are matters for the local board's determination."

The press officer, elaborating on Maldonado's statement, said the OEO cannot — and does not — justify fabrication or falsehood in any form.

MALDONADO SAID THE "PRINCIPAL CONCERN of OEO is that individuals employed by its grantees possess the ability to perform the duties of the position."

"In our opinion," Maldonado said, "Mr. Wallace has demonstrated for more than two years the ability to perform his duties as executive director and under his direction the Long Beach commission has progressed in its efforts to combat poverty."

Wallace was employed for two years under Maldonado in the Economic and Youth Opportunities Agency and should have come under Maldonado's inspection, for both his application and resume.

"Joe tells me, quite frankly, he doesn't remember Wallace working for him," the OEO spokesman said. "That's not too strange, either. His would of been one of about 300 resumes Mr. Maldonado handled while he was at EYOA."

Wallace, apparently en route to his home in Altadena from the meeting with Maldonado, was unavailable for comment.

Police Pull Up Pot; Jail Man

A 22-year-old Los Alamitos man was jailed for possession of marijuana after a garden of the illegal weed was found growing in the back yard at his home, police said Friday.

Detective Tom Hicks said he and several officers went to the home of Phillip Monroe Garrett, 11032 Lexington Ave., after receiving an anonymous "tip" concerning the illegal garden.

Police pulled up 15 marijuana plants to be used as evidence. The remainder of the crop was destroyed.

Why You're Sticky — a Hot Air Story

By DICK EMERY

It's not the heat.

"It's the humidity."

Norbert Culp, a port expert on marine weather-observing instruments, said Friday that old saw applies to current weather.

"Dry, warm air doesn't feel hot," Culp said. "It evaporates moisture on the skin, making the skin feel cool.

"But when the air is already loaded with water vapor, at the same temperature it makes the skin feel hot and sticky."

Culp checks out ships' weather instruments at Southwest Instrument Co. in San Pedro, which for 42 years has taken care of such seagoing gear.

"We get a lot of questions about humidity," Culp said. "People wonder why 80 degrees in one part of the world seems much hotter, or cooler, than 80 degrees somewhere else."

HERE ARE HIS ANSWERS to commonest queries on humidity:

"Humidity is water vapor in the air.

"Usually you can't see it. But the air can load up, and at a critical temperature, called dew point, the water vapor can start condensing out as dew, fog, rain or snow.

"Humidity is measured as the per cent of saturation possible at the same temperature and air pressure. Twenty per cent humidity is very dry. Seventy per cent is moist. At 100 per cent it condenses.

"In ordinary conditions, a cubic foot of air can hold only one-half grain of water at zero Fahrenheit, only two grains at 32 degrees, eight grains at 70 degrees and only 20 grains at 100 degrees.

"Since a grain weighs only one seven-thousandth of a pound, you can see a tiny quantity of water can boost humidity away up.

"On a ship, they keep a close watch of temperature and humidity. If the two readings approach dew point, where condensing starts, the ship may be running into fog. Or some kinds of cargo can sweat like cold-water glasses in a warm room.

"IN SAILING SHIP DAYS, the instruments were crude and inaccurate, compared to modern instruments."

While Culp was checking a hygrometer in the instrument company's laboratory at 225 W. Seventh St., San Pedro, a mile away Chef Joe Canetti was glaring at a thermometer in his kitchen near Fishermen's Wharf.

"Eighty degrees?" Canetti moaned, mopping his forehead. "Feels like hundred-n-ten!"

Builders' Strike Slows Work on 7 CSLB Sites

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

More than $14 million in major construction projects slowed to a near standstill Friday at California State College, Long Beach from a southland-wide strike by heavy equipment operators.

Dr. Francis J. Flynn, executive dean of development, said he expects a four to eight week delay in completing current projects and starting new ones.

This could result in serious pedestrian and vehicle congestion when the fall semester opens Sept. 14, he said.

Seven college projects are affected by the three-week-old strike of the AFL-CIO Operating Engineers. But work still progressed until late this week when carpenters, electricians and other tradesmen left the jobs.

PLUMBERS WERE ALREADY ON STRIKE in a separate labor dispute.

Projects slowed or halted by the strike include a home economics building, new campus entrance, student union, library addition, engineering building, large classroom building and parking lot.

Carl Androff, Flynn's assistant, said the strike could also delay pending construction projects such as a new drama building.

Most critical is the new campus entrance, Androff said.

"If construction isn't finished by the opening of school, there's going to be major traffic congestion at the two existing front campus entrances," he said.

Vehicular and pedestrian traffic inside the campus will also be severely congested, he said.

"There was only light clean-up work at the construction sites Friday," he said.

Six-Child Day Care Home Wins Variance

Operation of a day-care home for up to six children at 2310½ Olive Ave. in an R-4 residential zone has been approved by the Planning Commission.

Commissioners authorized a special permit to Miguel and Lovie H. De Pina for the home.

Mrs. De Pina told the commission she has been licensed by the Department of Social Welfare since 1963 to operate a boarding home for children.

"The Planning Department has determined that there is clearly a need for such facilities in Long Beach," commissioners were told by Planning Director Ernest Mayer Jr.

Mayer also pointed out the R-4 zoning would permit multiple-family residential development which could result in more adults and children than will be permitted under the day-care home.

Costa Mesa GI Killed in Action

The Defense Department reported the death Friday of another Southland soldier in Vietnam.

He was identified as Army CWO 2 Albert A. Vaquera, husband of Mrs. Delores W. Vaquera, 617 Victoria St., Costa Mesa.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

A reminder of admission-free events in the Long Beach area.

1 p.m. - Free medical services, individual psychiatric counseling, until 5 p.m. Long Beach Free Clinic, 2600 Atlantic Ave.

Eye Surgeons Now Use a Light Beam

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

A surgical instrument that produces an intense beam of light has doubled in use so far this year in the treatment of certain eye disorders, according to officials at Memorial Hospital of Long Beach.

Eye surgeons attribute its sharply increased usage to a rise in early diagnosis of conditions affecting the retina, the innermost layer of the eye -- the portion that receives the image formed by the lens in the eye.

The device is called a photocoagulator. It produces a tiny intense beam that can be focused upon a small area in the eye.

The beam produces heat, and is used to "spot weld" the retina when it separates from the layer just behind it — the choroid. Retinal detachment causes visual difficulty and can lead to blindness if not corrected.

The beam coagulates eye tissue so that the retina is resealed to the choroid.

Light coagulation is also used to prevent retinal detachments, closing retinal holes or tears found in the intact retina.

In addition, the photocoagulator can destroy certain eye tumors.

Memorial Hospital purchased the device in the fall of 1967 at a cost of $16,600. It has been used in the treatment of 23 patients so far this year, in contrast to 11 up to this time last year.

PRETTY SPY SEEKS CLUE TO TREASURE

Green-eyed Gayle Kovaly trains her spyglass along the seafront for signs of the Mystery Pirate and his $2,000 chest o' loot as the treasure hunt begins in the 1969 California International Sea Festival. Clues to the treasure chest start Sunday in The Independent, Press-Telegram. (Blonde Gayle is Miss Welcome to Long Beach.)

Bloodstains Were Victim's, Aiken Trial Expert Testifies

Bloodstains in the room where Mrs. Gloria Cramer met death matched the victim's blood type, a crime-lab expert testified Friday in Long Beach Superior Court.

Martin Klein, chief Long Beach criminalist, said his court-ordered investigation indicated stains on bedding, telephone and coffee table were all Type A blood.

His testimony was a part of the fifth day of the Forrest Aikin murder trial in Department F.

Aikin was arrested nearly three months after the decomposed body of the 40-year-old Long Beach housewife was found in his Atlantic Avenue apartment Feb. 18.

Aikin testified the blood was his and resulted from a cut finger. He also declared he and Mrs. Cramer both drank heavily during the times they lived together at apartments and motels, and admitted he could not remember details of their time together.

Trial resumes Monday in Judge Hampton Hufton's courtroom. — By Molly Burrell.

COURTS NAME NEW COMMISSIONER

Attorney John E. Carroll, 39, is the new Long Beach Municipal Court Commissioner. He will replace retiring Commissioner Loyd Lavender Sept. 1 in Department 7.

Carroll's appointment was voted Friday by court judges and announced by Presiding Judge Charles Litwin.

Carroll was a deputy city prosecutor from 1957-59 and has been in private practice in Long Beach since 1959. Born in Los Angeles, he attended Long Beach schools, graduated from University of Southern California and received his law degree from Loyola University Law School in 1957.

Community affiliations include Lions Club, Long Beach Touchdown Club, local and county Bar Associations. He is a past commander of Alamitos Bay Post 445, American Legion, and a past president of the local Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

A TANGLE OF RED TAPE

Airlift Stalls for Chairlift Victim

By BILL GAGNON
Staff Writer

A disabled Long Beach war veteran remained in serious condition at a aJckson, Wyo., hospital Friday as attempts to have him airlifted home bogged down in official red tape.

Martin C. Delaney, 48, of 6558 Harco St., suffered severe head injuries Sunday when a chairlift he and his family were riding on a mountainside near Jackson crashed to the ground.

Killed in the freak fall was Delaney's 12-year-old son, William R.

Mrs. Jane Delaney suffered severe shock and was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in Jackson with her husband.

The Delaneys' two other children, 14-year-old Sarah Anne, and 5-year-old Martin, also were treated for cuts and bruises and later released.

DELANEY, who served with the 2nd Marine Division in World War II, was discharged with 60 per cent physical disability. He and his family were en route to a division reunion with his war comrades in St. Paul, Minn., when the tragedy occurred.

Two brothers of the injured man, Pat Delaney of Long Beach, and Dan Delaney of Garden Grove, are in Jackson assisting the family and attempting to arrange for their brother's transfer to the Long Beach Veterans Hospital.

The brothers said they contacted Veterans Administration officials in Sheridan, Wyo., but received only vague answers about any action being taken.

Here in Long Beach numerous attempts to contact the Veterans of Foreign Wars service representative at Veterans Hospital were futile.

THE DELANEYS explained their brother, because of severe injuries, will require specialized medical treatment and care which will keep him hospitalized for an extended period of time. For these reasons they said it is more practical to have him moved to a hospital closer to home.

They said it is not financially possible for the family to arrange for a private charter plane to fly their brother back to Long Beach. They said estimates for such a flight ranged upwards of $1,200.

THE INJURED MAN has been periodically unconscious since the accident, but is starting to show some improvement.

A doctor attending Delaney told his family that if he continues to show improvement it may be possible to move him to California this weekend.

Meanwhile, the body of the Delaneys' young son has been sent to Forest Lawn-Cypress pending funeral arrangements.

FASHION SHOW DESIGNED TO AID WORK PROGRAM

A four-hour fashion show from 1 to 5 p.m. today in the social hall of Martin Luther King Park will benefit the Long Beach Council of Organizations.

The council, a job-coordinating agency, will present 15 female and five male models featuring styles from a variety of area clothiers. A $1.50 donation will be accepted at the door.

Parking Building Vote Set

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

Some disturbing parking problems around Long Beach welfare offices appear close to solution—but the prospective cost is $616,160 over the next 17 years.

If the plan gets a favorable vote from the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, a three-level garage will go up on the 1900 block of Long Beach Boulevard.

The Department of Public Social Services is at 1917 Long Beach Blvd., in leased quarters.

Arthur Will, county director of real estate management, will make the proposal for the parking garage. Will worked out the terms with Boulevard Bowl Inc., with which the county already has two leases—for office space and for the present.

THE B.P.S.S. occupies about 50,000 square feet of office space on the premises. There are also accommodations for 216 cars.

For these facilities the county pays Boulevard Bowl $13,309 a month, running to a total of $3,143,760 by the time the present leases expire in 1987.

Under Will's plan, the three-deck structure will provide space for 170 additional cars.

Will is going to ask the supervisors Tuesday to approve the payment of $3,040 a month for the additional parking accomodations, beginning with completion of the structure. That will mean some changes in the current parking lease.

THE $3,040 monthly rent, extended through February of 1987 along with the present leasing provisions, comes to $616,160.

If the supervisors vote, as expected, for these arrangements, next step will be the drawing of architectural designs. These would need approval by the City of Long Beach, as well as the county.

The parking congestion in the area has been a community irritation for years, and has been growing steadily worse.

Will says the agreement with Boulevard Bowl is the only way out. There is no other county-owned or county-leased property anywhere near the DPSS offices in Long Beach.

SPECTATORS AND OFFICIALS PASS JUDGMENT IN ALL-NAVY GIG COMPETITION

Oldest Navy Ship Shows Stuff

The Navy's oldest active ship, the USS Platte, showed its competitors a few tricks about spit and polish Friday when she won the International Sea Festival's Navy Gig Competition at the Long Beach Yacht Club Dock.

The Platte's gig a motorized ship-to-shore launch used by skippers, was judged overall winner over 17 other naval entries.

Long Beach Naval Station officers and civic dignitaries awarded the gig's four-man crew top honors after judging all entries on smartness of crews, material condition of gigs and seamanship of crews.

The "Giggers" were required to stand inspection in the competition and maneuver their craft from channel to dock at the command of an "officer of the day."

The Platte, a fleet oiler, was commissioned Dec. 1, 1939. Her current commanding officer is Capt. William W. McKenzie.

Heir Identity Proved In L.B. Estate Case

Dennis Ray Wing, 26, located in San Jose after a month-long search, was positively identified Friday as heir to the estate of a Long Beach woman who was asphyxiated with her husband Dec. 5 by a faulty gas heater at their home.

Wing, whose whereabouts were learned after a friend he hadn't seen in 13 years contacted attorney David E. Wulfsberg, stands to inherit about $15,000 from the estate of Mrs. Herman Krahn.

The friend, T. K. Morgan, was on hand when Wing presented documentary evidence to Wulfsberg that the attorney said more than proves Wing's identity.

The lawyer said the Krahn estate may be liquidated within a month, pending court approval.

ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY GIVES TO ARTHRITIS STUDY

A $10,000 special grant by the Los Angeles Entertainment Industries permanent charities committee has been presented to the Southern California chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, it was announced Friday.

Committee president Paul Wilkins said the board of directors has earmarked the grant for research in arthritis.

The money is being designated for use in the Arthritis Foundation research laboratories at UCLA Medical Center, according to Dr. Carl M. Pearson, chairman of the chapter's medical and scientific committee.

"Here in the rheumatology division, funds will be applied to current research studies evaluating possible immunologic derangements that underly certain of the rheumatic diseases, especially rheumatoid arthritis," Dr. Pearson said.

MRS. SHIRLEY NEAL

Shirley Neal Rites Slated for Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Shirley N. Neal, elementary school teacher and for 24 years a Long Beach resident, will be at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the Church of Our Father at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Cypress.

Mrs. Neal, of 5417 Harco St., died August 5 in Kaiser Memorial Hospital in Bellflower.

She had taught elementary school for 24 years in the Norwalk-La Mirada School District, and was a member of several educational organizations, including the California Teachers Association.

SHE ALSO taught meteorology, navigation and civilian regulations with the U.S. Navy.

Mrs. Neal is survived by her husband, Leonard L., a daughter, Mrs. Sherry Lynn Matson, and a son, Terry Leroy. Other survivers include four sisters — Mrs. Chloe Smith, Mrs. Viola Glasgow, Mrs. Wilma McCoy and Mrs. Allene Pickens — and two brothers, Darrell and Arnold Nored, and three grandchildren.

$210 TV Set Taken

Burglars forced a front window at the home of Lee Emmenderfer, 1331 Walnut Ave., and removed a television set valued at $210, Long Beach police said Friday.

RITES SET FOR FIREMAN

Services will be Monday at 12:30 p.m. in Mottell's Mortuary for veteran Long Beach fireman Vance Frank Karli, who died Thursday after a freak accident.

Karli, 46, was visiting his father, Frank W. Karli, in Van Nuys, and fell while carrying a large glass container of water, which shattered. He suffered cuts, loss of blood and deep shock, and died in Valley Receiving Hospital.

A native of Long Beach, the younger Karli joined the Fire Department in September of 1955 and was most recently stationed at the main downtown firehouse, Station 10. He was active in behalf of the Campfire Girls and other youth programs.

Surviving are his wife, Virginia, of the family home, 2701 Fanwood Ave.; sons Richard L. Huffmire and David Frank Karli, both of Long Beach; daughters Mrs. Sandra Thayer of Huntington Beach, Mrs. Maureen Herder of Corona and Kerry Lynn Karli of Long Beach; his father; mother, Mrs. Thelma Havens of Santa Cruz; a sister, Mrs. Beth Gulbranson, and four grandchildren.

Thurber 'World' to Bring Pleasure

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

One of the shows I'm looking forward to seeing next season is "My World and Welcome to It," a weekly show based somewhat on the works of James Thurber.

I don't know how well it will capture Thurber's world or what its chances are, but if it only makes some viewers aware of a writer named James Thurber it will have been useful.

I was reading over some of the advance releases on show the other day and came across a piece on "My World and Welcome To It," which was signed by Mel Shavelson the man who guided the series into being.

SHAVELSON met Thurber in London in 1957, because, according to Shavelson, Thurber "wanted to meet whoever it was who was foolish enough to think that his own special world of insight and insanity could be converted to the selling of mouthwash."

Thurber's interest in transferring his work to TV was financial. "Our greatest humorist since Mark Twain has never been able to turn his particular genius into any considerable quantity of cash. His work had always resisted . . . . transfer to other media; he was heard to remark, as he left the preview of the motion picture Samuel Goldwyn had made of his 'The Secret Life of Walter Mitty': 'By the way — did anyone happen to catch the name of that flick?'"

THE PILOT was made and Thurber, attending the viewing with his wife, Helen, who described the action — Thurber could hardly see — give Shavelson some advice: "I'm afraid, that you are trying to be too faithful to Jim Thurber. Forget it and let's all make some dough."

Shavelson said he didn't intend to neglect Thurber. But in addition, we . . . are trying to follow Thurber's advice and make this show for the TV medium, one that will be amusing and funny and understandable to many who have never — God help them — heard of Thurber or seen his cartoons of people and animals who are often indistinguishable from each other."

The original Thurber pilot was made in 1959 and aired once. "The unkindest word said about it was that it was 'ahead of its time,' said Shavelson.

I'LL GO along with that "ahead of his time" bit. I was reading through some Thurber stories the other night and came across a piece about a baseball team that was in a slump.

This team's manager was about as miserable as he could get. He meets a midget who is expert at razzing the players. In desperation, the manager signs the midget as a player and puts him in as a pinch hitter at a crucial moment.

I don't want to ruin the story for you by telling you what happens because I can't the way Thurber does. But you could look it up in a story called, "You Could Look It Up," in the book "My World and Welcome To It."

YOU MAY think that Thurber made a story out of Bill Veeck who back in 1951 hired a midget named Eddie Gaedel and put him in the lineup to liven up the game. Gaedel was at bat once in his career. He walked.

Actually, it was the other way around. The Thurber piece, based on the idea that no pitcher could pitch three strikes to a midget before pitching four balls, appeared in the Saturday Evening Post in 1941.

Of course, nearly everybody remembers Veeck and his midget and the storm it caused.

Thurber was 10 years ahead of him.

He Died to Save His Recruits

SOLDIERS' SOLDIER SURVIVED VIETNAM

But Sgt. William H. Juechter Jr. Became A Hero

By FRANK ANDERSON
Staff Writer

Army Sgt. William H. Juechter Jr. of Long Beach bought tomorrow for a group of Army recruits and paid for it with his life.

The gift will be commemorated this morning at Ft. Bragg, N.C., when the Army dedicates a plaque on the spot where Bill Juechter was killed smothering a live hand grenade with his body.

The explosion that ended his 22 years of life still echoes far from the place of his sacrifice.

It reverberates in the memories of the soldiers he saved last March 18 on the Ft. Bragg hand grenade range. The day is forever etched on the mind of the young recruit who panicked and dropped the grenade in the circle of trainees Juechter was instructing.

THE SHOCK WAVES OF GRIEF still are felt at 627 E. Burnett St., where snapshots, letters and the yesterdays Bill Juechter left behind are legacies of love and pain for his family.

William H. Juechter Sr. and his wife, Neva, find some comfort in the Bronze Star Medal for heroism their dead son earned in Vietnam. They cherish the letter from his colonel at Ft. Bragg lauding Bill as an outstanding soldier "who served with honor and distinction."

The parents have been notified Bill is to be posthumously awarded the Soldiers Medal for his final heroism at Ft. Bragg. It is the highest award the Army can give for courage and selflessness under noncombat conditions.

These things help, but they can't be a substitute for the son who had only five weeks left to serve before he came home for good.

The Army knew the soldier and the man. William and Neva Juechter knew the boy who became the soldier and the man. He was carved out of their hearts, molded with their training, their love and their example.

The band will play at Ft. Bragg today, the words will be said by superior officers and honor will be duly rendered to the sergeant who put the lives of his men above his own. But William H. Juechter Sr., a Southern Pacific railroad engineer, won't be there to see and hear.

Nor will Neva Juechter, who spends her days taking care of her home and children and keeping vigil at the bedside of her cancer-stricken husband.

THE SENIOR JUECHTERS ARE NOT ALONE. They have Kenneth, a city Gas Department employe, son Jess and Kathy, a June graduate of Poly High School. And they have the figure on the silver crucifix in William Juechter's bedroom.

Memories parade past the pain-filled eyes of the man in the bed. He runs a hand through his steel-gray hair and the lines on his pale face soften as he shares the yesterdays of his son.

"Bill was graduated from Poly High in 1964 and went on to City College for two years, studying aerodynamics. He wanted to be an aeronautical engineer, and he planned to continue his education at San Jose State.

"He wasn't an athlete, and he wasn't big in school activities.

"He used to carry The Independent, Press-Telegram. Every customer on his route liked him. In fact, I don't know anybody who ever had a bad word to say for Bill.

"He had a pilot's license and a motorcycle. And before he left for the service two years ago he had a scraggly little beard. We kidded him about shaving it off for the Army."

A fit of coughing interrupts the father's recollections of his son. He apologizes, saying, "It always comes on at night. Has something to do with body temperature."

The father looks at Bill's picture on the dresser near his bed. "I wish I could go to Ft. Bragg — I'm so proud of Bill and all my children. But I just can't. I don't feel up to it."

LUNG CANCER IS AS MEAN AND IMPLACABLE as the enemy Sgt. Juechter faced for almost a year in Vietnam as a long-range reconnaissance patrol leader with the 199th Light Infantry Brigade. But Bill Juechter came back from Vietnam, and his father is confident of winning his own battle.

Mrs. Juechter said the family was to be represented at Ft. Bragg by daughter Dorothy Ann Kafader, whose husband is a Navy man stationed in Virginia, and by Bill's aunt, Lillian Reed of Columbus, Ohio.

"Our hearts will be there," Mrs. Juechter said simply.

William Juechter's voice is hoarse with coughing and the things a father feels about a son he loved so much.

"Tell your readers about Bill. I think people should know about him and the kind of youth he represented. They're still the big majority in this country, you know."

Assessment Protested in City Quake Plan

DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

A "blanket protest" of all assessed valuations on buildings which are, or may be, subject to the city's program to eliminate earthquake hazards was filed Friday with City Assessor J. Richard Cole.

The "protest" was in the form of a three-page letter from attorney Philip E. Poppler, who called it "a formal demand" all assessments on such property be reduced to zero and stricken from the roll.

Poppler said he represents the United Property Owners Association, which represents "owners, tenants and lessees" of property in Long Beach "threatened with abatement and demolition as alleged earthquake hazard nuisances."

The UPOA, said Poppler, estimates the market value of the properties involved is $134 million, and contends this means a potential tax loss of $3 million.

Cole said applications for hearings before the city's Board of Equalization on property assessments normally are made for specific pieces of property, and he asked City Attorney Leonard Putnam to review Poppler's letter and determine if a hearing can be scheduled.

Putnam pointed out the letter did not indicate what properties are involved, or which property owners Poppler represents. He said he had assigned two deputies to research the matter, noting that "we normally lean over backward to be sure a property owner gets a hearing."

Friday was the deadline for filing applications for hearings before the Board of Equalization. More than 100 such applications were filed.

THE CITY COUNCIL, sitting as a Board of Equalization, will begin hearing requests for equalization of assessments Monday at 10 a.m. Further hearing will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, starting at 10 a.m. each day.

Poppler said his "protest" was filed "in blanket form" because he had to meet the Friday deadline, and had been told by Building Superintendent Edward M. O'Connor that a complete list of properties subject to the city's earthquake protection program would not be available for several weeks.

He asked permission to amend his "notice of protest and demand" when the list is available.

In filing the protest Poppler said, clients do not concede that the city's earthquake protection program is constitutional.

He said the UPOA contends the program is unconstitutional, and that the Building and Safety Department is "creating an unrecorded cloud on the titles" and has "greatly impaired or totally destroyed" the loan values and security of existing loans.

Wallace to Submit Revised Resume to CEO Directors

By GEORGE LAINE
Staff Writer

Carl P. Wallace, executive director of the Long Beach poverty war agency, Friday made a tacit admission to the Office of Economic Opportunity in San Francisco that he lied on his job application and current resume.

"Mr. Wallace has informed me," said Joe P. Maldonado, acting regional director of the OEO, "that he will submit a revised resume to this office and to his board of directors which will reflect his prior education and job experience."

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, chairman of the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities, said she will attempt to contact other board members before making an official statement.

"I REALLY DON'T KNOW WHERE WE STAND right now," she said.

Wallace previously told Mrs. Moore, the poverty board's executive committee and the full board of directors — on at least two occasions — his application and resume were honest and that he had documents to support every statement.

A press officer, speaking for Maldonado, said although "no deadline has been established for furnishing of the revised resume," the San Francisco office will not continue to honor the present one.

"You can bet," the official said, "that if the Long Beach board doesn't take some corrective action, we will probably reject future projects from your city."

Maldonado's statement placed responsibility on the local board — which July 23 voted, 10-9, not to demand Wallace's resignation — but in terms which allow the board some latitude.

"Although OEO regulations ask for biographical information on the principal employes" Maldonado said, "the regulations do not set basic job qualifications nor do they specify any formal educational requirements. These are matters for the local board's determination."

The press officer, elaborating on Maldonado's statement, said the OEO cannot — and does not — justify fabrication or falsehood in any form.

MALDONADO SAID THE "PRINCIPAL CONCERN of OEO is that individuals employed by its grantees possess the ability to perform the duties of the position."

"In our opinion," Maldonado said, "Mr. Wallace has demonstrated for more than two years the ability to perform his duties as executive director and under his direction the Long Beach commission has progressed in its efforts to combat poverty."

Wallace was employed for two years under Maldonado in the Economic and Youth Opportunities Agency and should have come under Maldonado's inspection, for both his application and resume.

"Joe tells me, quite frankly, he doesn't remember Wallace working for him," the OEO spokesman said. "That's not too strange, either. His would of been one of about 300 resumes Mr. Maldonado handled while he was at EYOA."

Wallace, apparently en route to his home in Altadena from the meeting with Maldonado, was unavailable for comment.

Police Pull Up Pot; Jail Man

A 22-year-old Los Alamitos man was jailed for possession of marijuana after a garden of the illegal weed was found growing in the back yard at his home, police said Friday.

Detective Tom Hicks said he and several officers went to the home of Phillip Monroe Garrett, 11032 Lexington Ave., after receiving an anonymous "tip" concerning the illegal garden.

Police pulled up 15 marijuana plants to be used as evidence. The remainder of the crop was destroyed.

By DICK EMERY

It's not the heat.

"It's the humidity."

Norbert Culp, a port expert on marine weather-observing instruments, said Friday that old saw applies to current weather.

"Dry, warm air doesn't feel hot," Culp said. "It evaporates moisture on the skin, making the skin feel cool.

"But when the air is already loaded with water vapor, at the same temperature it makes the skin feel hot and sticky."

Culp checks out ships' weather instruments at Southwest Instrument Co. in San Pedro, which for 42 years has taken care of such seagoing gear.

"We get a lot of questions about humidity," Culp said. "People wonder why 80 degrees in one part of the world seems much hotter, or cooler, than 80 degrees somewhere else."

HERE ARE HIS ANSWERS to commonest queries on humidity:

"Humidity is water vapor in the air.

"Usually you can't see it. But the air can load up, and at a critical temperature, called dew point, the water vapor can start condensing out as dew, fog, rain or snow.

"Humidity is measured as the per cent of saturation possible at the same temperature and air pressure. Twenty per cent humidity is very dry. Seventy per cent is moist. At 100 per cent it condenses.

"In ordinary conditions, a cubic foot of air can hold only one-half grain of water at zero Fahrenheit, only two grains at 32 degrees, eight grains at 70 degrees and only 20 grains at 100 degrees.

"Since a grain weighs only one seven-thousandth of a pound, you can see a tiny quantity of water can boost humidity away up.

"On a ship, they keep a close watch of temperature and humidity. If the two readings approach dew point, where condensing starts, the ship may be running into fog. Or some kinds of cargo can sweat like cold-water glasses in a warm room.

"IN SAILING SHIP DAYS, the instruments were crude and inaccurate, compared to modern instruments."

While Culp was checking a hygrometer in the instrument company's laboratory at 225 W. Seventh St., San Pedro, a mile away Chef Joe Canetti was glaring at a thermometer in his kitchen near Fishermen's Wharf.

"Eighty degrees?" Canetti moaned, mopping his forehead. "Feels like hundred-n-ten!"

Eye Surgeons Now Use a Light Beam

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

A surgical instrument that produces an intense beam of light has doubled in use so far this year in the treatment of certain eye disorders, according to officials at Memorial Hospital of Long Beach.

Eye surgeons attribute its sharply increased usage to a rise in early diagnosis of conditions affecting the retina, the innermost layer of the eye — the portion that receives the image formed by the lens in the eye.

The device is called a photocoagulator. It produces a tiny intense beam that can be focused upon a small area in the eye.

The beam produces heat, and is used to "spot weld" the retina when it separates from the layer just behind it — the choroid. Retinal detachment causes visual difficulty and can lead to blindness if not corrected.

The beam coagulates eye tissue so that the retina is resealed to the choroid.

Light coagulation is also used to prevent retinal detachments, closing retinal holes or tears found in the intact retina.

In addition, the photocoagulator can destroy certain eye tumors.

Memorial Hospital purchased the device in the fall of 1967 at a cost of $16,600. It has been used in the treatment of 23 patients so far this year, in contrast to 11 up to this time last year.

Builders' Strike Slows Work on 7 CSLB Sites

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

More than $14 million in major construction projects slowed to a near standstill Friday at California State College, Long Beach from a southland-wide strike by heavy equipment operators.

Dr. Francis J. Flynn, executive dean of development, said he expects a four to eight week delay in completing current projects and starting new ones.

This could result in serious pedestrian and vehicle congestion when the fall semester opens Sept. 14, he said.

Seven college projects are affected by the three-week-old strike of the AFL-CIO Operating Engineers. But work still progressed until late this week when carpenters, electricians and other tradesmen left the jobs.

PLUMBERS WERE ALREADY ON STRIKE in a separate labor dispute.

Projects slowed or halted by the strike include a home economics building, new campus entrance, student union, library addition, engineering building, large classroom building and parking lot.

Carl Androff, Flynn's assistant, said the strike could also delay pending construction projects such as a new drama building.

Most critical is the new campus entrance, Androff said.

"If construction isn't finished by the opening of school, there's going to be major traffic congestion at the two existing front campus entrances," he said.

Vehicular and pedestrian traffic inside the campus will also be severely congested, he said.

"There was only light clean-up work at the construction sites Friday," he said.

Six-Child Day Care Home Wins Variance

Operation of a day-care home for up to six children at 2318½ Olive Ave. in an R-4 residential zone has been approved by the Planning Commission.

Commissioners authorized a special permit to Miguel and Lovie H. De Pina for the home.

Mrs. De Pina told the commission she has been licensed by the Department of Social Welfare since 1963 to operate a boarding home for children.

"The Planning Department has determined that there is clearly a need for such facilities in Long Beach," commissioners were told by Planning Director Ernest Mayer Jr.

Mayer also pointed out the R-4 zoning would permit multiple-family residential development which could result in more adults and children than will be permitted under the day-care home.

Costa Mesa GI Killed in Action

The Defense Department reported the death Friday of another Southland soldier in Vietnam.

He was identified as Army CWO 2 Albert A. Vaquera, husband of Mrs. Delores W. Vaquera, 617 Victoria St., Costa Mesa.

Bloodstains Were Victim's, Aiken Trial Expert Testifies

Bloodstains in the room where Mrs. Gloria Cramer met death matched the victim's blood type, a crime-lab expert testified Friday in Long Beach Superior Court.

Martin Klein, chief Long Beach criminalist, said his court-ordered investigation indicated stains on bedding, telephone and coffee table were all Type A blood.

His testimony was a part of the fifth day of the Forrest Aikin murder trial in Department F.

Aikin was arrested nearly three months after the decomposed body of the 40-year-old Long Beach housewife was found in his Atlantic Avenue apartment Feb. 18.

Aikin testified the blood was his and resulted from a cut finger. He also declared he and Mrs. Cramer both drank heavily during the times they lived together at apartments and motels, and admitted he could not remember details of their time together.

Trial resumes Monday in Judge Hampton Hutton's courtroom. — By Molly Burrell.

COURTS NAME NEW COMMISSIONER

Attorney John E. Carroll, 39, is the new Long Beach Municipal Court Commissioner. He will replace retiring Commissioner Loyd Lavender Sept. 1 in Department 7.

Carroll's appointment was voted Friday by court judges and announced by Presiding Judge Charles Litwin.

Carroll was a deputy city prosecutor from 1957-59 and has been in private practice in Long Beach since 1959. Born in Los Angeles, he attended Long Beach schools, graduated from University of Southern California and received his law degree from Loyola University Law School in 1957.

Community affiliations include Lions Club, Long Beach Touchdown Club, local and county Bar Associations. He is a past commander of Alamitos Bay Post 445, American Legion, and a past president of the local Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

A TANGLE OF RED TAPE

Airlift Stalls for Chairlift Victim

By BILL GAGNON
Staff Writer

A disabled Long Beach war veteran remained in serious condition at a aJckson, Wyo., hospital Friday as attempts to have him airlifted home bogged down in official red tape.

Martin C. Delaney, 48, of 6558 Harco St., suffered severe head injuries Sunday when a chairlift he and his family were riding on a mountainside near Jackson crashed to the ground.

Killed in the freak fall was Delaney's 12-year-old son, William R.

Mrs. Jane Delaney suffered severe shock and was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in Jackson with her husband.

The Delaneys' two other children, 14-year-old Sarah Anne, and 5-year-old Martin, also were treated for cuts and bruises and later released.

DELANEY, who served with the 2nd Marine Division in World War II, was discharged with 60 per cent physical disability. He and his family were en route to a division reunion with his war comrades in St. Paul, Minn., when the tragedy occurred.

Two brothers of the injured man, Pat Delaney of Long Beach, and Dan Delaney of Garden Grove, are in Jackson assisting the family and attempting to arrange for their brother's transfer to the Long Beach Veterans Hospital.

The brothers said they contacted Veterans Administration officials in Sheridan, Wyo., but received only vague answers about any action being taken.

Meanwhile, in St. Paul, members of the 2nd Marine Division Association are contacting high ranking Navy and Marine Corps officers in an attempt to arrange a military airlift for the injured man.

Here in Long Beach numerous attempts to contact the Veterans of Foreign Wars service representative at Veterans Hospital were futile.

THE DELANEYS explained their brother, because of severe injuries, will require specialized medical treatment and care which will keep him hospitalized for an extended period of time. For these reasons they said it is more practical to have him moved to a hospital closer to home.

They said it is not financially possible for the family to arrange for a private charter plane to fly their brother back to Long Beach. They said estimates for such a flight ranged upwards of $1,200.

THE INJURED MAN has been periodically unconscious since the accident, but is starting to show some improvement.

A doctor attending Delaney told his family that if he continues to show improvement it may be possible to move him to California this weekend.

Meanwhile, the body of the Delaneys' young son has been sent to Forest Lawn-Cypress pending funeral arrangements.

FASHION SHOW DESIGNED TO AID WORK PROGRAM

A four-hour fashion show from 1 to 5 p.m. today in the social hall of Martin Luther King Park will benefit the Long Beach Council of Organizations.

The council, a job-coordinating agency, will present 15 female and five male models featuring styles from a variety of area clothiers. A $1.50 donation will be accepted at the door.

MRS. SHIRLEY NEAL

Shirley Neal Rites Slated for Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Shirley N. Neal, elementary school teacher and for 24 years a Long Beach resident, will be at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the Church of Our Father at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Cypress.

Mrs. Neal, of 5417 Harco St., died August 5 in Kaiser Memorial Hospital in Bellflower.

She had taught elementary school for 24 years in the Norwalk-La Mirada School District, and was a member of several educational organizations, including the California Teachers Association.

SHE ALSO taught meteorology, navigation and civilian regulations with the U.S. Navy.

Mrs. Neal is survived by her husband, Leonard L., a daughter, Mrs. Sherry Lynn Matson, and a son, Terry Leroy. Other survivers include four sisters — Mrs. Chloe Smith, Mrs. Viola Glasgow, Mrs. Wilma McCoy and Mrs. Allene Pickens — and two brothers, Darrell and Arnold Nored, and three grandchildren.

$210 TV Set Taken

Burglars forced a front window at the home of Lee Emmenderfer, 1334 Walnut Ave., and removed a television set valued at $210, Long Beach police said Friday.

Parking Building Vote Set

By BILL MAYER
From Our L.A. Bureau

Some disturbing parking problems around Long Beach welfare offices appear close to solution—but the prospective cost is $616,160 over the next 17 years.

If the plan gets a favorable vote from the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, a three-level garage will go up on the 1900 block of Long Beach Boulevard.

The Department of Public Social Services is at 1917 Long Beach Blvd., in leased quarters.

Arthur Will, county director of real estate management, will make the proposal for the parking garage. Will worked out the terms with Boulevard Bowl Inc., with which the county already has two leases—for office space and for the present.

THE B.P.S.S. occupies about 50,000 square feet of office space on the premises. There are also accommodations for 236 cars.

For these facilities the county pays Boulevard Bowl $13,309 a month, running to a total of $3,143,760 by the time the present leases expire in 1987.

Under Will's plan, the three-deck structure will provide space for 170 additional cars.

Will is going to ask the supervisors Tuesday to approve the payment of $3,040 a month for the additional parking accomodations, beginning with completion of the structure. That will mean some changes in the current parking lease.

THE $3,040 monthly rent, extended through February of 1987 along with the present leasing provisions, comes to $616,160.

If the supervisors vote, as expected, for these arrangements, next step will be the drawing of architectural designs. These would need approval by the City of Long Beach, as well as the county.

The parking congestion in the area has been a community irritation for years, and has been growing steadily worse.

Will says the agreement with Boulevard Bowl is the only way out. There is no other county-owned or county-leased property anywhere near the DPSS offices in Long Beach.

SPECTATORS AND OFFICIALS PASS JUDGMENT IN ALL-NAVY GIG COMPETITION
—Staff Photo

Oldest Navy Ship Shows Stuff

The Navy's oldest active ship, the USS Platte, showed its competitors a few tricks about spit and polish Friday when she won the International Sea Festival's Navy Gig Competition at the Long Beach Yacht Club Dock.

The Platte's gig a motorized ship-to-shore launch used by skippers, was judged overall winner over 17 other naval entries.

Long Beach Naval Station officers and civic dignitaries awarded the gig's four-man crew top honors after judging all entries on smartness of crews, material condition of gigs and seamanship of crews.

The "Giggers" were required to stand inspection in the competition and maneuver their craft from channel to dock at the command of an "officer of the day."

The Platte, a fleet oiler, was commissioned Dec. 1, 1939. Her current commanding officer is Capt. William W. McKenzie.

DENNIS RAY WING CLAIMS INHERITANCE

Heir Identity Proved In L.B. Estate Case

Dennis Ray Wing, 26, located in San Jose after a month-long search, was positively identified Friday as heir to the estate of a Long Beach woman who was asphyxiated with her husband Dec. 5 by a faulty gas heater at their home.

Wing, whose whereabouts were learned after a friend he hadn't seen in 13 years contacted attorney David E. Wulfsberg, stands to inherit about $15,000 from the estate of Mrs. Herman Krahn.

The friend, T. K. Morgan, was on hand when Wing presented documentary evidence to Wulfsberg that the attorney said more than proves Wing's identity.

The lawyer said the Krahn estate may be liquidated within a month, pending court approval.

ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY GIVES TO ARTHRITIS STUDY

A $10,000 special grant by the Los Angeles Entertainment Industries permanent charities committee has been presented to the Southern California chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, it was announced Friday.

Committee president Paul Wilkins said the board of directors has earmarked the grant for research in arthritis.

The money is being designated for use in the Arthritis Foundation research laboratories at UCLA Medical Center, according to Dr. Carl M. Pearson, chairman of the chapter's medical and scientific committee.

"Here in the rheumatology division, funds will be applied to current research studies evaluating possible immunologic derangements that underly certain of the rheumatic diseases, especially rheumatoid arthritis," Dr. Pearson said.

RITES SET FOR FIREMAN

Services will be Monday at 12:30 p.m. in Mottell's Mortuary for veteran Long Beach fireman Vance Frank Karli, who died Thursday after a freak accident.

Karli, 46, was visiting his father, Frank W. Karli, in Van Nuys, and fell while carrying a large glass container of water, which shattered. He suffered cuts, loss of blood and deep shock, and died in Valley Receiving Hospital.

A native of Long Beach, the younger Karli joined the Fire Department in September of 1955 and was most recently stationed at the main downtown firehouse, Station 10. He was active in behalf of the Campfire Girls and other youth programs.

Surviving are his wife, Virginia, of the family home, 2701 Fanwood Ave.; sons Richard L. Huffmire and David Frank Karli, both of Long Beach; daughters Mrs. Sandra Thayer of Huntington Beach, Mrs. Maureen Herder of Corona and Kerry Lynn Karli of Long Beach; his father; mother, Mrs. Thelma Havens of Santa Cruz; a sister, Mrs. Beth Gulbranson, and four grandchildren.
